

ALLEN COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

3 1833 01892 0196

GC

977.202

C85MA

1926

✓

The 1926
WABASH
of Wabash College

---

Printed by Review Press, Crawfordsville, Ind.
Engravings by Jahn & Ollier, Chicago, Ill.
Photography by Hirshburg, Crawfordsville, Ind.

THE SENIOR CLASS

PRESENTS

THE

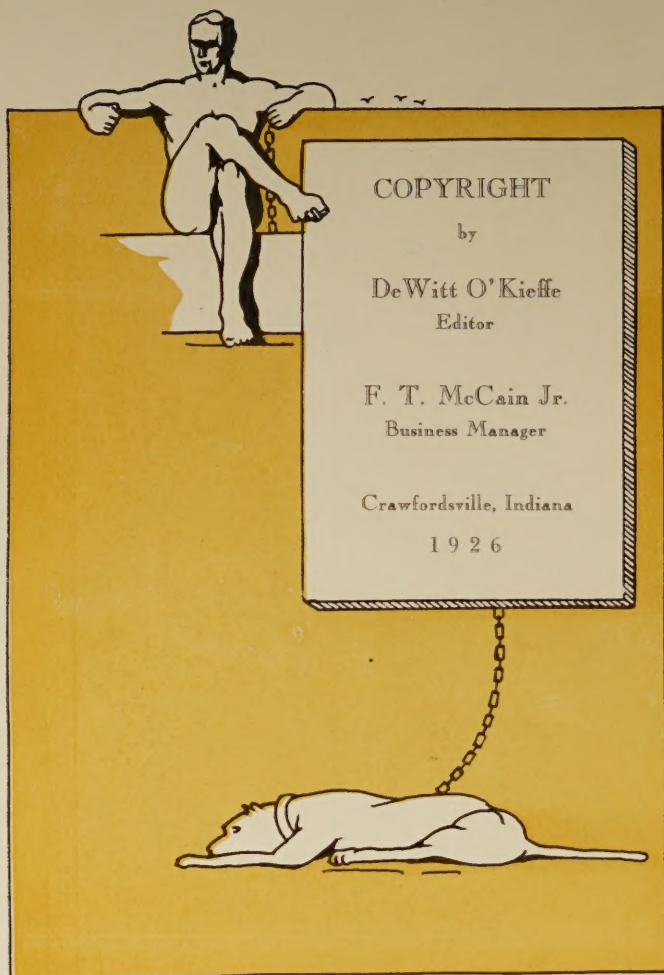

WABASH

1 9 2 6

WABASH COLLEGE

CRAWFORDSVILLE

INDIANA

COPYRIGHT

by

DeWitt O'Kieffe

Editor

F. T. McCain Jr.

Business Manager

Crawfordsville, Indiana

1926

FOREWORD

The Staff of the 1926 Wabash places this book in the hands of Wabash Men with the hope that it will serve the Present as an accurate recapitulation of the year and the Future as a genial reminder of Wabash College Life.

---

DEDICATION

That it may be tangible evidence of respect and admiration for him,
the 1926 Wabash
is dedicated to

Dean George V. Kendall

CONTENTS

Faculty

Classes

Athletics

Fraternities

Activities

Feature

---

THE CAMPUS

A Corner of the new Marshall Room, Center Hall.

The Marshall Library Gift

Oftentimes when a graduate of a small college attains much prominence, he rather likes to forget his own college, and remember as his own institution some large university which has awarded him an honorary degree. The late Thomas Riley Marshall, who was Governor of Indiana, and for two terms Vice-President of this country, through his prominence naturally received many honorary degrees from universities throughout the land—but the diploma that “Tom” cherished was that from his Alma Mater—Wabash.

Marshall wished to be remembered as a Wabash man, and to this end willed his personal library to the college. The result is the Marshall Memorial Room in Center Hall containing 1285 books, his framed diplomas, a marble bust of himself, a plaque, an oil painting of Marshall by Stanley Todd, his bookcases, and a picture of himself taken by a Wabash man.

The 1285 volumes are divided into classes as follows: General Works, 26; Philosophy, 10; Religious, 16; Sociology, 125; Philology, 13; Natural Sciences, 7; Useful Arts, 3; Fine Arts, 11; Literature, 344; History, 194; Biography (collective), 44; Biography (individual), 76; Fiction, 383; Miscellaneous, 3.

Already the Marshall Memorial Library is greatly prized by the officers and students of Wabash—one hundred years from now its value will be inestimable.

~ FACULTY ~

George Lewes Mackintosh, President

It is fitting at this time, the last year for Doctor Mackintosh as president of Wabash College, that some idea, brief though it necessarily is, be given of the immense amount of service he has given during his lifetime.

1926 marks the twentieth year as president of Wabash College for Doctor Mackintosh. During his tenure of office the institution has expanded and become a leading factor in its field: the small Liberal Arts College.

On December 15, 1906, Doctor Mackintosh assumed charge of Wabash College as its acting president. He was officially inaugurated as its president the next year.

His B.A. and M.A. degrees were received from Wabash in 1881 and 1887, respectively. He was given a Doctor of Divinity degree from Wooster College in 1905, and an LL.D. degree from Hanover College two years later.

For fifteen years prior to his connection with Wabash College Doctor Mackintosh was pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Indianapolis. Between the years 1901-1906 he was a lecturer in Biblical Literature and Psychology at Wabash, and through his term as president he has taught Biblical Literature and has held the chair of Philosophy and Logic.

He is a member of Sigma Chi, the Masonic Order, the Ouitatenon Club, Indianapolis Literary Club, Presbyterian Association of College Presidents, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and various other organizations.

Frederick Carl Domroese, Registrar

Professor of the German Language and Literature.

A.B., Butler University, '06; A.M., University of Michigan, '15.

Member: Phi Kappa Phi, Association of German Professors, Oviatenon Club.

Since 1922 Professor Domroese, in addition to his regular duties as head of the German Department, has been Registrar of the college. Under his management, that office has become straightened out and is at the present time in excellent condition.

Before coming here, Mr. Domroese was assistant professor of German at Oberlin. He came to Wabash College in 1919 and has been head of his department since.

Professor Domroese is considered an authority on German literature.

George Valentine Kendall, Dean

Milligan Professor of English.

A.B., Brown University, '12; A.M., University of Wisconsin, '13.

Member: Delta Phi, Quiatenon Club.

Mr. Kendall came to Wabash in 1920 to be associate professor in the English Department, which position he has held since, in addition to taking up duties as Dean of the college in the spring of 1923.

Before his coming to Wabash, Mr. Kendall was an instructor in Columbia University for three years, and also took advanced work in English at that institution.

When the United States entered the World War he enlisted and was commissioned lieutenant. At present he holds the rank of captain in the National Guard.

JASPER ASAPH CRAGWALL, M.Sc.

Thornton Professor of Mathematics

B.E., Vanderbilt University, '86; M.Sc., Vanderbilt University, '98.

Member: KΣ, Ouitatenon Club.

On the point of service Professor Cragwall is the oldest member on the Wabash faculty, having begun his teaching here in 1901. Before coming to Wabash he was a fellow in Physics at Vanderbilt University between the years 1897-1901. Almost since its inception and up to a few years ago, "Craggy" has been chairman of the college committee on athletics, and it is partially due to his work in that capacity together with the esteem and affection in which Wabash men hold him that he was given the name, "The Grand Old Man of Wabash."

CHARLES HENRY OLDFATHER, Ph.D.

Lafayette Professor of the Greek Language and Literature and of Ancient History

A.B., Hanover College, '06; A.M., Hanover College, '11;
B.D., McCormick Theological Seminary, '11; Ph.D.,
University of Wisconsin, '22.

Member: ΦΔΘ, Ouitatenon Club.

Doctor Oldfather has taught at Hanover College, and at the American University of Beirut. At the present time he is past chairman of the Indiana Library Association and president of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

JOY LUTHER LEONARD, AM.

Professor of Economics

B.A., Ohio Wesleyan, '07; M.A., Yale, '10.

Member: Acacia, ΑΣΦ, Ouitatenon Club, Association of University Professors, Rotary Club.

Professor Leonard has been teaching at Wabash College for the past thirteen years. Mr. Leonard is one of the best known economists in the state.

GEORGE HENRY TAPY, A.M.

Professor of Education and Psychology

A.B., Wabash College, '06; A.M., Wabash College, '08.

Member: American Association of College Professors, Ouitatenon Club, Rotary Club.

Mr. Tapy began teaching here in 1908 after he had had advanced work at Columbia and Chicago Universities. At the present time he is one of the most prominent educators in Indiana, and is in constant demand as a public speaker.

JAMES INSLEY OSBORNE, Ph.D.

Yandes Professor of the English Language and Literature

A.B., Wabash College, '06; A.M., Wabash College, '10;

A.B., Oxford University, '13; Ph.D., Columbia University, '19.

Author of: "Arthur Hugh Clough," etc.

Member: BΘΠ, ΦBK, ΠΔE, Ouitatenon Club.

Mr. Osborne has been head of the English Department here for a number of years. Between the years 1914-1917 he was an instructor in Columbia University. At the outbreak of the war he entered the service, and returned in 1919 to Wabash College as head of the English Literature Department. Mr. Osborne was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford.

GEORGE ERNEST CARSCALLEN, A.M.

Professor of Mathematics

A.B., Wabash College, '06; A.M., Illinois University, '10.

Professor Carscallen has been at Wabash College since 1920, coming here, after a three-year absence from teaching, from Hiram College, where he was head of the Department of Mathematics from 1913 to 1917. Mr. Carscallen was also instructor in mathematics at the University of Illinois during the years 1907-1913.

BENJAMIN HARRISON GRAVE, Ph.D.

Professor of Zoology

B.S., Earlham College, '03; M.S., Carleton College, '06;
Ph.D., Johns Hopkins University, '10.

Member: American Society of Zoologists, American Society for Advancement of Science, Ohiatenon Club.

Author: Scientific pamphlets, papers, and research documents.

Doctor Grave has been head of the Department of Zoology since 1920. Before coming here he taught at Earlham College, Knox College, and the University of Wyoming. He is a regular contributor to the Wistar Institute Journals, and other scientific periodicals. He is known throughout the country for his research work every summer at Woodshole.

ALBERT REIFF BECHTEL, Ph.D.

Rose Professor of Botany

A.B., University of Pennsylvania, '12; Ph.D., Cornell University, '20.

Member: Botanical Society of America, Indiana Academy of Science, American Association of University Professors, Ohiatenon Club, etc.

Professor Bechtel is one of the foremost botanists in this section of the country and has the distinction of being an authority on plant pathology and several other branches of the science.

Doctor Bechtel, before coming here in 1920, taught for three years at the University of Pennsylvania and for five years at Cornell.

RALPH THOMAS CASE, D.B.

Professor of Biblical Literature and Religious Education

A.B., Parsons College, '15; D.B., McCormick Theological Seminary, '19.

Member: Religious Education Association.

Professor Case before starting to teach held a pastorate in Idaho from 1919 to 1922. He came to Wabash in that year and has taught Biblical Literature here since.

NEIL CHARLES HUTSINPILLAR, A.M.

Associate Professor of English

A.B., Ohio State University, '08; A.M., University of Chicago, '20.

Member: ΠΚΑ, Ouitatenon Club.

In addition to his work for degrees, Mr. Hutsinpillar studied for a time at the University of Cincinnati before he entered the field of teaching. He has taught at Missouri School of Mines, Culver Academy, Huron College, and Wabash College. He has been here since 1920.

JOHN ALLEN SAUNDERS, A.M.

Associate Professor of Romance Languages

A.B., Wabash College, '20; A.M., Wabash College, '24.
Member: ΦΒΚ.

Professor Saunders has taught at Wabash since 1920. He received his B.A. degree here and took advanced work at the University of Chicago. He also holds a diploma from l' Université de Poitiers, France.

Mr. Saunders is acting head of the Department of Romance Languages, by virtue of Professor Leavenworth's leave of absence this year.

FERGUSON REDDIE ORMES, A.M.

Associate Professor of Economics

A.B., Colorado College, '12; A.B., Yale, '13;
A.M., University of Chicago, '25.

Member: ΑΣΦ, Association of University Professors, Ouitatenon Club, American Association of University Instructors in Accounting.

Mr. Ormes taught between the years 1914-1916 at the Georgia Institute of Technology, and the year later at a Connecticut Preparatory school. Besides handling his classes in Economics and Accounting at Wabash he is in direct charge of the entire student budget.

WILLIAM NORWOOD BRIGANCE, A.M.

Professor of Public Speaking

A.B., University of South Dakota, '16; A.M., University of Nebraska, '18; University of Chicago; University of Wisconsin.

Some works that have been published by Professor Brigance are: "Reminiscences of the Front," Lincoln Daily News, September, 1920; "Speech Training in Secondary Schools," Educational Review, December, 1924; "What is a Successful Speech?" Quarterly Journal of Speech Education; "Debate as a Training in Citizenship," Educational Review.

Member: AXA, TKA.

Professor Brigance is recognized at the present time as one of the most efficient trainers of collegiate speakers in the country. His men have placed high in all of their contests.

THEODORE G. GRONERT, Ph.D.

Professor of History and Political Science

A.B., University of Wisconsin, '08; A.M., University of Wisconsin, '15; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin, '16.

Author of: "History of the American Business Corporation"; contributor to Mississippi Valley Historical Magazine and Southwest Political Science Quarterly.

Member: ΦΓΜ, ΦΠ, American Association of University Professors, American Historical Association, Mississippi Valley Historical Association, Quiatenon Club.

Prior to his coming to Wabash College to assume the chair of history, Professor Gronert taught at Center College, Texas State College for Women, and the University of Arkansas.

GEORGE WILLIAM HORTON, M.S.

Professor of Physics

B.S., Illinois Wesleyan, '18; M.S., University of Wisconsin, '24.

Member: ΣΞ, ΓΑ.

Professor Horton has done graduate work and taught at both Northwestern University and the University of Wisconsin. This is his second year of teaching at Wabash College.

ALDIS BYRON EASTERLING, A.M.

Assistant Professor of Romance Languages

A.B., Lawrence College, '12; A.M., University of Kansas, '22.

Since 1922, Professor Easterling has been assistant professor of the Romance Languages at Wabash College. Before entering the teaching profession he took graduate work at the Universities of Chicago and Wisconsin. During the year 1913, Mr. Easterling was instructor in English at the Instituto Ingles, in Santiago, Chile. The next year he became American Vice-Consul at Valparaiso, Chile, and through 1916-1917 he was educational secretary of the Valparaiso Y. M. C. A.

He held the position of Instructor in Modern Languages at Iowa State University during the years 1919-1921, and became assistant instructor in Spanish at the University of Kansas the following year.

FREDERICK CHARLES MAXTED SMITHSON, M.S.

Professor of Analytical and Physical Chemistry

B.A., Illinois Wesleyan, '14; M.S., Illinois Wesleyan, '16.

Member  $\Phi\Lambda E$ , American Chemical Society.

Professor Smithson is one of the newer members of the Wabash faculty, having come here two years ago. He is an authority on the subject of organic catalysts.

LLOYD B. HOWELL, Ph.D.

Professor of Chemistry

A.B., Wabash College, '09; M.S., University of Illinois, '18; Ph.D., University of Illinois, '19.

Member:  $\Lambda X A$ ,  $\Phi\Lambda\Omega$ ,  $\Sigma\Xi$ , Indiana Academy of Science, etc.

Contributor: American Chemical Journal, Science, Chemical Abstracts.

Doctor Howell from 1913 to 1916 was an instructor in Chemistry at Wabash. From here he went to the University of Illinois to continue his advanced work. From 1919 to 1924 he taught at Rice Institute, and came here in the latter year to take the chair of Chemistry.

JAMES STUART BEDDIE, M.A.

Assistant Professor of Latin and Greek

B.A., Minnesota, '22; M.A., Harvard, '25.

Member: ΦBK.

Besides his graduate work at the University of Minnesota and Harvard, Mr. Beddie has also taught; and has traveled extensively through Greece and Italy, better fitting himself for the teaching of Greek and Latin.

WILLIS HUGH JOHNSON, A.B.

Instructor in Zoology

A.B., Wabash College, '25.

Member: ΛΧΑ, ΦBK, ΤΚΑ, ΠΔΕ.

Although one of the newer men on the faculty, Mr. Johnson joined it backed by a strong college record. He is Doctor Grave's assistant and is active with him in his research work at Woodshole.

JAMES HARVEY OSBORNE, A.M.

Associate Professor of Latin and Mathematics, Emeritus

Secretary of the Faculty

A.B., Wabash College, '79; A.M., Wabash College, '85.

Member: ΦKΨ, ΦBK, Ouitatenon Club.

In 1885 when Wabash installed its preparatory department Professor Osborne was made associate principal, and held that post until 1893, when the department was discontinued. He has been secretary of the faculty since its organization. He was an active professor from 1893 to 1922, when he retired to remain secretary of the faculty.

ROBERT WALLACE BRUCE, A.M.

Instructor in Psychology

A.B., Wabash College, '22; A.M., University of Chicago, '24.

Member:  $\Delta X \Delta$ ,  $\Phi B K$ ,  $\Phi \Delta K$ .

Mr. Bruce began as instructor in his department in 1923. During the college year, 1924-25, he was granted an absence to continue his advanced work at the University of Chicago. He returned this year to teach.

CHARLES T. CADDOCK, A.B.

Instructor in French

A.B., Wabash College, '25.

Member:  $\Sigma X$ .

When Professor Leavenworth was granted a leave of absence, Mr. Caddock was called upon to teach several classes in French. Mr. Caddock further prepared himself for this work by study at the University of Grenoble, France.

HENRY STRINGHAM WEDDING, A.M.

Librarian

B.S., Wabash College, '92; A.M., (Honorary)
Wabash College, '95.

Member: Indiana Library Association, Quiatenon Club.

Mr. Wedding has been librarian of the college since 1895. Prior to 1893 he continued his library training work in Amherst, Massachusetts.

Under his constant care the Wabash College library has grown and flourished until now it is reckoned as one of the best college libraries in this section of the country.

EDGAR KINCAID CHAPMAN, M.Sc.

Peck-Williams Professor of Physics

A.B., Oberlin, '03; M.S., University of Chicago, '10.

Member: ΣΨ.

Before coming here, Professor Chapman taught Physics at the Iowa State Teachers' College and at the University of Indiana. He has done much research work in Physics, especially in the study of light and the electron, in which branches of the science he is named an authority.

On leave of absence, 1925-26.

CLARENCE ELDRIDGE LEAVENWORTH, A.M.

Professor of Romance Languages and Literature

A.B., Hamilton College, '09; A.M., Yale University, '15.

Member: ΔΥ, ΦΒΚ, Quiatenon Club.

Professor Leavenworth has been on a leave of absence during the past year and has continued his advanced work at the University of Chicago.

Before coming to Wabash as head of his department, he taught one year at Randolph-Macon College, and at Columbia and Chicago Universities Summer-Schools.

JAMES GILKEY WEDDING, B.S.

Treasurer, Wabash College

B.S., Wabash College, '92.

Mr. Wedding before being made treasurer of the college was assistant treasurer from 1894 to 1911. In the latter year he became treasurer.

NEVA J. CHAPMAN, B.A.

Instructor in Mathematics and German

B.A., University of Michigan, '02.

Mrs. Chapman has classes in both Mathematics and German. She has also taught at Iowa State Teachers' College.

ELEANOR RISTINE

Assistant Librarian

Carnegie Library School; Ward Belmont College

Miss Ristine has been assistant librarian for the past few years.

CLASSES

Edwards

Sherman

Bradley

The Senior Class

OFFICERS

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	D. P. Sherman
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	M. M. Edwards
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	G. T. Bradley

The graduating class of 1926 has seen many changes in the organization, in the personnel, and in the status of Wabash College.

It has been a witness to the passing of freshman eligibility in athletics—a measure when adopted which put Wabash in the same class in athletics with larger schools all over the country. Contrary to the prophecies made at the time of its passing, the rule has been successful, and the college has fared well and prospered under it.

Conditions which followed the war were somewhat abnormal in the average college. These institutions each had its quota of returned soldiers coming back to complete their college work. The present class has seen the most of them finish, and inversely has seen the college practically back on a pre-war plane.

The resignation of Doctor Mackintosh, after his twenty years as president of Wabash College, occurred during the senior year of the class of '26.

Other changes have been made; some were disapproved and some were approved. Changes that were made by trustees, by students, and by the faculty. The four years spent here by this class have been busy years, packed with excitement, initiative, and enjoyment, and marked, perhaps, by progress.

The class itself has furnished something to the college. It has placed its members in all branches of collegiate enterprise. Its confines have embraced students, athletes, orators, debators, writers, musicians—all kinds of students. Some were better than their teammates in a certain field. That is Nature's endowment. Each attempted to give his best. That is '26's endowment.

Arick

Welch

Cross

Broshar

NED WILLIAM ARICK - - - - - Fort Wayne

French

KΣ

Graduated in three years.
French Club, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 4.
Bachelor Staff, 1.
Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1.
Glee Club, 1, 3.

W. BUCHARD WELCH - - - - - Bourbon

History

Association of Independent Men
Y. M. C. A., 1; Tuttle Club, 1.
Employment Section, 3, 4.
Botany Assistant, 4.
Botanical Society, 4. Latin Club, 4.

GEORGE W. CROSS - - - - - Lebanon

Political Science

Karnak Club, TKA, Blue Key, Little Giants' Club
Student Council, 4. Hegira Club, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President, 3;
Varsity Debate, 2, 3, 4. President, 4.
Scarlet Masque, 3, 4. German Club, 3, 4.
Glee Club, 2, 3, 4. Psychology Club, 4.
Vice-President, TKA, 4. Hayes, Baldwin, and Day Oratorical Contests.

HERMAN C. BROSHAR - - - - - Advance

Psychology

Commons Club
Graduated in three years.

Blankenship

Billings

Brookshire

DuBois

HARRY F. BLANKENSHIP - - - - - Waynetown

Zoology

Commons Club.

Baseball, 1.

Graduated in three years.

CLAUDE BILLINGS - - - - - Montezuma

English

Association of Independent Men

French Club, 4. Botanical Society, 4.

Football, 2. Basketball, 1.

RALPH THUMAN BROOKSHIRE - - - - - Ladoga

Psychology

Association of Independent Men, Square and Compass

FRANKLIN S. DuBOIS - - - - - Liberty

Zoology

KΣ, ΠΔΕ, Blue Key, Academy, Sphinx Club.

President, Freshman Class, 1.

Scarlet Masque, 1, 2, 3.

Vice-President, Sphinx Club, 3.

Student Council, 3.

Bachelor Staff, 1, 2, 3; Feature Editor, 3;

Editor-in-Chief, 3.

Glee Club, 3.

French Club, 3; Vice-President, 3.

Press Club, 1, 2, 3; President, 3.

News Bureau, 1.

Wabash Staff, 3.

Graduated in three years.

Cartwright

Reed

Carlisle

Crisler

WILLARD G. CARTWRIGHT - - - - - Delphi

Economics

ΔΤΑ, Square and Compass, Sphinx Club
DePauw, 1, 2.
Glee Club, 3, 4. Scarlet Masque, 4.
Assistant Yell Leader, 3, 4.
Law Club, 3, 4. Botanical Society, 4.
Bachelor, 3. Press Club, 3, 4.
Economics Club, 4; President, 4.

L. D. REED - - - - - Crawfordsville

Mathematics

Association of Independent Men
Glee Club, 2, 3. Tuttle Club, 2, 3.

C. LOWELL CARLISLE - - - - - Petersburg

Economics

KΣ, Square and Compass.
Student Council, 3.

H. D. CRISLER - - - - - Anderson

Economics

ΔΤΑ, ΠΔΕ

Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Secretary, Press Club, 3, 4.
Bachelor, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Circulation Manager, Bachelor, 3, 4.
News Bureau, 3, 4.
General News Editor, News Bureau, 3.
Law Club, 3, 4.
Pan-Hellenic Council, 4.

Cory

Bennington

Englehardt

Bradley

GERALD JACK CORY - - - - - Jeffersonville

English

ΦΣΑ, ΗΔΕ, Blue Key
Bachelor Staff, 1, 2, 3, 4; News Bureau, 2, 3, 4;
Director News Bureau, 4.
Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1.
Press Club, 2, 3, 4

CECIL OREN BENNINGTON - - - - - Lebanon

Zoology

Association of Independent Men
Student Council, 4. Band, 1, 2, 3.
German Club, 3, 4. Tuttle Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Assistant in German, 4.

CHARLES HAROLD ENGLEHARDT - - - - - Marion

Psychology

ΒΘΠ, Blue Key, Little Giants' Club
Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain, 4. President, Athletic Association, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 3.
Basketball, 1, 2, 4. Sophomore Cotillion Committee, 2.
Pen-Hellenic Council, 4. "W" Men's Club.
President, Sophomore Class, 2. Economics Club, 4.

GIFFORD T. BRADLEY - - - - - Crawfordsville

Economics

ΔΧΑ
Psychology Club, 4. Botanical Club, 3, 4.
Vice-President, Senior Class, 4.

Cripe

Bartle

Davis

DeVol

RUSSELL T. CRIPE - - - - - Camden

Psychology

KΣ, ΣΔΨ, Little Giants' Club
Football, 2, 3, 4. Basketball, 2, 3, 4. Track, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Baseball, 2, 3, 4. "W" Men's Club.

EDGAR VERNON BARTLE - - - - - Scottsburg

English

Association of Independent Men, ΦBK (Junior Year)
Student Council, 3.
Student Assistant in English, 3.
Student Instructor in English, 4.

C. LOUIS DAVIS - - - - - Shelbyville

Economics

ΣX, Square and Compass
George Washington University, Washington, D. C.
University of Grenoble, Grenoble, France.
French Club, 4; President, 4.
Pan-Hellenic Council, 4.

O. W. DEVOL - - - - - Lebanon

Economics

ΔΤΔ, Little Giants' Club
Basketball, 1, 2; "W" Men's Club.

Frazee

Kummings

Hoch

Edwards

WILLIAM AARON FRAZEE - - - - - Rushville

English

ΒΘΠ, ΗΔΕ, Blue Key

Bachelor, 1, 2, 3, 4; Managing Editor, 2; Secretary, ΗΔΕ, 4.
 Editor, 3, 4. Student Council, 4.
 Law Club, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, Vice-President, State Intercollegiate Law Club, 4. Press Association, 3, 4.
 Secretary, Blue Key, 4. Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; President, 3, 4.

W. W. KUMMINGS - - - - - Crawfordsville

History

Association of Independent Men

JOHN HERBERT HOCH - - - - - Winamac

Psychology

Karnak Club

Assistant Business Manager, Wabash, 4.
 Law Club, 3, 4. Student Council, 4. Band, 1, 2, 3.
 Psychology Club, 4. Bachelor, 1. News Bureau, 3.
 Economics Club, 4; Secretary, 4.

MALCOLM M. EDWARDS - - - - - New Castle

Mathematics

KΣ, Sphinx Club.

Spanish Club, 2, 3; Law Club, 2, 3, 4.
 Pan-Hellenic Council, 4; Vice-President, 4.
 Vice-President, Senior Class, 4.
 Basketball, 2, 3, 4.

Funk

Higgins

Fisher

Fuller

GEORGE S. FUNK - - - - - Princeton

Psychology

BOII

Psychology Club, 4. German Club, 4.
Homecoming Committee, 4.

EUGENE O. HIGGINS - - - - - Lebanon

History, Psychology

Association of Independent Men

Track, 1, 2. Psychology Club, 4. Cross Country Team, 1.
Graduated in three years.
Day Oratorical.

JAMES G. FISHER - - - - - Anderson

Economics

ΣX

French Club, 1. Law Club, 4.

LESTER R. FULLER - - - - - Crawfordsville

Mathematics

ΦΣA, Square and Compass.
Spanish Club, 2, 3.

Hostetter

Cook

Kistler

Gipson

WILLIAM CURTIS HOSTETTER - - - - - Roachdale

Economics

AXA, Square and Compass
Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 2, 3, 4. German Club, 3, 4.

ROBERT FRANCIS COOK - - - - - Lebanon

English

Association of Independent Men

GENE H. KISTLER - - - - - Royal Center

Zoology

KΣ

Football, 1. Basketball, 1. Baseball, 1.
News Bureau, 2.
Assistant in Zoology, 3.
French Club, 3.
Graduated in three years.

CHARLES DANA GIPSON - - - - - Kirklin

Economics

ΔΔΔ, Blue Key, Sphinx Club, Little Giants' Club.
Football, 1, 2, 3, 4. Press Club, 2, 3, 4.
News Bureau, 3. Law Club, 3, 4.
President Athletic Association, 3. Economics Club, 4.
Bachelor Staff, 2, 3. Student Council, 4.
"W" Men's Club.

Kostanzer

Weatherman

Schoolcraft

Thompson

FRED KOSTANZER - - - - - Crawfordsville

Economics

AXA

Spanish Club, 3. Economics Club, 4.

RHEA TENNYSON WEATHERMAN - - - - - Cayuga

History

Association of Independent Men, Little Giants' Club.

Basketball, 2. Football, 2, 3.

DONALD V. SCHOOLCRAFT - - - - - Danville, Illinois

Botany

ΣX, Square and Compass.

University of Illinois, 1.

Chicago College of Dental Surgery, 1.

President, Square and Compass, 2, 3.

Glee Club, 3.

Botanical Society, 2, 3; President, 3.

Graduated in three and one-half years.

FLOYD L. THOMPSON - - - - - Danville, Illinois

Economics

ΦΔΘ, ΣΔΨ, Sphinx Club, Little Giants' Club.

Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Baseball, 2, 3, 4.

Track, 2.

"W" Men's Association.

Secretary-Treasurer, Athletic Ass'n., 4.

Secretary-Treasurer, Sophomore Class, 2.

McClelland

Tauer

Martin

Stewart

GILBERT McCLELLAND - - - - - Crawfordsville

English

ΦΔΘ

Scarlet Masque, 1, 2, 3, 4.

M. B. TAUER - - - - - Lebanon

Mathematics

Square and Compass, Commons Club, ΦΚΤ

Purdue, 1, 2, 3.

Purdue Cross-Country Team. Purdue Track Team.

Junior Pipe Committee, 3.

Pan-Hellenic Society

Psychology Club, 4. Track Coach, 4.

JAMES HANNA MARTIN - - - - - Chicago, Illinois

Political Science

Karnak Club, Sphinx Club, Blue Key, Little Giants' Club.

Student Council, 3; President, 3; Vice-President, 3.

President, Sphinx Club, 4.

Treasurer, Blue Key, 4.

"W" Men's Club.

Bachelor Staff, 2, 3; Sports Editor, 2.

Scarlet Masque, 2, 3, 4.

Press Club, 2, 3, 4.

Student Head of Intramural Athletics, 3.

Spanish Club, 3.

Football, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Hegira Club, 4.

Homecoming Committee, 3, 4.

CHARLES W. STEWART - - - - - Delphi

German

ΔΤΔ, Blue Key, ΠΔΕ, Academy

Student Council, 4.

Secretary, Blue Key, 4; Law Club, 3, 4.

The Wabash Staff, 3; Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Bachelor Staff, 1, 2.

Botanical Society, 4; German Club, 4.

Miller

Sims

Neidlinger

McMillan

MOREL F. MILLER - - - - - Marengo, Illinois

Economics

$\Delta T \Delta$ ,  $\Pi \Delta E$ , Blue Key

Northwestern University, 1.
Press Club, 2, 3, 4.
Business Manager, Bachelor, 2, 3.
Law Club, 2, 3, 4.
Business Manager, Hand Book, 3, 4.
Business Manager, Homecoming Program, 3, 4.

Homecoming Committee, 4.
Botanical Society, 4.
President,  $\Pi \Delta E$ , 4.
Treasurer, Press Club, 2, 3.
Business Manager, Scarlet Rash, 3, 4.
Advisory Board, Bachelor, 3, 4.
Economics Club, 4.

ARTHUR SIMS - - - - - Frankfort

Mathematics

Association of Independent Men

P. C. NEIDLINGER - - - - - Whitestown

History

$\Delta X A$

Spanish Club, 2, 3.

F. H. McMILLAN - - - - - Danville, Illinois

Economics

$\Phi \Delta \Theta$ , Sphinx Club, Blue Key

Botanical Society, 4.

Secretary-Treasurer, Sphinx Club, 3, 4.

Pan-Hellenic Council, 3; Vice-President, 3.

Homecoming Committee, 3, 4.

Wabash Staff, 3.

Mitchell

Braun

Mead

Schuller

D. D. MITCHELL . . . . . Veedersburg

Economics

AXA

Spanish Club, 1, 2, 3, 4. Hegira Club, 4.
Y. M. C. A., 3, 4.

HENRY M. BRAUN . . . . . Wingate

History

Association of Independent Men
Butler College, 1, 2.
Garrett Biblical Institute, 3.

LARKIN RALPH MEAD . . . . . Aurora, Illinois

Economics

ΔΤΔ

Press Club, 3, 4.
Law Club, 3, 4; President, 4.
News Bureau, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Personnel Editor, News Bureau, 4.

FREDERICK C. SCHULLER . . . . . Indianapolis

English

ΦΔΘ, Blue Key, Sphinx Club
Pan-Hellenic Council, 4; President, 4.
Band, 1, 2, 3, 4; Drum Major, 4.
German Club, 4. Spanish Club, 3, 4. Scimitar Club, 2, 3, 4.

Robinson

Robertson

Whitacre

Russell

MAURICE G. ROBINSON - - - - - Anderson

Public Speaking

ΣΧ, Blue Key, Sphinx Club, Little Giants' Club

Football, 1, 2, 3.

Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Captain, 3.

Baseball, 1.

Track, 1, 2, 3.

Tennis, 2, 3; Captain, 3.

"W" Men's Club.

Winner, State Oratorical, 3.

Winner Day Oratorical, 3.

Student Council, 2.

Caveman Board, 2, 3.

Hegira Club, 2, 3.

French Club, 2, 3.

Psychology Club, 3.

Graduated in three years.

EDGAR C. ROBERTSON - - - - - Tampa, Florida

Economics

ΚΣ, Little Giants' Club, Sphinx Club, Blue Key

Baseball, 1, 2, 3 4; Football, 1, 2, 3.

Graduated in three and one-half years.

Junior Prom Committee, 3.

"W" Men's Club.

CHARLES L. WHITACRE - - - - - Fort Recovery, Ohio

Ancient History

Commons Club, Little Giants' Club

Graduated in three years.

Latin Club, 1, 2, 3. Baseball, 1. Track, 2.

Assistant in History, 3.

R. W. RUSSELL - - - - - Noblesville

Economics

AXA

Wabash Staff, 3. Student Council, 4.

Ragsdale

Lovett

Robertson

O'Kieffe

IRA V. RAGSDALE

Jamestown

Physics

Commons Club

Graduated in three years.

Latin Club, 1, 2. Band, 1, 2.

Assistant in Physics, 2, 3.

KENNETH HARRISON LOVETT

North Salem

History

Association of Independent Men

Latin Club, 2, 3.

HAYES ROBERTSON

Chicago Heights, Illinois

History

KΣ, Little Giants' Club, TKA

Debate Team, 3; Day and Peace Oratorical Contests.

Student Council, 2, 3; Secretary-Treasurer Class, 2.

News Bureau, 2, 3.

French Club, 1; Law Club, 3; Hegira Club, 2, 3.

Honor Scholarship; Graduated in three years.

DEWITT O'KIEFFE

Minneapolis, Minnesota

English

ΦΓΔ, ΠΔΕ, Sphinx Club, Blue Key, Academy

Scarlet Masque, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary, 2;

Business Manager, 3; President, 4.

Bachelor Staff, 1, 2, 3; Col-yum Conductor, 2; Feature Writer, 3.

Caveman Board, 2, 3, 4; Editor, 2, 3;

Advisory Board, 4.

Rhodes Scholar Nominee, 4.

Spanish Club, 1, 2.

French Club, 4.

German Club, 4.

Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

President, Blue Key, 4.

Student Council, 4; Sec.-Treas., 4.

Pan-Hellenic Council, 4.

Chairman, Freshman Banquet Committee, 1.

Sophomore Cotillion Committee, 2.

Winner One-Act Play Contest, 3.

Student Assistant in English, 3, 4.

Treasurer, ΠΔΕ, 4.

Homecoming Committee, 3, 4.

Band, 1, 2, 3.

Wabash Staff, 1, 2, 3, 4; Feature Editor, 2; Editor-in-Chief, 4.

Chairman, Commencement Dance, 3.

Scott

Servies

Veazy

Sweeney

JACK V. SCOTT - - - - - Indianapolis

English

ΣΧ, ΠΔΕ, Blue Key.

Yell Leader, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Bachelor Staff, 1, 2, 3; Feature Writer,
2, 3; Sports Editor, 1.

Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Secretary, Blue Key, 3; Vice-President, 4.

Caveman Board, 3, 4; Editor, 4.

Hegira Club, 3, 4; Secretary, 4.

Homecoming Committee, 3, 4.

Law Club, 3, 4.

Spanish Club, 3, 4.

R. J. SERVIES - - - - - New Market

Economics

Association of Independent Men.

HAROLD L. VEAZEY - - - - - Garrett

English

ΦΔΘ, Sphinx Club

Baseball, 1, 2, 3.

French Club, 4. News Bureau, 3, 4.

ELMER D. SWEENEY - - - - - Rensselaer

Zoology

AXA, Little Giants' Club.

"W" Men's Club, 2, 3, 4.

Vice-President, "W" Men's Club, 4.

Track, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Relay Team, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Botanical Society, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 3.

Stewart

Smith

McCain

Stephens

BYRON L. STEWART - - - - - Darlington

Public Speaking

ΦΣΑ, ΤΚΑ, Little Giants' Club

Wabash Staff, 3.

Y. M. C. A. Board, 1.

Band, 1, 2, 3.

Student Council, 4; Vice-President, 4.

French Club, 3.

Spanish Club, 2, 3, 4.

Law Club, 3, 4.

W. LAURANCE SMITH - - - - - Lebanon

Botany

Association of Independent Men

Botany Assistant, 2, 3, 4.

German Club, 3, 4. Tuttle Club, 4.

Botanical Society, 3, 4.

F. T. MCCAIN, JR. - - - - - Evanston, Illinois

English

ΒΘΠ, ΗΔΕ, Blue Key

Northwestern University, 2.

Glee Club, 1, 3, 4.

Student Director, Glee Club, 4.

Scarlet Masque, 1, 3, 4; Business Manager, 4; Stage Manager, 3.

Year Book Staff, 3, 4; Business Manager, 4.

Caveman Staff, 3, 4; Business Manager, 3.

Bachelor Staff, 1.

Secretary, Blue Key, 4.

ROBERT STEPHENS - - - - - Springfield, Illinois

Mathematics

ΚΣ, ΦΒΚ (Junior), ΗΔΕ, ΤΚΑ, Blue Key, Academy, Little Giants' Club.

Winner Honor Scholarship, 1.

Hegira Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Rhodes Scholar Nominee, 4.

Wabash Staff, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sports Editor, 2, 3.

Bachelor Staff, 1, 2.

Debate Team, 2, 3, 4.

Instructor in Public Speaking, 4.

Assistant in Physics, 2, 3.

News Bureau, 2, 3.

Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; President, 4.

Vice-President, Freshman Class, 1.

Thompson

Wicks

Kemper

Sherman

GLENN W. THOMPSON - - - - - Kempton

Psychology and Education

ΦΓΔ, ΣΔΨ

Freshman Track Squad, 1. Varsity Track, 2, 3.
Psychology Club, 4; President, 4.
Graduating in three years.

ROBERT E. WICKS - - - - - Anderson

History

ΣΧ, ΠΔΕ, Blue Key

Bachelor Staff, 2, 3, 4; Sports Editor,	Press Club, 3, 4.
3, 4.	Hegira Club, 4.
News Bureau, 2, 3; Sports Editor, 3.	Botanical Society, 4.
Wabash Staff, 4.	Baldwin Oratorical, 3.
Student Council, 4; President, 4.	Glee Club, 1.

DUDLEY J. E. KEMPER - - - - - Indianapolis

Psychology

ΦΔΘ

Band, 1, 2, 3, 4.
News Bureau, 3, 4.
Scimitar Club, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 4.

DONALD PERRY SHERMAN - - - - - Battle Creek, Michigan

Economics

ΦΔΘ, Sphinx Club, Blue Key, Little Giants' Club

"W" Men's Club; Vice-President, 3;	Student Council, 3, 4.
President, 4.	Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain, 4.
President, Senior Class, 4.	Junior Prom Committee, 3.

Wilson

Whittington

Vorce

Wilkinson

JOHN D. WILSON - - - - - Winchester

Psychology

ΔΔΔ

Vice-President, Junior Class, 3.
Press Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer, 3.
Business Manager, Bachelor, 3.
News Bureau, 2, 3.

RICHARD WHITTINGTON - - - - - Crawfordsville

Public Speaking

Commons Club
Debate Squad, 3.

DONALD R. VORCE - - - - - Ludington, Michigan

English

ΦΓΔ, Sphinx Club, Little Giants' Club.
Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Football, 1, 2, 3. "W" Men's Club.
Botanical Society, 4.
Scarlet Masque, 4; Cotillion Committee, 2.
French Club, 4.

JOHN E. WILKINSON - - - - - Judson

Chemistry

Commons Club
German Club, 3, 4; President, German Club, 3, 4.
Assistant in Chemistry, 4.

Section One of the Junior Class

The Junior Class

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	J. H. Halsey
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	G. H. Denny
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	J. A. Martin

Halsey, President

After two years of apprenticeship it's great to be a junior. The freshman year is a trying one, with its pledge duties, its rhynies' ups, and its scraps. The sophomore year isn't much better. There is still the scrap, but more important than that is the ignoble feeling of being in-between.

But the junior year! Ah, that arrives like a beautiful spring sunrise, full of the promise of youth, of the Prom, of importance, and class jackets! If a man ever begins to live it is when he is a junior.

To the class of '27 belongs the distinction of choosing entirely new garb which would differentiate it from its

Members of the Class

Aldridge, Anderson, Bell, Bergen, Black, C. E., Black, J. W., Bremer, Brown, A. T., Brown, R. B., Carter, Clark, Cords, Davidson, DeBard, Denny, DeVol, Diserens, DuShane, Elder, Emery, Fribley, Gerard, Gordon, Grater, Gumz, Hall, Halsey, Harris, Harvey, Helm, Hollett, Howard, Huffard, Jeffries, Johnson, Jones, Kennedy, Khuon, King,

Denny, Vice-President

Section Two of the Junior Class

brother classes. Of course, in years gone, junior classes had spasmodically donned hats of various and bilious hues, but never before had a Wabash gang of juniors chosen gray corduroy jackets with Scarlet '27s on the pockets.

To this class, by virtue of the authority it delegated to its committee, is due the credit of the recent Junior Promenade, given in December of the academic year and voted one of the most successful social functions ever held by the college.

The class has contributed more than its share of men who are active in the classroom and on the campus. A large percentage of members of the Wabash athletic teams are members of the class. Representatives on the publications, the other organizations, in fact all the endeavors of college life, are juniors, and this activity augurs well for a good senior class next year.

The Junior Fence

Martin, Secretary-Treasurer

Krider, Kruse, Labavitch, Lee, Leitzell, Lemcke, Lenhardt, Leverenz, Lucas, Mace, Manges, Martin, McConnell, McLain, Merkley, Mount, Mountain, Mulbarger, Myers, C. A., Myers, F. S., Painter, Parr, Payne, Phillips, Pittinger, Potts, Robertson, Roth, Schlereth, Schaff, Shanklin, Sowers, Stull, Swift, Thomas, Thompson, Weber, Wedding, R., Wedding, G., Whittington, Yerger.

Section One of the Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	B. F. Suverkrup
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	J. R. Patton
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	C. H. Foust

Suverkrup, President

To the sophomore class belongs the glory of winning the annual class scrap, held during the first week of school every year. In the past five years the second year men have won this fete four times, and this year's sophomores strategically took four of the five events on the program into their own camp. The events were the cane rush, a football rush, the rope-tying contest, a tug-of-war, and the mutilating finale—the flag rush.

Early in the semester the class elected its officers to be the following: Suverkrup, president, Patton, vice-president; and Foust, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Class

Arrington, Eaker, Eauer, Baugh, Eeck, Bomberger, Butz, Castle, Cheney, Chilcott, Conklin, Corbly, Cowan, Cranston, Crosby, Croxton, Daves, Dick, Dinwiddie, Douglas, Dryer, Emery, Finch, Foley, Foust, Franklin, Fuller, Geiger, Geraldeau, Gerrish, Gibbs, Gordon, Grider, Grossman, Hall, Hanna, Harmon, Hines, Howell, Hurley, Johnson,

Patton, Vice-President

Section Two of the Sophomore Class

When the athletic season opened several sophomores went out and won themselves places on all the Wabash teams. They developed well in their first year of inter-collegiate varsity competition, and should be mainstays in athletics next year.

In fields other than that of athletics the second year men showed up well, and were active in all lines of campus work.

On April 17th, the now established Cotillion, given by the sophomore class, occurred at the Masonic Temple. Once more it was voted a success by those who attended it.

In short this class is absorbing the spirit and maintaining the prestige of all Wabash classes, and from the looks of its personnel will bear watching in the future.

The Flag Rush

Foust, Secretary-Treasurer

Johnston, Jones, Leach, Leliter, Link, Loer, Long, Lyons, Mcallister, McDougal, McCorkle, McDaniel, McMasters, Mason, Miller, Moeslein, Oliphant, Pietzuch, Pinkerton, Prail, Priess, Rahrer, Reid, Robbins, Robertson, Rowe, Rush, Sawyer, Selko, Servies, Shea, Sheppard, Smith, Snyder, Stevens, Suverkrup, Suydam, Swanson, Urschel, Vilas, Viner, Wallace, Warbritton.

Section One of the Freshman Class

The Freshman Class

Snyder, President

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	George Snyder
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	Harrison Berkey
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	Fred Dunihue

When the class of '29 entered Wabash at the beginning of the year the first thing it had to offer was numbers. It is the largest freshman class to have entered Wabash, 225 having registered last September. Of course, several have dropped by the wayside, and several more have been cut down, but still the class retains most of its bulk.

After the smoke of rush had cleared away, and the

Members of the Class

Adams, F. R., Adams, C. E., Alexander, M., Alexander, P., Allman, Anderson, Arnold, Ashley, Ayers, Bayer, Bayless, Beall, Beaven, Beesley, E. N., Beesley, L. B., Beesley, M. E., Bender, Bennett, G. D., Bennett, P., Berkey, Blower, Bolles, Bonifield, Brooks, Bowen, Brigance, Brown, Brunner, Burns, Burr, Butler, Caldwell, Campbell, D. H., Campbell, J. D., Canfield, Clark, Collins, Combs, Copeland, Cory, Cox, Crawford, Daly, Daugherty, Davis, C., Davis, E. H., Davis, D. S., DeMoss, A., DeMoss, G. W., Dickerson, Dobelbower, Donahue, Downing, Dudley, Dunihue, Ehrensberger, Endicott, Fisher, Fix, Flaningam, Garner, Garrigan, Gerard, Goodman, Graham, Grant, Green, Gueutal, Hanna, Harbison, Harding, Harris, Hawkins, Helvie, Henderson, Hendricks, Hessel, Hiatt, Hickman, Hixon, Howard, Hunt,

Berkey, Vice-President

Section Two of the Freshman Class

sorness from the scrap had worn off, the freshmen began to take inventory of themselves. Some of them made up the freshman athletic squads, others carried copy and got ads for the Bachelor, others trained their voices and made the Glee Club, in fact, they almost filled to overflowing every college activity.

It is too early, perhaps, to make predictions for them, but there seems to be no reason in the world to imagine that they will fall below the standard of other Wabash classes, and there is every reason to suspect that they, when their wings have been stretched a little more, will ably carry on when the time comes, with the burden of running the college from the student standpoint.

The Purdue Bonfire

Dunihue, Secretary-Treasurer

Hunter, Hurley, Jackman, James, Johnson, Jones, I., Jones, S. A., Keedy, Kerlin, Kiltz, Kimes, Kiplinger, Kistler, Klinger, Latimer, Lawler, Leas, McCarthy, McCormick, McDougal, McMasters, March, Marr, Martin, Maury, Maus, Mendenhall, Metcalf, Miles, Miller, F. M., Miller, R. T., Minas, Misch, Montgomery, Moore, Morganthaler, Mooris, Mottern, Mullin, Myers, Nagdeman, Nelson, Newlin, Nuttall, Oren, Perkins, Pickett, Pierce, Pierse, Price, Ray, Redenbaugh, Reichard, Remely, Ribble, Riley, Robinson, C. Q., Robinson, K., Robison, E. W., Rooker, Ross, Runyan, Sanders, Schneiders, Schoenberger, Sento, Siddall, Siders, Sites, Smith, C. E., Smith, M. A., Snell, Snyder, G. W., Snyder, T. H., Spoerner, Steel, Steen, Stegemeyer, Stopher, Sullivan, Surface, Swatts, Taylor, Terborgh, Thomas, Thompson, Thornberg, Trusty, Turman, Van Nuys, Wagner, Wallace, Walters, Wason, Weed, Weiss, Werkman, Wheeler, White, Wiemkin, Wilhelm, Williams, Wills, Winscott, Wischart, Wolf, Woods, Yount, Zollner.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Hilliard, Gray, Linderman, McCarthy, Wright, Rice.

OLD WABASH

A COLLEGE SONG

Words by
E. M. ROBINSON '00

Music by
CARROLL RAGAN '01
Revised by F. K. Russell, '11

1 From the hills of Maize to the west-ern plain, or where the col-ton is day is date and the west-ern sun, is paint-ing in flash-ing 2 And loud and long shall e-cho the song, till hill and val-ley are hon-ors won by each boy-al song, in high-est rank shall in

From the gloom-y shade of the north-ern pine, to the glo-ry. A cross the skies with gor-geous dyes, the ing-ing. And spread the fame of her hon-ored name, where state-her. For ev-er more as in days of yore, their light of the south-ern seas, There's a name held dear and a col-or we cheer where col-or we love as well; We love to sit as the sha-dows flit and ev-er the breez-es blow; Till sweet and clear the world shall hear the deeds be no-ble and grand; Then once a-gain, ye Wa-bash men three er we love to sit as the sha-dows flit and sons of Wa-bash sing-ing And fly-ing free the cheers for Al-ma Ma-ter, What-er be fall re-long-ing eyes as it floats on the eve-ning breeze; When the light dies out a good old Wa-bash world shall see the good old Wa-bash and by all men the good old Wa-bash

RETRAIL

POWER OF THE SONGS OF THE PAST sing thy praise when fu-ture days shall bring col-lege days are fast-as long-as the steel foot-
Rites of joy will be to shoot the tra-

CHORUS

Dear Old Wabash, we love thee shall proudly
Long in our hearts will be the sweetest mem-ories of the Look still we sing the praises of Old Wabash

ATHLETICS

ROBERT EDWARD VAUGHAN
Head Coach of Football and Basketball

HARRY M. SCHOLLER

Director of Athletics

Two years ago, when the Athletic Department was reorganized, Harry Scholler was made director of athletics, in addition to retaining his position as head coach of baseball.

Coach Scholler needs no introduction to Wabash men, or people of Crawfordsville, in the capacity of baseball strategist. He knows the game from the ground up, and has a state-wide reputation for turning out winning teams.

Under his care the department is rounding into good shape. It is coming along well financially, as well as attaining to a high degree of efficiency. Such a condition of affairs is sure to attract athletes from the high schools of the state.

Reese
Ass't. Football
Coach

FRANK R. REESE

When the football season opened last fall, a new face was noted on the coaching line. Frank Reese, assistant football coach, was the new man, and in his start in Wabash athletics did wonders to develop a fast, smooth-working backfield.

Reese was used entirely as backfield coach and his value to the team was great. It is to be hoped that he will be retained next year.

Reese is a graduate of Notre Dame and secured his football education under the redoubtable Rockne. He was a backfield man on the famous Irish elevens of the past few years.

BURDETTE K. HUFFINE

Business Manager, Athletics

"Huffine" is the business manager for the athletic department, and in that capacity carries a great share of the burden.

Mr. Huffine is also a member of the coaching staff in that he has charge of freshman athletics and coaches the first year football, basketball, and baseball squads.

Coach Huffine has been especially invaluable to the athletic department as a scout. He scouts most of the important football games for the college.

A large part of Huffine's work comes in lining up athletes for Wabash. Most of his summer is spent writing promising men all over the state and personally interviewing many of them.

M. B. Tauer, Track Coach

Tauer was brought here the first part of the year to coach the track squad and to take the place of former Coach Higgins.

Although it is too early to make predictions, from the way the squad is shaping up prospects look excellent.

Tauer is a track man himself, having run with the Purdue track team.

A full schedule for his track men has been arranged for this spring by Tauer. This schedule includes meets on nearly every week-end, with the finales of the season the Little and Big State Meets. The Scarlet, from the appearances of the material working out, should give a good account of itself in these meets.

Track Coach
Tauer

Thompson

Englehardt

Parr

The Athletic Association

OFFICERS

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	C. H. Englehardt
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	C. C. Parr
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	F. L. Thompson

This association is purely an honorary body and comprises the entire student body. Each year three officers, a president, a vice-president, and a secretary-treasurer, are elected by the students during a chapel period given over especially for the occasion.

Technically, the Athletic Association is in charge of the relations of the students to the college athletics. The organization, in addition to this mentioned function, attempts to interest high school graduates, who have gained recognition in athletics, into attending Wabash, and to this end sends out letters over the state.

The three officers who were elected at a special chapel held early last fall and who have served for the entire year are: President, C. H. Englehardt; Vice-President, C. C. Parr; Secretary-Treasurer, F. L. Thompson.

As is always the case, men who are elected to fill the cabinet of the Athletic Association are prominent athletes. Englehardt is captain of this year's baseball team, and has played in the infield for four years. He is also a first string basketball man, and has won two letters in that sport.

Parr is one of the best half backs playing on the Scarlet eleven. He was mentioned on several all-state elevens last fall and was even given honorable mention by one paper for all-American. Parr is also a track man, and has won his letter in the dashes and the broad jump.

Thompson gained athletic prominence on the basketball five, having played forward while Chadwick was in college, but upon the latter's leaving, was shifted to center. He is also a track and baseball man.

A Study in Scarlet

A Study in Scarlet

An interesting study of the two Scarlet football mentors is shown in the accompanying cut. The picture also gives some idea of the rainy weather that was enjoyed steadily throughout last fall's football season. The pose of Vaughan and Reese is typically natural, as any member of the team or student body will remember.

TOP ROW—Yerger, Thompson, Gipson, Englehardt, McDougall, Painter, Cheyne, Viner, Myers.
SECOND ROW—Krider, Whitacre, Loer, Coffel, DeBard, Mulbarger, Johnson, McLain.
BOTTOM ROW—Robertson, Cripe, Sweeney, Sherman, Cowan, Martin, Johnson.

“W” Men’s Club

Membership in the “W” Men’s Club is attained by only those men who have won a letter in some major branch of athletics. They automatically become members of the club when they have acquired their first letters, and are officially on the roll of this organization until they have graduated from Wabash.

The Club attempts to maintain a spirit of good will and clean sportsmanship among the athletes of the school, as well as endeavoring to keep politics of any form out of varsity athletics. In the latter phase they have been indeed successful as Wabash to date has been fortunate enough to keep all organizations from entering into choice of captains and other positions of vital importance to its successful athletic teams.

The letter men are also particularly active in drawing the cream of high school athletes to Wabash. Each member of the club is automatically a committee to secure as many good men as possible from the particular section of the country from which he comes. This method of approach to high school stars has been indeed successful, and Wabash has been exceedingly fortunate in the last few years largely due to the efforts of the men that wear the varsity “W”.

It is impossible to include the entire list of members in the organization as men will continue to win letters until the close of the 1925-1926 school term and automatically will be on the roll of the organization.

Members

Dana Gipson
Ben DeVol
Don Burdette
Ben Hobson
Kip Parr
Russ Cripe
Tommie Thompson
Speed Martin
Sam Johnson
Red Vorce
Edgar Robertson
Harry Painter
Shrimp Englehardt
Gordie Helm

Don Sherman
Abe DeVol
Debe DeBard
Sheik Weber
Abe Cowan
Robby Robertson
Red Robinson
Carl Cords
Elmer Sweeney
Theron Coffel
C. L. Whitacre
Algy Krider
Mac McDougall
Dobbie Melson

F. S. Myers
Red Prall
Rex Cheyne
Elwood Yerger
Ferry Loer
Wayne Viner
Mac McCorkle
Hank Gordon
Jerry Geraldeau
Reid McLain
Swede Johnson
Maurice Rush
F. H. Mulbarger

Sherman, President

Athletic Resume

The year of 1925-26 saw Wabash represented by as fine a group of athletic teams as have worn the Scarlet in recent years. Wabash because of its limited enrollment was often forced to compete against teams representing much larger schools. Glorious victories were intermingled with bitter defeats but regardless of the ultimate outcome of the game the Scarlet teams always fought, and when they left the field of battle it was with the knowledge that they had given their best and whether victorious or defeated their performance brought honor to the name of Wabash.

In baseball the major branch of spring athletics the Scarlet team proved itself worthy foes for the best in the state. From more or less untried material Coach Scholler developed a team that won ten games, lost six, and was joint occupant with Butler and DePauw of second place in the State Championship race. Perhaps the most notable victories scored by the Scarlet during the year were the decisive defeats of Indiana, the two victories over Purdue, and the five to one win over the Butler Bulldogs.

In the minor branches of spring athletics Wabash was better represented than at any time in previous years. The track team won two dual meets, lost one, was nosed out of first place in the Little State Meet, and finished fifth in the Big State Meet. The golf team did not lose a dual match during the year, and Denny representing Wabash at the State Meet went to the finals in the individual tournament play and was defeated by Krasse of Purdue in a match that went to two extra holes. For the first time in five years a Wabash tennis team entered the Conference Meet at Chicago. Captain Hadley and Denny were the Wabash representatives. Playing in the doubles these two men went to the third round before they were defeated by the Ohio State team. They scored victories over Notre Dame and Michigan.

The 1925 football season was an agreeable surprise to the most optimistic supporter. Facing a schedule that included the strongest secondary teams in the state and four teams of the Big Ten, the Little Giants were conceded to be in for a tough season. Five victories, three defeats, and one tie game, was the record made by the Scarlet against this formidable opposition. No team outside of the Big Ten was able to cross the Little Giants' goal line. Wabash had a clear claim to the State Secondary Title by virtue of her victories over all State competitors including Purdue. Butler succeeded in holding Wabash to a tie, but her tie game with DePauw put Butler out of the running.

Wabash not only attracted favorable attention throughout the Middle West as a team, but the individual players were given considerable attention in the selection of All Star teams. Kipper Parr, Little Giant half-back, received honorable mention on the All-American team picked by the Detroit News, and was chosen as one of the twelve greatest football players in Indiana by the Indianapolis News. Besides Parr, Rush, Sherman, and Painter, were also picked among the twelve greatest. These same men along with Praill, and Captain-elect Weber, were chosen on various other All-State teams.

The basketball season, speaking in terms of victories won, could hardly be termed a startling success. Despite this, however, no one would say that Wabash did not have a good team. Time after time she fought her opponents to a standstill and with victory apparently in her grasp was nosed out in the closing minutes of play. Butler and Notre Dame were each credited with two-point wins over the Scarlet, and Purdue and Evansville both skimmed through with one-point victories. In the thirteen games that were lost, nine were lost by seven points or less. The outstanding performances from the Wabash point of view, were the victory over DePauw, and the win over the previously undefeated Manchester team. Captain Robinson, DeVol, and Dinwiddie were all given All-State mention. DeVol was the high point man of the season followed closely by Robinson. Although it did not win consistently the team never quit fighting and furnished stiff opposition for all its opponents.

Scarlet Yell Leaders

Jack Scott

For the past two years "Jack" has been head yell leader for the college, having served his apprenticeship under the famous Africa. To Scott in a large measure is due the spirit of enthusiasm which has been manifested throughout the various athletic contests of the college. Scott has also engineered many student trips to out of town games.

Willard Cartwright

"Carty" has been Scott's able assistant for two years and has taken from his shoulders much of the burden of leading yells. Scott and Cartwright make a valuable pair before the bleachers.

H. O. Powell

"Bugs" Powell is the junior member of the trio and will assume the responsibility of rooter king next year. Under the tutelage he has had from Scott and Cartwright he should be an able one.

FOOTBALL

The Bench Warmers in Action

Scoring

NAME	T. D.	F. G.	Pts. after T. D.	Total
Parr, (L. H.) .....	4	0	5	29
Cripe, (R. H.) .....	3	0	0	18
Geraldeau, (Q. B.) .....	1	0	1	7
Johnson, (R. H.) .....	2	0	3	15
McDougall, (F. B.) .....	1	0	0	6
Rush, (F. B.) .....	3	0	0	18
Painter, R. G.) .....	1	0	0	6
McLain, (L. E.) .....	1	0	0	6
Myers, (F. B.) .....	1	0	0	6
Robertson, (L. H.) .....	1	0	0	6
Robinson, (L. E.) .....	1	0	3	9
Gipson,, (L. H.) .....	2	0	2	14
Viner, (R. E.) .....	1	0	0	6

Sherman, Captain

Parr--All American

"Kipper" Parr, star Little Giant half-back, was honored by the Detroit News when he was given honorable mention on the News All-American football team. Parr's brilliant playing against the Little Giants' Conference opponents stamped him as one of the outstanding half-backs playing college football in the mid-west.

The last season was Parr's second as a regular on Little Giant football teams, and his playing has always been of the sensational order. Besides his mention in the Detroit News, he was named by the Indianapolis News as one of the twelve greatest college football players in the state of Indiana.

Parr

TOP ROW—DeVol (Trainer), Helm, Reese (Assistant Coach), Mulbarger, McDougall, Vaughan (Coach), Myers, Johnson.
 SECOND ROW—Rush, Gipson, Gordon, Viner, Geraldeau, Praill, Weber, Carter.
 THIRD ROW—Cripe, Castle, McMasters, Loer, Sherman (Captain), Parr, Yerger.
 BOTTOM ROW—Robbins, Cheney, Painter, McCorkle, Leitzell, DeBard, Martin, Robinson.

—w—

The Record

Wabash, 20.....	Hanover, 0	Wabash, 0.....	Butler, 0
Wabash, 67.....	Muncie Normal, 0	Wabash, 7.....	Iowa, 28
Wabash, 13.....	Purdue, 7	Wabash, 13.....	Chicago "Y" College, 0
Wabash, 6.....	Minnesota, 32	Wabash, 0.....	Illinois, 21
Wabash, 22.....	DePauw, 0

—w—

Varsity Letter Men

Robinson

Weber

Loer

Sherman

Painter

McCorkle

Gordon

Cheyne

Yerger

Viner

McLain

Praill

Geraldeau

Helm

Johnson

Mulbarger

Gipson

Cripe

Parr

Myers

Rush

Robertson

Martin

Weber
Captain-elect

DeVol
Trainer

Changing Shoes at Purdue.

Wabash 20 Hanover 0

With Hanover as her opponents Wabash opened the 1925 season in auspicious manner, defeating the downstate eleven by a 20 to 0 score. The game was played on a muddy field that seemed to bother both teams considerably. Wabash was playing without the services of her regular full-back, and used nothing but straight football.

Wabash opened the scoring in the first quarter when Cripe raced fifty yards for a touchdown aided by some beautiful interference on the part of his team-mates. Robinson place-kicked for the extra point. In the second quarter, Vaughan substituted an entirely new backfield, and they tore through the Hanover team for two more touchdowns. Parr scored the touchdowns on off-tackle smashes.

The last half was played in a drizzle of rain and was void of all thrills. The slippery condition of the ball and the field bothered both teams, and made any consistent ground gaining impossible. The brilliant open-field running of Parr added life to what would have been otherwise a dull and uninteresting contest.

Gordon

Rush

Wabash 13 Purdue U. 7

And then came Purdue! The Boilermakers faced their annual battle with Wabash with their usual supreme confidence. Having won the preceding year, Pur-

Cripe Off Down the Field.

On the Goal Line.

due expected to repeat without much trouble, and they were confident that the Wabash battle would merely serve to condition them for more important games later in the season. However, they were doomed to disappointment, for a fighting, scrapping bunch of Little Giants battled them to a stand-still for three quarters, and in the closing minutes of play came through with a touchdown that gave the Scarlet a well earned 13 to 7 victory.

Phelan "pulled a Rockne" and started a team composed of second string men, but Wabash soon convinced him that he had erred, and the first team was rushed hastily into the fray. Their efforts were futile, however, and soon after the opening whistle, Rush smashed through the center of the Purdue line for a touchdown. Robinson sent a place-kick squarely through the goal posts for the extra point. The two teams spent the remainder of the quarter in fruitless efforts to score with neither making much headway. At the start of the second quarter

Painter

Viner

Purdue started a march down the field that carried the ball to the four yard line. At this point the Wabash line stiffened and held for two downs, but on the third attempt, Gladders went through guard for a touchdown, and Taube tied the score with a drop-kick. The rest of the quarter was fought in mid-field, and the half ended with Wabash in possession of the ball on the Purdue forty-five yard line.

The second half was replete with thrills, and the most sensational football was displayed that has ever been seen in a Wabash-Purdue battle. Before Wabash was able to gain its bearings the Purdue team plunged and passed its way to within Gaining Yardage Against DePauw.

Cripe Fails to Gain.

the very shadows of the Wabash goal posts. Here the fighting Wabash line braced, held for three downs, and on Purdue's fourth attempt to score Wilcox fumbled, and McCorkle, Scarlet right guard, recovered the ball back of the goal line. With the fumble Purdue lost her best opportunity to score.

Prall

Purdue launched an aerial attack in the closing minutes of play. This, however, proved to be her undoing, for it was at this point from within their own thirty-yard line, in a desperate attempt to win, that the break that the Scarlet clad warriors had been so desperately fighting for, came to pass.

With the crowd slowly making its way toward the exits, and a tie game apparently inevitable, Harry Painter, listed on the score cards as Wabash right guard, rose to the heights, and furnished a dramatic finish to a brilliantly fought game, when he intercepted a Purdue pass and aided by perfect interference by Sherman and Loer raced thirty yards for a touchdown and victory.

Wabash 67 Muncie Normal 0

Displaying the same high class football that had defeated Purdue the week before, Wabash overwhelmed the Muncie Normal football team by a 67 to 0 score on Saturday, October 10. Everybody in uniform played, and nearly everybody scored. The Normal team was unusually weak, and the game proved to be a good practice session for Wabash in preparation for the Minnesota game.

Wabash 6 Minnesota 32

Launching an attack that would not be denied, the hard driving Minnesota team fairly swept Wabash off its feet and registered a 32 to 6 victory. Wabash was beaten, but never has the traditional Wabash fight been more in evidence. The Wabash line in particular was subjected to a terrific assault, the giant Minnesota backs smashing and battering the Scarlet forward wall until human flesh could endure it no longer. Not until the last four minutes of play, when the regular Scarlet linemen were out of the game, were the Minnesota backs able to break through for the two touchdowns that assured them of victory.

The high point of the game from the Wabash viewpoint came early in the first quarter when Robinson recovered a Minnesota fumble back of their goal line for the only Wabash score of the day.

The Scarlet showed one of the most powerful line smashing attacks seen on the Minnesota field in recent years, but the team was unable to push the ball over when it was in scoring territory. The Scarlet backs crashed the big Minnesota line for eleven first downs during the game, while the Gophers were making fifteen. The brilliant open-field running of Cripe and Parr and the terrific line smashing of Rush kept the Minnesota goal line constantly in danger.

Robinson

A Sea of Mud.

If ever a team rose to the heights in face of defeat, the Wabash team did, and as it trudged wearily from the field—bruised, battered, and in a dazed condition—it was hailed by Minnesota fans and newspaper correspondents as a foe worthy to battle the best.

During the first half of the game Wabash fought their heavier opponents to a stand-still, Minnesota grabbing a seven-point lead during the closing minutes of the half. The Minnesota scores were the result of some hard line smashing by Peplaw and Joesting. Wabash was plainly tired at the start of the second half, and the Gophers soon scored their third touchdown.

At this point Wabash braced and held the Minnesota backs for downs, and took the ball. They then started an offensive drive that took the ball to the Minnesota twenty-seven yard line where it was lost on downs.

With five minutes to go, Cripe skirted right end, passed the line of scrimmage, evaded the secondary defense, and with a clear field ahead of him was apparently loose for a touchdown, but a Minnesota tackler caught him from behind and downed him on the Minnesota thirty-seven yard line. Wabash immediately opened a passing attack that proved their undoing: Minnesota intercepted two of the passes enabling them to score their final touchdowns.

The Indianapolis Star said of the game: "Although badly beaten the Hoosiers fought to the last ditch. The Wabash team never quit, winning the admiration of the throng by battling with rare courage until the very last, the conclusion of the contest finding the Hoosiers in possession of the ball in Minnesota territory and making every effort to score a second touchdown."

Cripe

Myers

Wabash 0 Butler 0

We realize only too well that the statement—the game was a moral victory for "our boys"—is merely a feeble way of trying to explain a defeat or at best a tie game, but if ever a team did win such a thing as a moral victory, the Wabash team did in the annual Butler battle.

The efforts of the Butler backs to pierce the Wabash line were without success from the start. While the Wabash line was holding the Butler offense helpless, the Scarlet backfield was ripping off gain after gain. Eleven times during the game the Wabash team made first downs while the Pagemen gained only five. Three times the Scarlet backs carried the ball within inches of the goal line, only to see plunging backs lose their footing and lose the ball on downs. Butler did not threaten to score at any time during the contest, seemingly content to play a purely defensive game.

Parr Stopped Through the Line.

Johnson

The game started when Painter kicked off to Nipper, who returned it ten yards before he was downed. Over-anxious, the Wabash line charged too soon, and three times Wabash was penalized five yards off-sides. The team then got organized, and began playing a punting game, ever watchful for a Butler fumble. Time after time the line held Butler's attack with scant gain, forcing Nipper to kick. When Wabash secured possession of the ball, Cripe would punt to Butler on the first down. Not once did the Scarlet attempt to carry the ball until the much sought for break came.

Wabash's first scoring threat came early in the second quarter. Cripe, who had been averaging fifty yards on his punts, got off the best kick of the day, sending the water-soaked ball sixty-five yards down the field to the Butler ten yard line. Butler kicked on the first down, the ball rolling out of bounds on the Butler thirty-yard line. With Rush carrying the ball Wabash advanced to the four yard line for a first down and goal to gain. Three times Wabash gained, but on the fourth down something went wrong, Parr was thrown for a loss and Butler took the ball.

Then followed a punting game that ended when Nipper dropped Cripe's kick on the Butler thirty-yard line. Cheyne tore through to recover for Wabash. The march down the field started with Parr and Rush making splendid gains. Two first downs were snapped off. The ball was carried to the Butler one-yard line, and again Wabash fumbled the slippery ball when victory was but a matter of holding on to the ball.

Butler played its best football in the third quarter. Praill and Cripe were both carried from the field in this quarter and their injury weakened the Little Giants to some extent. The Bull Dogs made their only offensive threat of the game in this period, and carried the ball to the Wabash thirteen-yard line. It was the nearest Butler ever came to the Wabash goal line, in fact it was the only time they were in Wabash territory. Butler found the Little Giant line a stonewall, and Nipper attempted a place-kick for three points. The whole left side of the line broke through, and Viner blocked the kick.

Wabash hopes arose to the supreme heights of muddy glory in the last quarter. The Wabash backs tore through the Butler line at will until the ball rested on the one-yard line, fourth down and goal to gain. With the game at stake, Rush smashed desperately into the center of the Butler line, but the mud afforded an uncertain footing and he was stopped inches short of the goal line.

McCorkle

Cripe Goes Around End.

Wabash 7 Iowa 28

Wabash 7; Iowa 4. When Wabash fans heard this news over radio, they refused to believe their ears—or rather their loud speaker. It was only the first half, and although the final score read, Iowa 28, Wabash 7, the Little Giants gave the Hawkeyes the scare of their lives, and Wabash won a real reputation at Iowa City.

Iowa started the game by rushing the ball to the Wabash four-yard line but the Little Giants braced and held for downs. Wabash then started an offensive of their own and carried the ball into the Iowa territory before they lost possession of it.

Again the Iowa team opened its rushing attack, and strode into Wabash territory. Three plays carried the ball to the Wabash one-foot line, and again the plucky Scarlet line braced and held for downs.

Wabash kicked out of danger, and Iowa again started their attack. It was stopped short, however, when "Swede" Johnson intercepted an Iowa pass and raced to the Iowa seven-yard line before he was stopped. A beautiful pass, Prail to Rush was good for a touchdown, and Parr place-kicked for the extra point.

The rest of the first half was a punting duel with the Iowa punter outkicking Parr. Iowa scored safeties on two different occasions when Parr was downed back of the goal line when attempting to kick.

Worn out by their desperate first half fight, the Little Giants weakened in the second half, and the Iowa backs literally smashed the battered Wabash line to pieces. Fry, the Iowa plowboy, smashed the center of the line for gain after gain, and he was ably assisted by Dauber, Graham, Rice, and Smith. Three times they crossed the Wabash goal line, and once Hogan of the Hawks dropped back to the twenty-five-yard line and sent the ball spinning neatly through the goal posts. By the time the last half ended Iowa had overcome the Wabash lead and forged to a 28 to 7 victory.

Facing its third Conference opponent of the season, Wabash played high class football, and with better breaks would have undoubtedly played the Iowans to a much closer score. Fumbles and bad passes gave Iowa 11 unearned points. The score, 28 to 7, does not tell a true story of the battle, as the game was hard from the start to finish, and Wabash never quit fighting.

It was a defeat without disgrace for the light Wabash team

Loer

McDougall

On the Goal Line at Purdue.

Wabash 13 Chicago Y. M. C. A. College 0

Mud—Mud—Mud— and more Mud! Water stood ankle deep on Ingall's Field as the Little Giants slipped and slid their way to a pair of touchdowns and victory over the Chicago Y. M. C. A. College. The boys from the Windy City were no match for Wabash, and the Little Giants took it easy enjoying their first comparatively easy game during the month.

Yerger

The first Little Giant score came in the second quarter, when some consistent line smashing by Rush and end running by Johnson resulted in a touchdown for the Scarlet, Johnson carrying the ball.

The final score of the game came early in the third quarter, when Viner intercepted a Chicago pass and raced thirty yards for the score. Parr place-kicked for the extra point.

Wabash 0 Illinois 21

Mud—Mud—Mud—and Illinois, with a team that averaged fifteen pounds heavier to the man than Wabash, pounded the Little Giants into the mud for a 21 to 0 victory. Wabash fought and fought hard, but the superior weight of the Illini was not to be denied, and they smashed through their lighter opponents for a last half victory.

The first half saw the Little Giants fighting their opponents on even terms. Illinois threatened to score at the start of the game but the Scarlet held within the shadow of their goals posts and then kicked out of danger. Toward the end of the half Illinois started a march down the field that resulted in a touchdown. Gallivan carried the ball across. A little later a bad pass from center forced Parr to down the ball back of the goal line for a safety.

It had rained steadily during the first half and the intermission, and at the start of the second half players of both teams were having great difficulty in retaining their footing. Until the latter part of the quarter an even battle was waged in mid-field with neither team making much headway. Shortly before the quarter came to an end Greathouse, Illini full-back, threw a long pass to Gallivan, who raced to the Wabash 17-yard line. Four plays scored a touchdown with Gallivan carrying the ball across.

The last quarter was a repetition of the third; Wabash holding the Illini until the closing minutes of play, when Stewart went around end, reversed the field, and raced about fifty-five yards for a touchdown. It was a beautiful play, and was the one made famous by "Red" Grange.

Géraldeau

Three Yards Off Tackle.

The famous "Red" was kept out of the game until late in the last quarter, when Zuppe put him in for a short time. He was given no chance to distinguish himself in any way. It was his last game in the Illinois stadium.

The Indianapolis Star said of the game: "Pete Vaughan's Little Giants ended their Big Ten series of the season at Illinois Saturday with a record of one victory and three defeats. The Illini trounced them on a muddy field, 21 to 0. It might have been worse. The Cavemen have given a good account of themselves in all of their games with Conference elevens. It required a balance of courage and sportsmanship to take on four games in the course of a season all of which are rather certain to end in defeat. The Little Giants have that balance."

DeBard

Wabash 22 DePauw 0

A fitting close to a successful season was the DePauw game played on Ingall's Field the 21st of November. It was Homecoming and the largest crowd of the year was on hand to see the game, and a great game it was. DePauw, with a rather unsuccessful season behind it, was out for blood, and it was fighting hard to redeem itself in the eyes of its supporters. Wabash was fighting equally hard to close the season in a blaze of glory. With both teams at their best, it was a question of football strategy and physical condition, and Wabash was clearly the superior in both.

The first half was featured by one of the greatest offensive exhibitions seen on Ingall's Field in many a year. Led by Gipson, the Little Giants smashed and ripped their way through the DePauw team for gain after gain. Sixteen of the twenty-two Wabash points were scored during the first half. Sturtridge, the flashy Tiger half, added color to the game from the DePauw standpoint when on two different occasions he broke away for long runs, but with the ball in scoring territory the DePauw backs were helpless, and for the sixth consecutive year the Tigers failed to cross the Scarlet goal line.

Robertson

From the very first the game was not in doubt, and while DePauw fought hard they were simply outclassed. The field was dry, the sun was shining, and Wabash let loose such a flood of new plays that DePauw was completely bewildered. For the first time Wabash used the "huddle" system.

Painter kicked off to Sturtridge to start the game and after DePauw had failed to gain, Anderson kicked to mid-field. Cripe ripped off six yards on two plays. Gipson broke through tackle for twenty-five yards. It was splendid advance notice of the work "Gippie" intended to do in his last game for Wabash. Wabash could not gain, and an attempted pass on the fourth down failed, DePauw taking the ball on their twelve yard line. An exchange of punts followed, with Cripe having the edge. It was at this point that Sturtridge took the ball on his own twenty-yard line and raced forty yards before he was tackled.

Getting Through for a Gain.

Gipson

Sturtridge threw a beautiful forward pass, but the pass never reached its destination, Gipson grabbed it out of the air, and aided by some beautiful interference, raced fifty yards down the side line for a touchdown. "Red" Robinson kicked goal. Later in the quarter DePauw was forced to kick from near their own goal line and McCorkle broke through, blocked the kick, and fell on the ball behind the line for a safety. Score at the end of the quarter, Wabash 9, DePauw 0.

The second quarter saw a new Wabash backfield enter the game. Neither team was able to make much headway until late in the quarter when Wabash started a march down the field that carried the ball to the DePauw twenty-five yard line, where Parr kicked. DePauw returned the punt, and on the second play a lateral pass thrown by Parr to Rush was good for a touchdown. Parr kicked goal.

Neither team was able to score in the third period. Late in the third quarter, Geraldeau recovered a DePauw fumble in midfield. Gipson made six yards, Rush made three more, and Cripe came around the end for a first down. Wabash was penalized ten yards and Gipson gained six of it back. A lateral pass, Geraldeau, Cripe to Rush carried the ball to the DePauw twenty-five-yard line. Gipson smashed through to the two-yard line as the quarter ended.

Gipson carried the ball over at the start of the last quarter. Robinson missed goal. The rest of the quarter saw Wabash playing a purely defensive game. Four fresh men were shot into the DePauw line-up, and the Tigers played their best ball of the game in the next ten minutes. After the Tigers had made two first downs Vaughan sent in his reserve linemen to check them. The game ended as McLain and Mulbarger threw Nesbit for a two-yard loss on the Wabash forty-yard line.

Five Little Giants played the last games of their careers when they lined up Homecoming Day against DePauw. These men were: Sherman, Cripe, Robinson, Gipson, and Martin. It is interesting to note that three of these five men have played four years of varsity football, having entered Wabash the year before the freshmen rule took effect.

Cheyne

Homecoming Game.

Spring Football

The spring training period began about two weeks before spring vacation and continued through some bad weather up to a couple of days after the vacation, when it ended with an exhibition game.

It was started a little later than usual, and because of the weather had to be made more intensive than usual.

The spring session is given over entirely to the fundamentals of the game. It is assumed that every man who comes out knows nothing whatever about the game, and the coaches work with this in mind at all times. The most elementary points were drilled over thoroughly, and only a few advanced points explained.

For the most part the drilling was on offense. About a dozen plays were given the squads and these formed the basis for use of the blocking, interfering, and running that the coaches had to teach. Little tackling was practiced, and the defense was coached hardly at all.

The material which showed up was pleasing. The freshmen contributed almost an entire team to the workouts, and altogether material for about three teams was available. There was a dearth of halfback material, though what was out was good. Other positions were filled in good shape. About forty men were out for the spring sport. This number dwindled somewhat along toward the end of the training period.

Weather delaying baseball and track teams here, had the same effect on football, though not to quite so great an extent, the coaches not particularly caring about the physical condition of the men with no games in sight till next fall. Rain and snow made a slick, slow field for practice and dulled somewhat the spirits of the men.

April 6, was the day chosen for the exhibition game which was to end the spring training period of training. In order to make two clearly defined teams the coaches lined up the varsity men against the freshman varsity material and let them go to it through all but ten minutes of a regular game. The varsity won, 21 to 0 and received little threatening from the rhynie team. The game showed that the freshmen had something valuable to contribute to next year's team, especially in the line.

Coaching was under the direction of Head Coach Vaughan and Assistant Coach Frank Reese. Vaughan took charge of linemen while Reese turned his attention to developing backfield material. It is practically certain that these two men will direct the development of the Wabash football team again next fall.

Helm

McLain

Martin

THE FRESHMAN SQUAD, 1925

FIRST ROW—Huffine, coach, Kimes, Zollner, Hickman, Terborgh, Wiemken, Remely, Rawlings, Priess, Bowen, Hessit, Taylor, Casey, Hudson, Robinson.
 SECOND ROW—Canfield, McMasters, Garrigan, Downing, Morganthaler, Wallace, Caile, Berkey, Pease, Spoerner, Burr, Collins.
 BOTTOM ROW—McDowell, Thornburg, Goodman, Snyder, Caile, Dayer, Graham, Ward, Harrold, Latimer, McCarthy.

Freshman Football

The Franklin and Wabash college freshman teams battled to a scoreless tie in the opening game of the freshman football season. Goodell Field was a sea of mud which was a great handicap to both teams. Wabash was in scoring territory twice, but did not have the punch to put the ball over.

The Franklin Star said of the game: "The Franklin and Wabash freshmen played a scoreless tie on Goodell Field Friday afternoon, in the best defensive game of football played here this season. Both teams threatened to score, but the strength of the lines of the two teams held the backfields from making gains of any length, and the game was a punting battle and fight for the breaks.

"Franklin backs were handicapped by the muddy field, but played a very consistent and safe game. Fouch was bested in the punting by Hudson. The two teams were well matched in the line, and the game was practically a defensive battle. Kimes, at center for Wabash, was the outstanding individual in the line play."

Wabash 27; Rose Poly 0

The Little Giant rhynies kept their season's record clear of defeat when they defeated the Rose Poly freshmen in the second and last game of the season. Wabash jumped into the lead in the first quarter and the ultimate outcome of the game was never in doubt, the final score being 27 to 0, Wabash.

Huffine
Frosh Coach

Following the initial kick-off the Little Giants started a march down the field and scored a touchdown without losing the ball. Graham carried the ball over on an off-tackle smash. Wabash kicked goal. The quarter ended with Wabash leading 7 to 0. The second quarter saw the Little Giants break loose again for another touchdown.

During the second half Rose Poly fought a stubborn defensive battle, but was unable to prevent the Scarlet freshmen from continuing their touchdown a quarter program. Thornburg snagged a forward pass and raced over the line for a touchdown in the third quarter, while G. Caile ended the scoring in the fourth quarter when he intercepted a forward pass and ran eighty yards for a marker.

As in the Franklin game the Little Giant line was impregnable. The only first down for Rose Poly came late in the last quarter by virtue of a long forward pass. Ward and Graham in the backfield were the offensive stars for the Little Giants.

BASKETBALL

THE 1925-1926 VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD
 SECOND ROW—Jeffries, McLain, Dinwiddie, Thompson, McCorkle, McMasters, Edwards.
 FIRST ROW—Shanklin, Englehardt, Captain Robinson, Grater, DeVol.

Varsity Basketball

The Record

Wabash 29 .....	Lombard 23	Wabash 29.....	Notre Dame 41
Wabash 26.....	Iowa 38	Wabash 22.....	DePauw 28
Wabash 27.....	Indiana 35	Wabash 29.....	Butler 37
Wabash 31.....	Evansville 32	Wabash 23.....	Notre Dame 25
Wabash 28.....	Evansville 34	Wabash 28.....	Manchester 22
Wabash 37.....	Purdue 38	Wabash 45.....	State Normal 25
Wabash 38.....	DePauw 32	Wabash 25.....	Butler 27
Wabash 30.....	Franklin 50	Wabash 21.....	Franklin 34

"Red" Robinson
 Captain

Letter Men

"Mac" McCorkle
 "Abe" Cowan
 "Dinner" Dinwiddie

"Red" Robinson
 "Shrimp" Englehardt
 "Benny" DeVol
 "Tommie" Thompson

THE WABASH COLLEGE GYMNASIUM

The Season

When Coach Vaughan sounded his first call for basketball, weeks before the football season was over, most of the veterans from the Wonder Five of the preceeding year answered it.

"Shang" Chadwick, lanky center of last season, and Don Burdette, flashy floor guard, were the only two men lost by graduation.

Although the places of both these men were hard to fill, Vaughan began to train two pairs of players for each position. For the pivot post he had Thompson and Dinwiddie who both, though they lacked the height and reach of Chadwick, became formidable at center before the season was very old.

To take Burdette's place "Pete" used interchangeably Englehardt and Cowan, both of whom displayed much finished work consistently throughout the season.

With such men as Robinson and DeVol the forward berths were wonderfully well taken care of. Both these men were among the fastest, surest forwards in the Middle West, and together are a combination to be feared. DeVol was high point man of the squad for the season, followed closely by Robinson.

One of the happy surprises of the year was the development of McCorkle at back guard. It was thought that when Coffell didn't return that he would leave a whole in the defense. McCorkle, however, under Vaughan's tutelage, became a star guard and left anything but a hole under the basket.

Robinson, Thompson, and Englehardt are the only men who will be lost by graduation.

"Pete" Vaughan
Coach

Running Account of the Season

DeVol

Wabash 29; Lombard 23

The opening game of the season saw the Little Giants in action against Lombard. Wabash played carefully conserving their strength for the Iowa battle the following night. Lombard had a big team, but they were no match for the Scarlet flashes. Led by Robinson and DeVol, the Little Giants scored at will, and the game soon became a question of how large a score Wabash wanted to make.

Wabash 26; Iowa 38

Iowa secured ample revenge for the defeat suffered at the hands of the Scarlet last winter, when they romped over the Little Giants for an easy victory. Wabash fought, but their efforts were fruitless. Iowa displayed a flashy attack and a stone-wall defense. Robinson, the Wabash scoring ace, was closely covered at every turn, and was unable to score from the field. The brunt of the Wabash attack rested on the shoulders of Benny DeVol, and the little forward performed brilliantly, but he was unable to defeat the Iowans single handed.

Wabash 27; Indiana 35

The Indiana game was an almost exact replica of the Iowa battle. Wabash fought desperately, but was unable to stop the strong offensive combination displayed by Indiana. In the first half Indiana jumped into the lead when Wabash seemed to be having difficulty in locating the basket.

At the end of the first ten minutes of play the Hoosiers were leading by a twelve point margin. After that the Little Giants settled down, and outplayed their Conference opponents, but were unable to overcome the big lead. DeVol and Robinson again led the Wabash team in scoring. McCorkle played a steady game at back-guard, and kept the Indiana sharp shooters from scoring from under the basket.

Wabash 31; Evansville 32

Playing without the services of Robinson the Little Giants lost the first game of the Evansville series by a one point margin. It was a tough game to lose. The Wabash team held a scant lead throughout the battle, but some uncanny basket shooting by Harper, star Evansville forward, brought about the downfall of the Little Giants.

DeVol was again the leading scorer for Wabash, and he was ably assisted by Dinwiddie. The entire team played good basketball and deserved better luck.

Wabash 28; Evansville 34

Evansville made it a two straight from Wabash when they won the second game by a six point margin. As was the case the previous night, the Little Giants were in the lead the big majority of the time, but were unable to stand the pace.

Wabash 37; Purdue 38

With the return of Robinson to the lineup, Wabash took a new lease on life and played their most brilliant offensive game of the season against Purdue. After their defeats at the hands of Evansville, Wabash was doped to have only an outside chance against the powerful Boilermakers. However, the Scarlet played them off their feet, and was deprived of a victory by a whim of fate.

Englehardt

It was the second one point defeat for Wabash in the period of a week, and was a heart-breaking game to lose. Robinson and DeVol were again the offensive stars. The "red head" scored thirteen points and his little running mate came through with fifteen.

Wabash 38; DePauw 32

Smarting from the sting of five successive defeats the Little Giants opened the home season by defeating their ancient rivals from down the Monon by a 38 to 32 score. Wabash was fighting desperately to win, and their attack showed a machine-like precision that was not to be denied, while their defense forced the DePauw men to shoot from far out on the floor.

Wabash played slowly and carefully, making every shot count, and taking advantage of every opening. DePauw, led by Puckett and Ward, played brilliantly at times, but was unable to score with any great consistency. The first half ended with Wabash holding a one point advantage. In the second half the Little Giants opened up and played a faster offensive game. Thompson playing at center for Wabash, found his basket eye for the first time during the year, and led the attack with four field goals.

Robinson
Captain

Wabash 30; Franklin 50

After playing rather erratic basketball in its previous contests the Franklin five came into its own in the Wabash game and smothered the Scarlet under an avalanche of baskets. Franklin was at its best, and Wabash was helpless. The team fought and fought hard, but Franklin was unstoppable.

Led by the great Vandiver, Franklin forged ahead at the start of the game, and they were never headed. Robinson seemed to be off form, and was unable to score with his usual regularity.

Wabash 29; Notre Dame 41

In Notre Dame, Wabash found one of the strongest teams in the state. The Catholics known throughout the country because of their football teams, were represented by a basketball team that bid fair to equal the reputation established by their gridiron teams.

Notre Dame started fast, and with Nyikos hitting the basket from all angles, forged ahead, and had a comfortable eleven point lead at half time. At the first of the second half the Scarlet staged a sensational rally, and were within one point of the Notre Dame team before the latter scored. Once they got their eye on the basket again, Notre Dame again forged ahead and won easily.

Wabash 22; DePauw 28

The second DePauw game played at Greencastle proved to be a rather listless affair with neither team showing much ability at hitting the basket. The game was even until the last seven minutes of play. Wabash tied the score with seven minutes to go, but DePauw came through with the baskets that cinched the game for them. Wabash played a strong defensive game, but their offensive was feeble throughout the contest.

McCorkle

Wabash 29; Butler 37

A crowd of two thousand frenzied fans saw Wabash battle the strong Butler quintet on even terms until the closing minutes of play, and then let the ever elusive victory slip from their grasp. The Little Giants led by Robinson and DeVol kept within striking distance of the Bulldogs at all times, but were never able to take the lead.

Butler took an early lead, led by Chadd who covered the floor in a brilliant manner and hit baskets from all angles. Wabash fought doggedly and at the half was trailing by four points. In the second half Wabash fought even more desperately, matching Butler point for point until the closing minutes when Butler grabbed an eight point lead and held it.

Thompson

Wabash 23; Notre Dame 25

The Notre Dame game played at South Bend brought the Wabash losing streak to five games. Wabash continued the sensational playing that featured their work in the Butler battle, and gave the Catholics the scare of their lives.

Wabash took the lead at the start of the game and led throughout. Captain Robinson gave one of the greatest exhibitions of offensive basketball of the season. The red headed leader scored fourteen of Wabash's twenty-three points. With only seconds to go and a Wabash victory apparently certain, Notre Dame snagged two long baskets that gave them the victory.

Wabash 28; Manchester 22

Manchester the only undefeated team in the state, conquerors of Butler and Franklin, were the next opponents of the Scarlet, but were no match for the rejuvenated Little Giant quintet. The highly touted visitors brought a fast, husky outfit to Crawfordsville, but they seemed to be troubled with stage fright, and their shots at the basket were decidedly inaccurate.

The only Manchester player who lived up to reputation was Kraning, giant forward. The big boy was all over the court, seeming to be everywhere at once, and it was very evident that both Manchester defense and offense were built around him. Opposing Kraning were five fighting Little Giants each of whom played brilliantly at all times.

Wabash 45; State Normal 25

Imbued with the winning spirit for the first time during the season the Little Giants won their second consecutive game at the expense of the State Normal squad. Wabash anticipated a hard battle, but the Normalites failed to live up to their reputation, and proved to be no match for Wabash.

The first half was closely contested. The Little Giants seemed unable to acclimate themselves to the State Normal floor and had difficulty in getting their passing game started. The half ended with Wabash leading by a small margin. The second half saw the Scarlet, led by Thompson and DeVol, score baskets at will, and the game soon developed into a walk-away.

Wabash 25; Butler 27

And then came the high point of the Wabash schedule: the Butler game played on the Cattle Barn floor at Indianapolis. Staging a spectacular uphill battle, Wabash came from far behind to tie the score at twenty-five all with one minute to go. In that final minute a pass to Nipper and Wakefield, and a perfect shot by the latter gave Butler the two points necessary for their victory.

At the start of the game things looked easy for the Bulldogs, and they romped through the Scarlet defense for fifteen points, while the best Wabash could do was three points. Wabash called time out and talked things over. When play was resumed Wabash commenced to make things interesting for Butler. Robinson snagged two field goals, and a foul goal, and DeVol scored a short basket. Butler made one field goal during this time, and the half ended 17 to 10.

Dinwiddie

In the second half, with Captain Robinson shooting from all angles, Wabash gradually pulled up on Butler. With a little over a minute to go Robinson caged a brilliant one-handed shot from the side of the floor for the points that tied the game. What happened then has been told at the first of the article. Although Wabash lost they made one of the gamest fights, in the face of almost unsurmountable odds, that any basketball team has ever made. The work of Captain Robinson was beautiful. The red headed star never gave up and fought with a rare courage until the last. And he was able assisted by the six other Wabash men who saw action.

Edwards

Wabash 21; Franklin 34

The final game of the season against Franklin gave Wabash rooters little chance for hilarity. Franklin was on, and Wabash was off. Five shots in the first four minutes of play and five field goals for Franklin tell the story of the defeat. With a ten point lead Franklin played carefully and took no chances. Occasional flashes of brilliant dribbling by Robinson and spectacular long shooting by DeVol were the redeeming features of the game for Wabash. It was the final game for Captain Robinson, Thompson, Edwards, and Englehardt. They all gave their best, but Franklin was just too good.

The Season

The season was marked this year by unusual support from the people of Crawfordsville, a large number turning out for each home game, and many journeying out of town for the nearby contests. In addition to this, the student body was consistent in its hearty backing of the team, a good feature in a season so full of surprises and reverses.

Probably the feature game of the season was the Butler contest in Indianapolis, although the Scarlet was sent home two points shorter in the scoring than the Bulldogs. When Wabash started its rally in the second half and flashed into winning distance of the Bulldogs, more than one Crawfordsville family heard the frenzied cheering over radio.

A notable example of support for the team was given by the students and townspeople during the Manchester game. Manchester came to Crawfordsville, a highly-touted five. Manchester left Crawfordsville, a badly beaten five—beaten because the students and other spectators backed a flashy five the whole game.

A heart-rending feature of this year's season was the number of games lost by a one or two point margin; games in which a lucky basket near the final gun cost Wabash a victory.

Features of the year were the playing of Robinson and DeVol, Englehardt's eye for long baskets, and the rapid development of McCorkle to one of the best back guards in the State.

Cowan

Inasmuch as practically all of this year's quintet will be in college next year, the season should be a successful one for the Scarlet. Thompson, Englehardt, and perhaps Robinson, will be the only men lost by graduation.

The schedule, although not yet intact, promises to be a heavy one, with the Little Giants playing several Big Ten schools.

Wabash in the past has always had one of the most feared basketball combinations in the state, and there seems to be no reason to suspect that she will fail that reputation for the season of 1926-27.

THE RHYNIE BASKETBALL SQUAD
 THIRD ROW—Sites, Adams, Thornburg, Chilcott.
 SECOND ROW—Greene, Oren, Taylor, Miller.
 FIRST ROW—Bayer, Kistler, Fisher, Snell.

Freshman Basketball

Although it won but one game of the three played, Coach Huffine developed a formidable five. The two losses occurred on days when the frosh team was off form and its opponents were on.

WABASH 25; DEPAUW 22

In their first game, the Scarlet rhynies took a lead against DePauw at the start. At the half they were two points ahead.

The game was marked by the Scarlet defense and its smooth offense. Harbison and Henderson were high point men, with Taylor starring on defense. This was the first time that the Wabash freshmen have beaten the DePauw freshmen.

WABASH 37; FRANKLIN 42

This game was evenly fought during the first half and at its conclusion the score was knotted at 25 all. During the half both teams used a short passing game.

The second half started out to be a repetition of the first until the closing minutes when Franklin "got hot" on long shots and pulled away for a five point lead. Both teams had a good offense, but poor defense. Bowen and Adams starred.

WABASH 26; STATE NORMAL 50

Taking a sound trouncing from the State Normal quintet, the Wabash rhynies went down to a 50-26 defeat at Terre Haute.

At the half Wabash was trailing 20 points, and Normal was outplaying the Scarlet frosh in all departments of the game. Wabash was way off form, while Normal made baskets from all angles. Adams was best for Wabash.

NUMERAL MEN

Bowen, Henderson, Thornburg, Oren, White, Greene, Bayer, Harbison, Fix, Adams, Taylor, Brooks.

BASEBALL

Dean's Park—The Scene of the Scarlet Home Games.

BATTING AND FIELDING AVERAGES OF THE WABASH BASEBALL TEAM 1925

NAME	A.B.	R.	H.	Avg.	O.	A.	E.	Avg.
Melson, (3b)	70	11	19	.271	15	37	7	.881
Dale, (ss)	66	11	19	.257	34	45	15	.840
Burdette, (lf)	66	10	21	.318	32	1	2	.943
Wyatt, (1b)	56	13	13	.232	172	7	11	.943
Coffell, (cf)	59	13	18	.303	22	1	2	.920
Englehardt, (2b)	61	12	19	.310	52	57	8	.932
Smith, (rf)	23	3	7	.304	15	0	1	.937
Chew, (Capt.) (c)	49	8	10	.204	79	15	4	.959
Robertson, (p)	43	6	10	.232	3	29	3	.915
Warner, (p)	12	0	0	.000	0	6	0	1.000
Thompson, (utl.)	21	3	4	.190	23	0	1	.960
Cripe, (cf)	28	4	6	.214	11	0	1	.917
DeVol, (c)	12	1	4	.333	15	4	2	.906
Veazy, (utl.)	8	1	1	.166	2	0	0	1.000

EXTRA BASE HITS

Doubles: Dale 3; Thompson 1; Wyatt 2; DeVol 1; Englehardt 3; Smith 3; Melson 1; Coffell 1.

Triples: Coffell 1; Melson 2; Robertson 1; Burdette 1.

Home Runs: Coffell 2; Veazy 1; Wyatt 1; Dale 1.

STOLEN BASES

Wyatt 6; Cripe 5; Burdette 9; Dale 4; Coffell 3; Melson 3; Englehardt 3; DeVol 1; Robertson 1; Chew 1.

Scholler
Coach

Chew
Captain

TOP ROW—Cripe, Coffell, Thompson, Burdette, Wyatt.
 SECOND ROW—Scholler (Coach), Smith, DeVol, Warner, Robertson, Chew (Captain).
 BOTTOM ROW—Dale, Veazy, Melson, Englehardt, Labavitch.

The Record

Wabash. 6	Purdue U.. 0	Wabash. 1	Notre Dame. 2
Wabash. 9	Prest-O-Lites. 1	Wabash. 6	Notre Dame. 9
Wabash. 8	Purdue U.. 2	Wabash. 4	Rose Poly, 2
Wabash. 12	Rose Poly, 1	Wabash. 1	DePauw. 1
Wabash. 5	State Normal. 1	Wabash. 10	Indiana U.. 7
Wabash. 3	Prest-O-Lites. 9	Wabash. 4	Indiana U.. 3
Wabash. 6	Prest-O-Lites. 2	Wabash. 5	Butler. 1
Wabash. 2	Butler. 3	Wabash. 4	DePauw, 4 (12 innings)
Wabash. 12		State Normal. 13

Englehardt
Captain-elect

Letter Men

Chew, (Captain)	Warner
Wyatt	Burdette
Dale	Coffell
Englehardt	Smith
Melson	DeVol
Robertson	Cripe

Thompson

Burdette
Leading Slugger

Wabash 6; Purdue 0

Superb pitching by Robertson, hard and timely hitting by his teammates, and some beautiful defensive work, enabled Wabash to cop the opening game of the 1925 season from Purdue by a 6 to 0 score. The Purdue team was completely helpless before the masterful pitching of Robertson, and at no time did it threaten to score.

The scoring started in the fifth inning when Wabash counted twice. A single, an infield out, and two errors, permitted two Wabash runners to scamper across the plate. More Purdue errors and a clean hit gave the Scarlet two more in the seventh frame, and four solid hits accounted for the remaining runs in the ninth.

Wabash 9; Prest-O-Lites 4

Wabash stepped out of the realms of college baseball on Tuesday, April 7, when it played the Prest-O-Lites, amateur champions of Indianapolis. The Prestos put up a high class brand of ball but were no match for the Little Giants who came through with a cleancut 9 to 4 victory.

Five solid hits good for five runs in the first inning gave the Scarlet a safe lead and they were never headed. Robertson pitched steadily for Wabash, and the entire team hit the ball hard.

Wabash 8; Purdue 2

Robertson

Some ragged work on the part of the Purdue infield coupled with hard hitting by the Wabash players gave the Little Giants an 8 to 2 victory over the Boilermakers in the second college game of the season. The Little Giants had their batting togs on, and hammered the offerings of both Purdue hurlers with apparent ease. Not until the very last of the game, when the Scarlet began to ease up under the certainty of victory, could the Boilermakers score.

The game was all Wabash from start to finish, and it was just another example of the fact that Wabash can more than hold her own against her supposedly stronger Conference opponents. In turning back Purdue for the second time of the year, Robertson pitched a superb game and was never in danger of defeat.

The superb defensive play of Wabash featured the game.

The infield in particular played sensationally. On two different occasions Robertson's wildness put him in a hole, but both times fast double plays by Dale, Englehardt and Fred Wyatt saved the sturdy hurler. While Wabash players went errorless in the field they committed several offenses on the bases which cut down their chances to score. Burdette, Wyatt, and Thompson led in the Wabash attack.

Wabash 12; Rose Poly 1

Warner took the mound against Rose and turned in one of the best pitched games of the season. Four scratch hits and one run represented the sum total of the afternoon's work for the Rose batters. Eight times during the game Rose men fanned the air.

Bennie DeVol featured the Scarlet attack with four hits in as many trips to the plate. Eleven stolen bases credited to Wabash men had much to do with the size of the score.

Wabash 5; State Normal 1

Playing a brilliant defensive game and showing a powerful offensive, the Little Giants slipped and slid to a muddy 5 to 1 victory over the State Normal team. Robertson was in fine form, holding the Normalites well in hand at all times.

The Little Giant victory was due to its ability to hit in the pinches. Jimmy Dale led the Scarlet sluggers with four safeties in five trips to the plate, while Coffel and Wyatt each connected with two safeties. Wyatt contributed some clever work in the infield.

Wabash 3; Prest-O-Lites 9

After playing consistent ball in the first five games of the season the Little Giants showed a complete reversal of form in the Prest-O-Lite game, losing by a 9 to 3 score. Warner pitched the entire game for Wabash, and some solid hitting by his opponents, coupled with ragged support caused the downfall. Englehardt and Dale were the only Wabash players who were able to solve the delivery of the Presto hurler.

Warner

Wabash 6: Prest-O-Lites 2

Wabash won the deciding game of the Prest-O-Lite series by a 6 to 2 score. The game was a pitching duel between Robertson and Gilbert, the Presto hurler. Two home runs by Coffel and one by Veazy were the deciding factors in the victory.

The Little Giants were back in form after their ragged exhibition against the Prestos the preceding week, and the entire team supported "Robbie" brilliantly throughout the contest.

Wabash 2; Butler 3

That sleek little animal known as the Butler "jinx" after six months of inactivity, made its appearance in the first game played against Butler. Wabash 2, Butler 3, ten innings was the result of the jinx' labors for the afternoon. Try as they might the Little Giants were unable to overcome the combined efforts of the Bull Dog diamond artists and the aforementioned jinx, and after two hours of bitter fighting the Scarlet was forced to acknowledge defeat.

It was the first defeat for Robertson in twenty starts and it was a tough one for the little hurler to lose. Six hits, and three runs were all the Butler outfit was able to show for its afternoon's work, but those three runs were just enough to send the Scarlet home on the short end of the score.

Coffel

Wabash 1; Notre Dame 2

Too much Beston is the whole story of the Wabash defeat at the hands of Notre Dame. Beston was the whole show for the Catholic aggregation. Aside from holding the Scarlet to two hits and one run, the big pitcher connected for two hits in four trips to the plate, one of which was a clean drive over the center field for a home run, which proved to be the margin of victory for the South Bend team.

Wabash scored its lone run in the last half of the seventh. A walk, a hit batsman, and two sacrifices accounted for the Wabash score. Notre Dame won the game in the eighth inning when a single and a long triple scored a run. A world of credit for the low score goes to Robertson. Although Notre Dame hit him rather freely, the little hurler tightened down in the pinches, and was invincible except in the eighth inning. Wyatt and Melson garnered the two Wabash hits.

Wabash 6; Notre Dame 9

Terrific hitting by both teams featured the Notre Dame game played at South Bend. The Wabash sluggers came out of their batting slump with a crash, nine solid hits, one of them a home run, accounted for six runs, but Notre Dame amassed fourteen hits and nine runs for a clean cut victory.

For the first four innings it was a pitchers' battle, neither team being able to score. In the fifth Wabash bunched hits and scored three runs to drive Dawes, the Notre Dame hurler to cover. The Catholic aggregation came back with one run in the fifth and then tied the score in the sixth inning when clean hits scored two runs.

The lucky seventh opened auspiciously for the Little Giants. Three hits accounted for two runs and it looked as if the Scarlet was headed for victory. Its hopes were short lived, however, for in the last of the seventh, the Notre Dame hitters got to Robertson and the entire Wabash team seemed to go to pieces. Before they settled down again five Notre Dame runs had been chased across the plate and the game was lost.

Robertson pitched the entire game for Wabash and was pounded to all corners of the lot, while Beston and Dawes, the Notre Dame hurlers, were not much better. All in all it was a great day for batting averages, but it was a hard one for pitchers. The defensive work of Chew featured the contest.

Wabash 4; Rose Poly 2

Rose Poly brought a far different team to Crawfordsville from the one that opposed the Scarlet earlier in the season, and Wabash was forced to extend itself to score a 4 to 2 victory. Warner started against Rose Poly for the second time of the season, and he proved to be as much of a puzzle to the visiting batters as ever.

The defensive work of the Wabash team was the best of the year, but the men continued to show a lack of ability at the plate. Burdette and Englehardt were again the best of the Scarlet hitters and divided four of the seven Wabash hits.

Wabash 1; DePauw 4

One inning of loose defensive work and nine innings of feeble work at the plate cost Wabash the first DePauw game. Mass, the Tiger pitcher, was a complete mystery to the Scarlet batters throughout the contest. Wabash had men on bases in nearly every inning but was unable to hit in the pinches.

It was the old story of a good team beating a better one. Aside from the fifth inning when DePauw scored three runs it was anybody's game. The only Wabash score came in the fourth inning when Wyatt crashed the ball over the centerfield fence for a home run. Melson with two, and Burdette with one, were the other Wabash men to hit safely.

Wyatt

Wabash 10; Indiana 7

Defeated four times in the last five starts, and facing a team touted to be one of the best in the Conference, the Little Giants were conceded, by critics, to be in for a beating. They had not, however, considered the traditional Wabash fight, and the Little Giants, disregarding all dope, pounded three Indiana pitchers for a well-earned 10 to 7 victory.

Indiana never had a chance. Wabash was fighting mad and the Indiana pitchers were the ones to suffer. Coach Dean, of Indiana used three pitchers in a vain endeavor to stop the avalanche of Wabash hits, but the Scarlet was not to be denied.

Indiana opened the scoring in the first inning when a walk, an infield out, and a clean hit accounted for one run. The Scarlet tied it up in the last half of the second. A hit and three walks scoring the run.

Both teams crossed the plate twice in the fourth inning. Englehardt's single, a walk, an infield out, and Melson's double accounting for the Wabash runs.

Five runs in the sixth inning clinched the game for Wabash. Four clean hits, two walks, and an error scored the runs. The Scarlet added two more for good measure in the next inning. A hit by Chew, an error, and a long single by Burdette gave Wabash the two runs.

It was a great day for Wabash, and the game was a fine tribute to the fighting spirit of the team. All of the Wabash players hit the ball hard, while Englehardt kept the stands in a constant turmoil with his clever work around the keystone sack.

Wabash 4; Indiana 3

Smith

With Robertson pitching perfect ball and the whole team supporting him in brilliant manner, Wabash defeated Indiana for the second time in a week. The final score was 4 to 3. Woodward, the Indiana pitching ace, although he pitched a beautiful game, was unfortunate in being pitted against a pitcher of equal skill, and as is always the case under these circumstances, the breaks decided the winner.

The first and third innings saw Wabash score all four of its runs. In the first inning Woodward passed two men and gave two hits that accounted for two runs. In the third frame two more passes intermingled with two infield outs placed men on second and third, with Dale at bat. He came through with a long hit to left center that scored both runners.

It was Woodward's own wildness that put Scarlet runners in position to score. Jimmie Dale was the hero of the day for the Scarlet. The little shortstop came through with two clean hits that scored three of Wabash's four runs, his long double in the third inning scoring the winning runs.

Wabash 5; Butler 1

In a winning mood, by virtue of the two fine vicories over Indiana, the Little Giants hopped on Butler with vengeance, and handed the Bull Dogs a sound wallop. Wabash was never in danger. She grabbed a one run lead in the first inning and was never headed.

The most frantic efforts of the jinx brought no results. The entire Butler team was helpless. Their highly touted sluggers failed to slug, and Euwing, Butler's pitching ace, failed to ace. Even Griggs failed to come through in the pinches.

Coffel was instrumental in the victory with three clean hits, one of them a double with the bases full that accounted for three runs. Burdette contributed two hits as his part in making the final score 5 to 1.

Wabash 4; DePauw 4

Bitter memories of the defeat handed them by the Tigers earlier in the season still lingered in the minds of the Little Giants and they were imbued with a determination to win, but after twelve innings of play the comparative strength of the two teams was as much in doubt as ever, and the game was called with the score tied.

The Scarlet outhit its ancient rivals, made fewer errors, but it was unable to push over the deciding run. Both Robertson and Maas were hit rather freely, but when hits meant runs neither team was able to connect with the ball. The large crowd that gathered to witness the contest was disappointed at the outcome.

Wabash 12; State Normal 13

The final game of the year played against State Normal, was typical of the entire season. One minute the Scarlet would look like a million, the next it would make the rankest of bonehead plays. Good baseball was intermingled with bad, and the final score was in doubt until the last man was out in the tenth inning.

All in all it was a weird exhibition of the great national pastime. Wabash hit the ball harder than at any other time during the season, but it was woefully weak on defense. The offense, led by Coffel with four hits, and Burdette, Smith, and Englehardt, with three safeties apiece, contributed sixteen hits and twelve runs.

This fine offensive work, however, was more than counterbalanced by ragged defensive playing. Thirteen State Normal hits, and five glaring errors on the part of the Wabash team, brought about the downfall of the Scarlet.

Dale

A View through the Campus

Freshman Baseball

Wabash was represented by one of the strongest Freshman baseball squads in the state last spring. Coach Huffine had charge of the yearlings and developed a smooth working machine that was capable of giving the varsity a good battle, and that won the only intercollegiate games played. The work of the pitching staff in particular gave much promise for the future.

Freshmen 2-DePauw 1

Some timely hitting by Merkley and Zink, and fine pitching by Geraldeau, proved the undoing of the DePauw frosh in the first game of the series. Geraldeau held the Tiger Cubs to three hits and one run, while the Scarlet yearlings collected five safe blows good for two runs. DePauw scored its only run in the third inning, and Wabash two in the eighth frame.

Gordon, Capt.

Freshmen 7-DePauw 4

In the second DePauw game the Scarlet showed much improvement in hitting, scoring seven runs by virtue of nine clean hits. Rush was on the mound for Wabash and held the Tigers well in check at all times. DePauw's six hits were good for four runs.

TRACK, MINOR,
AND INTRA MURAL
SPORTS

Track, 1925

ILLINOIS RELAY

Gustafson
Captain

In years past Little Giant relay teams have established an enviable reputation for themselves at the Illinois Relay Carnivals, never failing to win at least one event. This year's team lived up to the reputation established by preceding teams when it stepped the two mile medley relay in 8:27.6 seconds, winning the event handily.

Wabash was also represented in the mile and two-mile relays but failed to place in the money in either event.

Gustafson the first Wabash runner secured a six yard lead, and the Wabash team did not relinquish it at any stage of the race. In fact it steadily increased the lead and when Johnson, the last Scarlet runner breasted the tape he was a half a lap ahead of the field.

THE DRAKE RELAY

One-tenth of a second! A scant space of time, but to the Wabash two-mile medley relay team, that fraction of a second meant the difference between victory and defeat. Running the medley in 7:43.9, the Butler relay entry in the Drake carnival beat Wabash to the tape by less than two feet. The Scarlet finished in 7:44, one-tenth of a second behind.

The finish was one of the most spectacular witnessed at the meet, and coming, as it did, in the last event on Friday, brought the first day of the meet to a thrilling close. Sweeney, Nichols, Gustafson, and Johnson ran for Wabash. Both Butler and Wabash broke the American record for the distance.

WABASH 83; EARLHAM 43

Winning eleven firsts, and tying for first in another event Wabash easily won the first dual track meet of the season, by the lop-sided score of 83 to 43. The Little Giants clearly displayed their superiority over the Quakers in both track and field events, and the outcome of the meet was never in doubt.

The work of Krider in the weights, Sweeney in the dashes and the broad jump, and Sammy Johnson in the distance runs was the feature of the meet. Parker, Earlham quarter miler, won the only first place of the day for Earlham when he breasted the tape a winner in the quarter of a mile dash.

Johnson

WABASH 57; BRADLEY TECH. 69

On the first day of May the Wabash track squad, composed of fourteen men traveled to Peoria, Ill., for the second track meet of the season. Bradley with a squad of eighty-five men was able to enter fresh men in nearly every event, while each Wabash man was entered in at least three events. This superiority in numbers enabled the Bradley team to nose out the Scarlet by a 69 to 57 score.

Krider

Canine, Johnson, Peare, and Krider took firsts for Wabash. Sammy Johnson was the individual star of the meet, winning the mile and two-mile easily. The prettiest race of the day was the quarter mile run, Captain Gustafson, of Wabash, and Cole, of Bradley, tying for first place.

Whitacre

WABASH 63; MARQUETTE 63

Worn out from the hard meet against Bradley the preceding day, and the long trip to Milwaukee, the Little Giants clashed with Marquette on Saturday, May the second. The meet was closely contested from the first, and ended in a 63 to 63 tie. Inability to take second and third places cost Wabash the meet. Sweeney and Canine with two firsts apiece were the leaders for Wabash.

The Relay Team

WABASH 66; DEPAUW 59

The final dual meet of the season was held on Ingalls Field, with DePauw as the opponents. Fighting desperately for every point the Little Giants came through with a clean-cut victory. The outcome of the meet was not decided until the final event, the broad jump. Wabash had to take third place at least to win the meet, and succeeded in taking both second and third, thereby clinching the meet.

Sweeney, who garnered eighteen points, was the particular star of the day for Wabash. The little star shone brilliantly throughout the meet, winning first place in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, and second place in the broad jump.

LITTLE STATE MEET

Smashing five records, winning more firsts than any other team in the meet, and then losing the title, were the results of the Little State track and field meet, as far as Wabash was concerned.

From the very first the outstanding athletes were Wabash men, and it soon developed that Wabash and DePauw would fight it out for first place. With only the relay to run the Scarlet was in the lead. Wabash runners had broken records and set up new Little State marks, but the effort had worn them to the point of exhaustion, and the Scarlet relay team finished fourth, DePauw getting second and winning the meet, 47 to 44 $\frac{3}{4}$ . Butler was third and Earlham fourth.

First places won by Wabash were as follows: Johnson in the mile and two-mile runs (new records); Gustafson in the half-mile run; Canine in the 120-yard high hurdles; Sweeney in the 440-yard dash; Robinson in the pole-vault; and Krider in the discus throw.

STATE TRACK MEET

Notre Dame, the peer of Indiana college and university track teams in recent years, again proved itself to be without equal in state track circles, winning the State Meet with 43 1-7 points. Wabash put up a hard fight for points, but Sammy Johnson was the only Scarlet track man to cop a first, Wabash finishing fifth in the meet with 19 points. DePauw nosed the Little Giants out of fourth position, scoring 9-14 of a point more than the Scarlet.

The Wabash scores in the meet were as follows: Johnson first in the two-mile, and second in the mile; Sweeney third in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and second in the broad jump; Krider third in the javelin throw; Canine fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles; and Gustafson fourth in the half-mile run.

Sweeney

Robinson

Howard

Robinson

Denny

Tennis 1925

Wabash 2; Manchester 4

The opening meet of the Wabash tennis season was played against Manchester College on the local court. The Wabash team did remarkably well considering the fact that two of the mainstays of the team were out with sickness and the short spring practice had scarcely afforded the men sufficient time to round into shape.

Captain Hadley and Denny proved the strongest for Wabash, winning their singles matches. Both Howard and Yockey played good tennis, but they met with experienced opposition that could not be turned back. Both doubles matches were lost.

Wabash 2; DePauw 4

The second meet of the season was lost to DePauw by the same score as the Manchester meet. The DePauw racquet wielders won both doubles matches and broke even with the Scarlet in the singles. As in the first meet the weakness of the doubles teams proved the downfall of the Little Giants. Denny and Yockey won their singles matches while Robinson and Captain Hadley lost.

Wabash 2; DePauw 3

The tennis team, crippled by the loss of Denny, who was out because of injury, lost a hard fought meet to the DePauw team. It was the last dual meet of the season, and every match was close and hotly contested. Captain Hadley defeated Thompson of DePauw, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1. The two captains staged the flashiest and fastest match of the afternoon. The other player to win was Robinson, who defeated Lockwood, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2. Red's steadiness proved to be the deciding factor.

Midwest Intercollegiate Tennis Meet

For the first time in recent years Wabash was represented by a tennis team at the Midwest Meet at Chicago. Captain Ben Hadley and George Denny were the Wabash representatives. The two Little Giant stars won their "W's" by winning their way into the third round of the doubles tournament.

In the first round of doubles matches Hadley and Denny took Centilevre and Donovan of Notre Dame by defaults. In the second round the doubles team defeated the Michigan stars Kirkbaum and Vose, in hard fought matches, 10-8, 6-4. This victory placed Wabash in the third round where it lost.

Letters are not awarded to tennis players at Wabash, unless the team defeats a Big Ten school, and this year was the first in recent tennis history that "W's" have been awarded.

'Varsity Golf, 1925

Shideler

The spring of 1925 marked the first time that Wabash had ever been represented in Indiana intercollegiate golf circles. Early in the spring all of the men in college interested in the game competed in an all college golf tournament. The men making the best showing in this tournament were chosen for the varsity team. The men were: Denny, Gerard, Mountain, Shideler, and Martin. Gerard was elected captain.

In the opening match of the season Wabash showed unlooked for strength, defeating the Indiana University team by a 13 to 6 score. The match was played by Conference rules, the Nassau system. Shideler, Gerard, and Mountain, with six, five, and two points respectively, played the best games for Wabash.

DePauw furnished the opposition in the second match of the season, and was sent home on the short end of a 16 to 6 score. Captain Gerard and Shideler played the best for the Scarlet, Gerard turning in the low score of the match, 77.

A 13 to 6 victory over DePauw at Greencastle concluded a most successful season for the Little Giant golfers. The match was never in doubt as Wabash was unquestionably the master from the start.

At the first Intercollegiate Golf Tournament held at Terre Haute on the 11th, 12th, and 13th of June, Wabash was represented by three men, Mountain, Denny, and Martin. Captain Gerard and Shideler were unable to be present, and their absence prevented Wabash from entering the team play. All three of Wabash's entrants qualified for the finals.

In the first round matches, Martin and Denny won, and Mountain was defeated in nineteen holes. Martin lost in the second round, but Denny stayed in the running by virtue of his victory over Moag of DePauw. Denny then fought his way into the finals by defeating Redding of Indiana.

The match for the state college championship was the most sensational of the of the entire meet. Wrasse of Purdue won the title defeating Denny, the Little Giant entrant, one up in thirty-six holes. Denny broke the record for the first nine holes in the afternoon.

Golf is rapidly gaining favor as an intercollegiate sport and competition between the Scarlet golfers is growing keener.

Up to the present time no official insignia has been designed as a mark of recognition for varsity representatives of the game. It is hoped, however, that the athletic department in the future will see fit to give Wabash golfers some suitable award.

It is to be noted that at the present time many winners of tournament play have been drawn from the ranks of collegiate golfers. The Wabash representatives have made fine showings in all of their matches, and those remaining for this year's play will bear watching.

Gerard, last year's captain, Denny, and Mountain will be eligible this year, Shideler having been the only member of the quartet lost by graduation.

Although a schedule of play has not yet been announced, undoubtedly one will be soon.

Mountain

Gerard

Denny

Intramural Sports

In the year of 1925-26 intramural athletics at Wabash reached their peak. Under the leadership of Dr. B. H. Grave intramural sports have become an important part of Wabash life. During the last year competition between the various organizations has been keen in every line of sport; more men have participated in the sports than ever before; and the student attendance at every contest has been remarkable. For the first time in the history of intramural athletics at Wabash a large loving cup will be awarded to the organization making the best all around record. This award, with the smaller trophies awarded in each branch of athletics, does much toward holding student interest.

The basketball league conducted during the past winter was most successful. A class of basketball seldom seen in intramural athletics was played by all of the teams. For the third time in the last four years Sigma Chi finished on top of the heap. They went through the season with a record of nine victories and one defeat. The Commons Club were the runners-up, and were not put out of the running until the final game of the regular schedule when they were defeated by Sigma Chi by the score of 26 to 19.

Following the close of the basketball league, the indoor baseball league was run off and the Karnaks won it handily, defeating the Delts 12 to 1 in the final game. H. McDougall, star Karnak hurler, won his way into the intramural hall of fame by letting the Delts down without a hit. The only Delt run of the game came by virtue of a walk and three stolen bases. The Karnak hitters went on a batting rampage and hammered Halsey, the Delt pitcher, for 15 hits and 12 runs. The offensive feature of the game was a smashing home run with two men on base, by "SPEED MARTIN." McDougall, besides pitching a no-hit game, led the Karnak sluggers with four clean hits in as many trips to the pan.

In the intramural bowling competition, the championship was won by Phi Gamma Delta, by virtue of its defeating Phi Delta Theta in the final match.

As The Wabash goes to press before the annual intramural track meet, always a feature of the year, it is impossible to give an account of it. Suffice it to say that it will be a success.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL SCORING RECORDS AND HIGH POINT MEN

Team	Baskets	Foul Goals	Totals	Rank	Name
Lambda Chi	34	14	82	1	Adams
Delta Tau	28	8	64	2	Viner
Sigma Chi	29	5	63	3	Henderson
Phi Gam	25	11	61	4	Merkley
Phi Sig	27	7	61	5	Oren
Kappa Sigma	27	7	61	6	H. Kistler
Independent	24	10	58	7	Taylor
Commons Club	25	4	54	8	Bayer
Beta Theta Pi	25	4	54	9	Gordon
Sigma Chi	21	9	51	10	Hanlin

James H. Martin
Student Manager

Dr. B. H. Grave
Head of Intramural Athletics

FRATERNITIES

The Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan Council is composed of one representative from each of the seven national fraternities. The following men were chosen by their respective organizations to serve during the current year:

OFFICERS

F. C. Schuller	- - - - -	President
M. M. Edwards	- - - - -	Vice-President
R. E. Khuon	- - - - -	Secretary-Treasurer

Beta Theta Pi .....	C. H. Englehardt
Phi Delta Theta .....	F. C. Schuller
Phi Gamma Delta .....	DeWitt O'Kieffe
Delta Tau Delta .....	H. D. Crisler
Sigma Chi .....	C. L. Davis
Kappa Sigma .....	M. M. Edwards
Lambda Chi Alpha .....	R. E. Khuon

The function of this Council is to formulate and enforce rules in regard to freshman pledging and initiating.

Each year the council acts as the committee in charge of the Pan dances, and makes the necessary arrangements for them.

In short, all matters affecting the national fraternities in regard to their relations with each other are under the jurisdiction of this body.

The Council is especially valuable in its functioning as it prevents the taking of unfair advantage of one fraternity by some other.

The Pan Council recently passed a measure which provided for the annual rough work of initiation to come the first week of the second semester.

Founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, August 8, 1839
 Tau Chapter Established in 1846
 Official Publication: Beta Theta Pi
 Colors: Pink and Blue
 Flower: American Beauty Rose

Frater in Facultate
 Professor James Insley Osborne

Fratres in Urbe

H. E. Green
 I. C. Elston
 S. A. Trout

J. A. Trout
 A. R. Herron
 P. R. Johnson

A. A. McCain
 H. T. Ristine
 M. H. Jones

Fratres in Collegio
Seniors

F. T. McCain, Jr.
 C. H. Englehardt

J. M. Potts
 G. S. Funk

W. A. Frazee
 C. E. Cords

Juniors

G. H. Denny
 A. T. Brown

P. B. Schaff
 W. P. Croxton

C. E. Black

Sophomores

M. H. Rush
 F. H. Gordon

H. J. Moeslein
 T. M. Link

R. O. Franklin
 F. M. Millikan

Freshmen

W. H. Pierce
 W. K. Trusty
 W. L. Perkins
 M. R. Alexander
 H. E. Kimes
 H. P. Berkey
 E. N. Beesley
 J. W. Woods
 A. J. Daugherty
 D. A. Endicott
 *J. A. Price
 *C. Gueu'al

*—Pledges

Founded at Miami University, Oxford Ohio, December 26, 1848

Indiana Beta Chapter Established in 1850

Official Publication: The Scroll

Colors: White and Blue

Flower: White Carnation

Frater in Facultate

Professor Charles Henry Oldfather

Fratres in Urbe

F. C. Evans
M. E. Cochran
L. E. Devore
B. C. Evans
F. P. McNutt
J. L. Neal
W. H. Ristine

W. M. Curtis
C. N. McClamrock
F. C. Stout
A. L. Loop
W. W. Washburn
J. A. Clements
W. A. Collings

F. G. Davidson
W. F. Sharpe
T. H. Ristine
W. H. Linn
T. L. Neal
J. D. Fisher

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

F. H. McMillan
F. L. Thompson

D. P. Sherman
F. C. Schuller
H. L. Veazy

G. W. McClelland
D. J. E. Kemper

Juniors

T. P. Leitzell
W. T. Leverenz, Jr.

F. B. Brown

E. L. Yerger
B. H. Gerard

Sophomores

C. G. Dryer
L. H. Urschell
D. S. Davis
G. O. Hurley
E. H. Davis
H. Lyons
B. F. Suverkrup

Freshmen

B. B. Gerard
J. P. Mullin
D. J. Terborgh
R. C. Workman
P. H. Johnson
L. J. Ray
R. Meredith
B. B. Stegemeyer
J. C. Siddall
I. F. Hunter
R. T. Miller
C. F. Davis
*L. R. Weiss
*Max Hixon

*—Pledges

Founded at Washington and Jefferson College, April 22, 1848

Psi Chapter Established in 1866

Official Publication: The Phi Gamma Delta

Colors: Royal Purple

Flower: Heliotrope

Fratres in Urbe

C. V. Peterson
R. H. Tinsley
G. S. McCluer
M. B. Roundtree
C. B. Washburn

P. Stump
E. C. Van der Volgen
B. H. Myers
E. C. Davis
W. T. Miller

R. H. Trout
E. H. O'Neill
E. N. Brown
H. W. Duckworth
G. S. Harney

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

DeWitt O'Kieffe

G. W. Thompson

D. R. Vorce

Juniors

E. D. Bergen
C. C. Parr
J. L. Emery
R. E. Hines

B. E. McConnell
G. H. Helm
W. H. Howard

C. C. Weber
B. F. Sowers
D. W. Merkley
F. O. McClellan

Sophomores

W. L. Daves
H. T. Shea

G. H. Emery
C. G. Bomberger

T. H. Lathrop
J. E. Pietzuch

Freshmen

F. W. Dunihue
N. Pickett
*W. Thornburg
*H. Wagner
J. H. Miles
P. F. Fix
*E. Flannigan
*I. B. Jones
*R. Smith
R. Wolf
S. F. James
*R. Hickman
*C. Riley
*W. Mendenhall

*—Pledges

Founded at Bethany College, W. Va., February, 1859
 Beta Psi Chapter Founded in 1872
 Official Publication: The Rainbow
 Colors: Purple, White and Gold
 Flower: Pansy

Frater in Facultate
 Karl Burdette Huffine

Fratres in Urbe

J. A. Booe, Jr.
 Jesse Inlow
 F. A. Schultz
 A. M. Crawford
 Dr. I. A. Detchon

K. B. Huffine
 L. M. Booe
 A. B. Karle
 Monte Grimes

L. L. Shaeffer
 O. F. Deetz
 Robert Bales
 F. W. Bales
 Thomas Luster

Fratres in Collegio
Seniors

H. D. Crisler
 M. F. Miller

L. R. Mead
 W. G. Cartwright
 C. D. Gipson

J. D. Wilson
 C. W. Stewart

Juniors

C. D. Kruse
 J. H. Halsey

*R. E. Aldridge

J. R. Wedding
 A. DeVol

Sophomores

A. A. Douglas
 W. O. Viner
 C. M. Pinkerton
 J. R. Kiplinger
 C. P. Leliter
 M. A. Miller
 H. O. Hurley

Freshmen

C. A. Pease
 R. H. Stopher
 J. F. Wilhelm
 W. J. Swatts
 G. W. K. Snyder
 G. M. Kerlin
 W. R. Pierce
 V. C. Brigrance
 R. F. Daly
 C. W. McDowell
 Allen Yount

*—Pledges

Founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, June 28, 1855

Delta Chi Chapter Established in 1880

Re-established in 1909

Official Publication: Magazine of Sigma Chi

Colors: Gold and Blue

Flower: White Rose

Fratres in Facultate

President George Lewes Mackintosh

Charles T. Caddock, Jr.

Fratres in Urbe

Andrew E. Reynolds
George T. Durham
Paul G. Manson
Paul M. Wright
William K. Martin

John G. Crane
George Manson
H. Royce Moon
Leslie F. Widener

James M. Waugh
Clarence J. Joel
Herman Wright
Paul U. Deer
Robert Dick

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

J. V. Scott
C. L. Davis

R. E. Wicks
M. G. Robinson

J. G. Fisher
D. V. Schoolcraft

Juniors

F. B. Mountain

R. H. McLain
F. Shanklin

F. Finch

Sophomores

R. P. Johnson, Jr.
D. T. Selko
G. A. Lemcke
J. E. Hollett, Jr.
H. C. Crosby
*R. S. Harvey
R. A. Johnston, Jr.

Freshmen

Ray Ehrensberger.
Harold Hanlin
Willard Minas
Paul Burns
Kent Arnold
Wallace Brooks
Arthur Spoerner
Lowell Henderson
H. Clark Wills
Francis Clark
Earl Combs
*Clair Wheeler
*Robert Bolles
*Joseph Wallace
*James Harding

*—Pledges

KAPPA SIGMA

Founded at the University of Virginia, December 10, 1869

Alpha Pi Chapter Established in 1895

Official Publication: The Caduceus

Colors: Scarlet, White, and Emerald Green

Flower: Lily of the Valley

Frater in Facultate

Professor Jasper Asaph Cragwall

Fratres in Urbe

R. I. Williams
B. R. Miller
F. Fudge
F. Schlemmer
R. H. Hessler
C. O. Schlemmer

W. H. O'Neill
H. Miller
N. Shaw
C. R. Saidla
H. Hessler

E. M. Goodbar
D. Sanders
F. Otto
F. H. Willis
E. Quick
C. C. Caldwell

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

N. W. Arick
F. S. DuBois
E. C. Robertson

C. I. Carlisle
M. M. Edwards
H. Robertson

R. T. Cripe
G. H. Kistler
R. A. Stephens, Jr.

Juniors

J. A. Mount
D. G. Roth
C. V. Pittinger
E. W. Snyder
H. O. Powell
C. J. Robertson
W. Gerrish

Sophomores

O. N. Arrington
H. J. Long
C. E. Chilcott
J. S. Patton
O. W. Conklin

Freshmen

R. A. Beall
C. Downing
F. Kistler
F. Miller
J. Van Nuys
F. Beaven
R. Garrigan
C. Klinger
J. C. Morganthaler
*C. Robinson
*F. Sites
F. Bowen
O. Grant
G. Metcalf
J. March
*J. Snell

* Pledges

Founded at the University of Boston in 1909
 Alpha Kappa Chapter Established in 1918
 The Official Publication: The Purple, Green and Gold
 Colors: Purple, Green and Gold
 Flower: Blue Violet

Fratres in Facultate

Professor W. N. Brigrance      Professor Robert Bruce Professor L. B. Howell      Professor W. H. Johnson

Fratres in Urbe

G. C. Hutchins      W. N. Brigrance      W. H. Johnson
 F. M. Sullivan      L. B. Howell      John Kostanzer
                          Robert Bruce

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

G. T. Bradley      F. A. Kostanzer      R. W. Russell
 Curtis Hostetter      D. D. Mitchell      E. D. Sweeney
 R. E. Khuon      P. C. Neidlinger

Juniors

J. W. Black      H. R. Grater      Byron King
 J. M. Cowan      Herbert Jeffries      H. B. Painter
 W. D. Davidson      O. W. Johnson      M. G. Phillips
 F. T. DeVol      Sam Johnson      A. H. Vilas

Sophomores

A. H. Baer
 *P. B. Beaver
 R. R. Cheney
 R. R. Dinwiddie
 C. H. Foust
 S. A. Jones
 C. W. McCorkle
 C. E. McDaniels
 J. F. Oliphant
 A. Mason
 W. Stevens
 *D. G. Swanson

Freshmen

Carl Adams
 *Clifford Allman
 *D. C. Campbell
 P. B. Collins
 *Lloyd Dudley
 Lawrence Erne
 *Dorris Graham
 *Theodore Greene
 A. W. Marr
 Lawrence Siders

*—Pledges

Founded at Wabash College in 1913
 Official Publication: The Triangle
 Colors: Old Rose and Gray
 Flower: Carnation

Fratres in Urbe

F. V. Howell

Charles Cassidy
 Ben D. Flanigan

Prof. Peters

Fratres in Collegio
Seniors

B. L. Stewart

E. M. Hankins

G. J. Cory

Juniors

F. V. Howell
 H. C. Swift

F. A. Mulbarger
 R. N. Jones

F. S. Meyers
 I. R. Fuller

Sophomores

W. E. Grossman
 M. A. Smith
 F. E. Geraldeau

F. A. Steen
 D. V. McAllister
 H. I. Suydam

C. C. Weed
 D. A. Harmon
 F. K. Sheppard, Jr.

Freshmen

W. S. McCarty
 C. H. Goodman
 R. Donahue
 *L. C. Morris
 R. Oren
 J. Gray
 K. Canfield
 *K. Harbison
 G. W. Anderson
 E. Fisher
 R. Smiley
 *A. C. Lattimer

*—Pledges

Founded at Wabash College, September 18, 1921
 Official Publication: The Pyramid
 Colors: Emerald and Gold
 Flower: Sweetheart Rose

Fratres in Urbe

L. J. Stout

L. E. Remley

R. E. Banta

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

James H. Martin

John H. Hoch
 George W. Cross

L. A. Harris

Juniors

D. V. Kennedy
 M. Labavitch
 E. O. Gumz

M. J. Lenhardt
 R. E. Elder
 G. W. Rowe

C. O. DeBard
 F. B. Stull
 W. W. Johnson

Sophomores

C. E. Smith
 R. E. Dick
 J. P. Baugh

H. S. McDougall
 R. A. Corbly
 R. H. Hall

H. W. Wallace
 R. B. Martin

Freshmen

N. A. McDougall
 J. R. Thomas
 J. L. Hendricks
 "Max" Crawford
 *Russell Newlin
 *Louis Balsley
 *—Pledges

COMMONS CLUB

Founded at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, in 1917
 Wabash Chapter Established in May, 1925
 Official Publication: The American Commoner
 Colors: Maroon and Gray
 Flower: Pink Rosebud

Frater in Urbe

Amos Surface

Fratres in Collegio

Seniors

H. F. Blankenship
 C. L. Whitacre

H. E. Broshar
 R. Whittington

L. V. Ragsdale
 ‡J. E. Wilkinson

Juniors

H. L. Carter
 L. Gordon
 A. T. Krider
 J. P. Sattison

‡R. A. Clark
 ‡J. R. Hall
 H. B. Lucas
 ‡D. M. DuShane

R. R. Hufford
 H. E. Priess
 C. C. Schlereth

Sophomores

‡M. O. Baker
 R. Dickerson
 R. Hanna
 H. C. Reid

L. Beck
 H. Q. Fuller
 F. McMasters
 A. Robbins

R. Caldwell
 ‡J. W. Gibbs
 G. D. Rahrer

Freshmen

A. Boyer
 A. DeMoss
 H. Bonifield
 ‡R. Hiatt
 R. Copeland
 R. Howard
 C. W. Maus
 ‡E. Schoenberger
 ‡*B. Runyan
 T. McMasters
 ‡Y. Sento
 *T. H. Snyder
 ‡V. Sanders
 *E. W. Robison
 *O. Hudson

‡—Withdrawn

*—Pledges

Alma Mater

Facsimile of the Original Manuscript

Alma Mater Camille Kegan Wabash Ex'o

Dear Al- ma Ma- ter at thy shrine Of cher-ished mem-o-ry The
 These float-ing years we far-ry here so-neath the Scur-let flow-er
 O, Al- ma Ma- ter in thy hands Rest all our hopes and fears, Thou hosts of our loved ones, And ev-er lovsmile us with their sig- nals, Then quick-ly stand coun- sel-er in our time of need, Thou guide in right-est way

Full Name
 in these sac-cred por-tals thy fires shall bright-ly flame, and thou, our Al- ma Ma- ter, give us the grace of God, Give now thy ben- dic-tion, that we may be true to that her-ald our de-vo-tion to the great un-er-stand-us this joy for e-ver and keep our faith sus-won-der, we may follow the pre-cents that are true.

HONORARY SOCIETIES

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Forensic

Clark

Phillips

Briganee

Stephens

Cross

Stephens

PHI
BETA KAPPA Scholastic

Bartle

ACADEMY

Philosophical

Stephens

Carter

Stewart

DuBois

DuShane

Knider

Rahrer

O'Kiffe

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa was the first American Greek Letter organization. It was founded at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Virginia, December 5, 1776. Membership is determined primarily by ability in some chosen field of intellectual endeavor. Social qualities are secondary, and the organization is open to both men and women.

The Wabash chapter, the Beta of Indiana, was established in 1898. Many alumni of this chapter are now prominent in various lines of activity all over the world. Through this organization the scholastic standing of the colleges has been elevated.

One-sixth of the senior class is elected to membership each year, providing the average for their college courses is of a caliber high enough to warrant distinction. Members of each junior class are also recognized if their academic work merits membership.

There are, at the present time, only two undergraduate members, both having received the honor in their junior year.

A new class will be admitted later this spring.

Members

Robert A. Stephens

Vernon Bartle

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Tau Kappa Alpha, one of the two most prominent forensics fraternities in this country, was founded at Butler College, Indianapolis, Indiana, May 13, 1908, for the purpose of promoting interest in debate and oratory in the universities and colleges of this country. The specific qualification for membership in this organization, is participation in one or more intercollegiate oratorical or debating contest.

The Wabash chapter was established in 1913. Since its founding here, three of its members have won the National Oratorical contest. Norman Littell in 1921. Nevin James in 1922, and Leland Ross in 1925. Morris Edwards, another alumnus, is now national secretary-treasurer of the fraternity.

OFFICERS

Robert Stephens	-	-	-	-	-	President
George Cross	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
Professor W. N. Brigance	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary

Members

Robert Stephens
R. A. Clark

Prof. W. N. Brigance
M. G. Phillips

G. W. Cross
E. M. Hankins

ACADEMY

The Academy is a local organization, founded November 19, 1924, by six undergraduates: Leland M. Ross, T. E. Hendrickson, Everett M. Hankins, John Ciscel, Raymond Coolman, and Cleon Swayzee. It has as its purpose the promotion and encouragement of discussion and serious thinking upon the greater truths of life.

Meetings of the society are held every Friday night at the Carnegie Library, at which times discussions are conducted upon religious questions, philosophy, education, art, and various other topics relative to the more serious things.

Members

D. M. DuShane	Gerald Rahrer	DeWitt O'Kieffe	R. A. Stephens
F. S. DuBois	H. L. Carter	A. T. Krider	C. W. Stewart
Faculty Sponsors	-	Dr. G. L. Mackintosh,	Prof. J. I. Osborne

SPHINX CLUB

OFFICERS

J. H. Martin	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
F. S. DuBois	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
D. W. Merkley	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary-Treasurer

Members

J. H. Martin	M. G. Robinson	M. G. Phillips	W. H. Howard, Jr.
D. P. Sherman	F. S. DuBois	E. C. Robertson	B. H. Gerard
F. L. Thompson	H. L. Veazy	C. D. Gipson	D. R. Vorce
C. C. Weber	DeWitt O'Kieffe	D. W. Merkley	W. G. Cartwright
F. B. Mountain	M. M. Edwards	F. C. Schuller

The Sphinx Club is a local organization, social in its nature, which has for its purpose the promotion of a better school spirit and a more friendly relationship between members of the various organizations upon the Wabash campus. Although it is not a part of a national organization, its ideals coincide closely with those of clubs under the same name which are now active upon the campuses of many of the colleges and universities throughout the United States. There are similar organizations at Indiana University and Butler College.

The Wabash Sphinx Club was founded in the fall of 1922.

It sponsored the annual Homecoming dance in November, the proceeds of which were used for the purchase of hooded sweat-shirts for the football team.

The All-College Vaudeville show which is held at the Little Theater the Friday night of the Homecoming festivities is also a Sphinx Club production. It has become more or less traditional and it is hoped by the members that this custom will continue. Each year more interest is manifested in this affair, and with each successive production the type of entertainment has been of a higher class than the one preceding.

The club sponsored a movement among the students to retain Frank Reese, formerly a member of the famous National Championship Notre Dame eleven, as assistant coach of the Little Giants. Reese showed his ability as a coach during the last season.

In conjunction with Blue Key, the Sphinx Club had charge of the first annual All-College Dads' Day, held May 5. This was a decided success and brought the parents of the undergraduates in closer contact with affairs at Wabash and served to promote a warmer friendship between the Dads and their sons' instructors.

Each spring, the club holds its formal dance, which is probably the only social function on the campus where the entire college does not force itself in. It is purely invitational.

THE WABASH

FRAZEE

MILLER

OSBORNE

SCOTT

STEPHENS

WEDDING

O'KIEFFE

CORY

WICKS

CRISLER

STEWART

MARTIN

MCCAIN

HOWARD

DUBOIS

PI DELTA EPSILON

OFFICERS

M. F. Miller	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
R. A. Stephens	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
W. A. Frazee	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
DeWitt O'Kieffe	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

Members

M. F. Miller	J. A. Martin	DeWitt O'Kieffe
W. A. Frazee	F. T. McCain, Jr.	J. R. Wedding
R. A. Stephens	C. W. Stewart	F. S. DuBois
H. D. Crisler	J. V. Scott	R. E. Wicks
G. J. Cory	W. H. Howard, Jr.

Pi Delta Epsilon was founded at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., December 6, 1909. It has as its purpose, the encouragement of undergraduates to compete for positions upon the editorial staffs of college newspapers and to augment training in journalistic activity, to sponsor and give lectures upon journalism, and to lend dignity and standing to work and study in this field.

There are at present, approximately forty chapters located at colleges and universities all over the United States, where there are student publications and an interest in journalism.

Membership is purely of an honorary nature, is elective, and has as one of its essentials, achievement in some line of journalism. Unlike many honorary societies, however, this fraternity maintains a social organization in all the academic institutions where its chapters are located. It publishes a quarterly magazine, The Epsilon.

The Wabash chapter was established in 1923, and since its founding here, has enjoyed a great measure of success and has aided in promoting journalistic endeavor on the Wabash campus.

Each year, this chapter publishes the college scandal sheet, The Scarlet Rash. Diguisd, in many instances, as a farce, this publication is able to expose the activities, good and bad, of those connected with the college.

Each year a Pi Delta Epsilon banquet is held and prominent journalists are secured as speakers.

This chapter takes an active part in all affairs of the national organization, and its members have contributed numerous articles to the official publication of the fraternity.

Cartwright

Davis

Carseallen

Horton

Taler

Schoolcraft

Bruce

Reid

Martin

Corbly

Carlisle

Kemper

Cory

Howell

Fuller

Brookshire

SQVARE<sup>AND</sup> COMPASS

OFFICERS

Professor G. W. Horton	- - - - -	President
W. G. Cartwright	- - - - -	Vice-President
L. R. Fuller	- - - - -	Secretary
Professor G. E. Carscallen	- - - - -	Faculty Adviser

Members

D. V. Schoolcraft	Prof. J. L. Leonard	F. V. Howell
L. C. Carlisle	Prof. G. E. Carscallen	L. R. Fuller
C. L. Davis	Prof. G. W. Horton	W. G. Cartwright
H. C. Reid	Robert Bruce	J. A. Martin
M. F. Miller	Ralph Brookshire	R. A. Corbly
D. J. E. Kemper	Paul Alexander

This fraternity was founded at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, in 1917. Membership is limited to those who are Master Masons. This organization, under the name of the Masonic Club dates as far back as 1897. Not until 1917, however, did it become a part of the vast system of college societies.

In this association, faculty members are placed on the same basis as undergraduate members, and this fraternity may accept applicants as members if they are Master Masons and have not been guilty of conduct unbecoming a Mason. It strives to uphold the standards of equality, fraternity, charity, and morality, and to combine the college Masons in a closer and more binding brotherhood.

The Wabash Square, as the chapters are called, was established May 21, 1923, by E. J. Kaderbek, of the Wisconsin Square of Square and Compass.

This Square sponsored and gave a Christmas party for the children of poor and needy families of Crawfordsville and it was a decided success. The entire student body of the college aided the organization financially, but the responsibility of staging the party was wholly in the hands of the Square and Compass. This occasion marked the inaugural of what the college Masons hope will be continued each year, a children's Christmas party. A sumptuous dinner was served to approximately a hundred youngsters and presents were distributed by a "Santa Claus".

BLUE KEY

OFFICERS

DeWitt O'Kieffe	-	-	-	-	-	-	President
J. V. Scott	-	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
F. T. McCain, Jr.	-	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
J. H. Martin	-	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

DeWitt O'Kieffe
J. H. Martin
C. D. Gipson
C. H. Englehardt
R. A. Stephens
D. P. Sherman
M. F. Miller

W. H. Howard, Jr.
J. V. Scott
W. A. Frazee
Frank McMillan
R. E. Wicks
L. H. Harris
F. S. DuBois

G. J. Cory
F. T. McCain, Jr.
Edgar Robertson
C. W. Stewart
F. C. Schuller
M. G. Robinson
G. W. Cross

R. H. Elder

J. A. Martin

Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida in 1923. The society was organized for the purpose of banding together the campus leaders among undergraduates in the various universities and colleges of the United States, and to create a closer relationship between the students of American educational institutions.

It was originally an exclusive upperclassmen's society, but in some schools it has become an honorary organization for either seniors exclusively, or for juniors only.

Here at Wabash it was established as an organization of juniors and seniors who have distinguished themselves in some branch of campus activity, not essentially pertaining to the academic side of their college work, although scholastic attainments are considered.

The fraternity at present has nearly forty-five chapters. All of them do not go under the name of Blue Key, however, as in some institutions the color of the school has been substituted for the Blue. The Wabash group chose to retain the original name instead of calling this chapter the Scarlet Key.

The Wabash chapter was established in the fall of 1924. It is, in a sense, a campus Rotary Club, having as its purpose the backing of every worthy student movement and the promoting of student activities.

At the annual Homecoming in the fall, Blue Key was in charge of the reception of DePauw students and the student parade.

This organization sponsored the first annual All-College Mothers' Day held May 13, and worked with the Sphinx Club in promoting the first annual All-College Dads' Day held May 5. Both were distinctly successful.

A banquet and initiation are held in the fall of each year.

Presidents of Wabash College

Reverend Elihu Baldwin
First President—1834-1840

Rev. Charles D. White
Second President—1841-1861

Dr. Joseph Tuttle
Third President—1862-1892

Doctor George Lewes Mackintosh
Sixth President—1906-1926

Dr. George S. Burroughs
Fourth President—1892-1899

Dr. William P. Kane
Fifth President—1899-1906

ACTIVITIES

The Student Council

Despite the fact that petty politics occupies a large portion of the regular council meetings, the Student Council is an active and vital force in Wabash College management.

At the present time the body is functioning under the new constitution which was drawn up and adopted last year, and which provides representation in correct proportion for the different organizations on the campus. Each national and local fraternity is allowed one man on the council; the Independent men are given three; the junior class has three representatives; and the sophomore class has two.

The annual election to the Student Council is held every spring, with the entire college voting on the candidates nominated by the respective groups.

Work of the Council consists of apportioning the student budget, maintaining discipline in the student body, acting on all matters and petitions that come under its jurisdiction, and in general, performing the duties of a legislative body over the student body of the college.

Regular meetings of the council are held every second and fourth Wednesday of each month, although special meetings may be called at any time.

FIRST ROW—Schaff, Pietzuch, Bomberger, Arrington, Lathrop, DuShane, Hall, Mount.
SECOND ROW—Elder, Wicks, Selko, Martin, Frazee, Aldridge, Crisler, DuBois, Black.

The Bachelor

The Bachelor began the year under the administration of Bill Frazee and from there went through a creditable career for the year. The paper, under Frazee's management, had been enlarged to a six-column size and made an unusually creditable appearance with this makeup.

Later in the year Frazee's term expired and Dick Aldridge was elected to follow him. It was found, as the work progressed under Aldridge's hands, that the six-column size of the paper was too large, that running expense for the extra composition and paper was putting the Bachelor in a hole. So, doing the only thing possible to do, the size was changed to the original one of five columns, and an even, steady progress toward financial soundness was begun.

The Staff, First Semester

EDITORIAL STAFF

W. A. Frazee	Editor	F. S. DuBois	Feature Editor
J. A. Martin	} Managing Editors	C. E. Black	News Editor
R. E. Aldridge		D. M. DuShane	Copy Editor
R. E. Wicks	Sport Editor	R. H. Elder	Colyum Conductor
G. J. Cory	Assistant Sport Editor

REPORTERS

J. A. Mount, O. F. Arrington, T. M. Lathrop, C. G. Bomberger, R. E. Garrigan, G. Snyder, J. Van Nuys, R. F. Daly,
H. O. Mottern, S. F. James, J. W. Woods,
W. H. Pierce, D. C. Endicott, L. L. Per-Harold Suydam.

BUSINESS STAFF

D. T. Selko Business Manager

ASSISTANTS

C. J. Kruze, R. P. Siddall, L. V. Beck,
I. J. Ray, E. J. Flannigan, F. M. Kistler,
K. M. Arnold, O. H. Grant, C. Q. Robin-
H. D. Crisler

Circulation Manager

ASSISTANTS

V. C. Brigance, J. R. Kiplinger, M.
R. Pierse, P. H. Burns, P. B. Schaff, C.
Alexander, R. J. Wolf, F. M. Miller, W.
M. Pinkerton.

J. A. Martin
Managing Editor

W. A. Frazee
Editor

H. D. Crisler
Circulation Mgr.

Elder
Colyum Conductor

The Press That Prints the Bachelor

About this time Frank DuBois, one of the managing editors, replaced Aldridge and conducted the affairs of the paper until the end of the spring semester in fine fashion.

The Bachelor attempted several large pieces of work during the year and carried them through to a successful conclusion. A platform of suggested activities that would make Wabash a bigger and better school was from time to time assembled. Support was given every creditable student activity and those hardly worthy of the support of the institution were condemned in as many words.

Two feature editions were published, the well known Blue Bachelor and the special Homecoming Edition. The latter was well assembled for the purpose it was to serve, but the Blue Bachelor was something to be remembered. Copies were snapped up and put into scrap books almost the moment they were off the press.

The Staff, Second Semester

EDITORIAL STAFF

F. S. DuBois	}	Editors	F. S. DuBois	}	Managing Editors
R. E. Aldridge	}		C. E. Black	}
O. W. Harrington		Feature Editor	Joe Pietzuch		News Editor
D. M. DuShane		Copy Editor	R. H. Elder		Column Conductor

REPORTERS

G. J. Metcalf, H. G. Crosby, J. Pietzuch, C. R. Hanlin, J. H. Miles, R. Martin, A. J. Daugherty, C. G. Bomberger, W. H. Pierce, R. F. Daly, H. O. Mottern, R. E.	Garrigan, G. Snyder, D. C. Endicott, L. L. Perkins, R. S. Harvey, K. W. Cannfield, J. Van Nuys, R. H. Stopher.
--	--

BUSINESS STAFF

D. T. Selko ..... Business Manager

ASSISTANTS

R. H. Hall, C. J. Kruze, J. C. Siddall, F. M. Kistler, K. M. Arnold, O. H. Grant, C. Q. Robinson, E. O. Davis, R. P. John-	son, E. N. Beesley, R. C. Franklin, R. M. Miller, M. Kerlin.
P. B. Schaff	Circulation Manager

ASSISTANTS

C. M. Pinkerton, V. C. Brigance, J. R. Kiplinger, M. R. Alexander, F. M. Miller,	W. R. Pierse, P. H. Burns, F. W. Clark, R. Beall, H. C. Lyons.
--	--

Selko
Business Manager

F. S. DuBois
Managing Editor

C. E. Black
Managing Editor

R. E. Aldridge
Managing Editor

FIRST ROW—Gerard, Wedding, DuBois, Howard, Wicks, Carter, Phillips.
SECOND ROW—Martin, Stephens, Black, O'Kieffe, McCain, Hoch, Mount.
THIRD ROW—Erne, Kerlin, Beaven, Klinger.

The 1926 Wabash

The first Wabash was published in 1857, as one of the oldest college publications west of the Alleghenies. In those days it appeared four times a year.

Its existence has been unbroken for the past 69 years, the only change being that in 1922 it was published once a year, in the shape of an annual, instead of the former four magazines. The 1926 Wabash is the fifth of the yearly annuals.

There were times when the staff of the present book heartily wished that those pioneers who were so foresighted as to start the periodical in 1857 had waited at least one hundred years before doing so. But those times were when the weather was bad, money was scarce, and printers, engravers, and photographers were nasty. But, as the book is out, there is no use in crying over spilt milk. There should be, however, a nice, cozy home fitted up with padded cells, and noise proof rooms for retired year book staffs. That will come in the future, perhaps.

About the most interesting thing relative to this year's production of The Wabash, was the downtown fire in the dead of winter which destroyed the Hirshburg Studio on Main Street, and incidentally, original copies of "Old Wabash," "Alma

DeWitt O'Kieffe
Editor-in-Chief

Editorial Staff

Editor-in-Chief	- - - -	DeWitt O'Kieffe
Athletics Editor	- - - -	Robert E. Wicks
Fraternities Editor	- - - -	Carrol E. Black
Activities and High-Lights Editor	- - - -	R. S. Harvey
Forensics Editor	- - - -	Robert A. Stephens
Photographic Editor	- - - -	James A. Mount
Alumni Editor	- - - -	Randolph Wedding
Society Editor	- - - -	Bryson Gerard
Classes Editor	- - - -	Harvey Carter
Organizations Editor	- - - -	F. S. DuBois
Feature Editors	- - - -	W. H. Howard and R. H. Elder
Art Editors	- - - -	Beaven, Erne, Klinger

Some Sample Pages from the 1926 Wabash

Mater," and "The War Song," besides several valuable alumni photographs, and all the senior pictures.

But the staff did not fret—not much!

The fire is over, however.

Perhaps the reader will notice several changes in the 1926 Wabash. The entire book has been grouped into six big sections, which sections have been divided into separate sub-sections. An entire sub-section has been given to each: Forensics, Society, Advertisers, the different branches of athletics, Honorary Societies, and High Lights.

High-Lights is an entirely new feature which attempts to bridge from the old-fashioned calendar of the year to the snapshot page. Perhaps it would have bridged better had not the staff run short of money and perforce had to content itself with the first shipment of cuts for that section.

The size of the book has been increased 24 pages, making the total number of pages 256.

Other features have been added for the enjoyment of the faculty and students of Wabash college, but it is useless to go into detail over them.

Suffice it to say that the members of the staff have done their best to put into your hands a book that you will enjoy and which will be worthy of the college.

Business Staff

F. T. McCain, Jr.	-	-	-	-	Business Manager
John A. Martin	-	-	-	-	Assistant Manager
Herbert Hoch	-	-	-	-	Assistant Manager
M. G. Phillips	-	-	-	-	Assistant Manager
G. M. Kerlin	-	-	-	-	Staff Assistant

F. T. McCain, Jr.
Business Manager

FIRST ROW—Martin, Lenhardt, O'Kieffe, Elder, Plack, Davidson.
SECOND ROW—Harris, Howard, Scott, Corbly, McLain, Kennedy.

The Wabash Caveman

From its struggling start two years ago this March, the Wabash Caveman has grown and flourished until now it is firm financially and editorially, and is one of the well known college humorous magazines of the country.

This year The Caveman was edited under the direction of Jack Scott with Dick Corbly handling the business end of it. The year was successful, probably the most successful of any The Caveman has ever seen since its inception.

The editor was fortunate in securing the help of Wayne Colvin, an Indianapolis man attending Chicago Art School, in making covers for the various editions, and these added immensely to the outward appearance of the magazine. Cuts of the four early covers appear at the top of the page.

The first edition was the "One Hoss Shay" number, inspired by the threatened strike on the subject of flivvers. It went over in fine style.

Following this, printed about the time of the Homecoming football game, was the Puritan Number, not for any especial reason except that Colvin had drawn a symbolic cover. Anyhow, the staff rallied and made it a Thanksgiving Number that was all right.

The Christmas Number was distinguished mainly by its cover, a splendid drinking scene. This attracted comment wherever seen.

The last number published before the yearbook went to press was the True Confessions number. This was received with more enthusiasm than any of the others, both as to writing and art.

Scott
Editor-in-Chief

EDITORIAL STAFF, 1925-26

Editor-in-Chief	- - -	J. V. Scott
Managing Editor	- - -	W. H. Howard, Jr.
Associate Editors	- - -
		R. S. Harvey, R. H. Elder, L. A. Harris
Art Editor	- - -	Jack Lenhardt
Art Staff	- - -	Beaven, Conkin, Sullivan
Editorial Staff	- - -
		Robinson, Davidson, Ehrensberger
Advisory Board	- - -
		Hutsinpillar, O'Kieffe, McCain, Martin

Howard
Managing Editor

College Humor, the best known of the magazines devoted to collecting matter from the collegiate humorous publications, contracted with the Caveman to use copy from the magazine, and in the course of the year quite a good deal of it was taken. Space rates were paid the authors of the copy.

The Caveman began the year with a deficit incurred from editions last year, but under the management of Corbly this was taken care of and a small balance was put in the bank.

For the coming year Bill Howard, past managing editor, will be the editor-in-chief and Reid McLain will take care of the business part of the publication. The Caveman system of putting into the controlling offices only men who have worked in subordinate positions in the past has been a successful practice, and assures a publication of a high standard.

Corbly
Business Manager

BUSINESS STAFF, 1925-26

Business Manager	-	R. A. Corbly
Assistant Business Mgr.	-	Reid McLain
Advertising Mgr.	-	J. W. Black
Circulation Mgr.	-	D. V. Kennedy
Business Staff	-	-
	-	Hall, Arnold, Werkman, Thomas
Circulation Staff	-	-
	-	McDougall, Terborgh, Hunter, Hollett

Black
Advertising Manager

FIRST ROW—Steen, Miller, Hendricks, Black, Veazy, Canfield, Suydam.

SECOND ROW—Hall, Thompson, Martin, Robertson, Zollner, Hurley, Leliter, Siddall, Johnson.

THIRD ROW—Elder, March, Harvey, Sheppard, DuShane, Mead, Wicks, Weed, Kemper, Metcalf.

The News Bureau

The News Bureau started out this year with Randolph Wedding and Jack Cory as co-directors but bad luck followed on the trail of both men, first Wedding receiving injuries that made it necessary for him to drop the work, and then Cory receiving a broken shoulder in a motor accident. However, the bureau continued work in spite of the misfortunes.

The purpose of the organization, of course, was to advertise Wabash by sending news concerning the school to the newspapers over the state. With this in view, it functioned very creditably. News on individual men who attained prominence in

The Old Staff

Student Director .....	Gerald Jack Cory
Assistant Director .....	Richard E. Aldridge
Sport Editor .....	Robert E. Wicks
General News Editor .....	Donald DuShane
Personal Editor .....	Larkin Ralph Mead
Assistant Sport Editors .....	Robert S. Harvey and J. C. March
Assistant News Editors .....	Kenric Canfield and George Metcalf
Assistant Personal Editors .....	Dudley Kemper and R. H. Elder
Staff Men—Edwin K. Sheppard, Jr., Chester C. Weed, John Hendricks, Hayes Robertson, Richard Miller, J. R. Hall, J. C. Siddall, John Black, H. L. Veazy, George Hurley, Mark Ashley, and Robert Martin.

Cory
Director

The News Bureau Functioning.

school activities was sent to home-town papers, and was used without an exception. The papers have shown an unusual eagerness to get this sort of information and copy.

Especially in sports was the bureau effective. Aside from sending dope stories over the state a string of papers made arrangements for stories on all the games to be supplied through this student news system. Among these were the Chicago Tribune, the Chicago Daily News, the Indianapolis papers, and Terre Haute and South Bend papers. In some instances space rates were paid, this money going into the treasury of the organization.

Financing of the activity was from a budget allowed by the trustees, that body recognizing the value of the publicity secured. This money was used for mailing expenses, and for the making of pictures sent out to the newspapers.

Since the bureau has been placed on a good basis it only remains for those who conduct it in the future to keep it at its present standard and make the new improvements it may seem to require.

The New Staff

Student Director .....	Randolph Wedding
Assistant Director .....	Hayes Robertson
Sport Editor .....	Kenric Canfield
General News Editor .....	George Metcalf
Personal Editor .....	Donald DuShane
Assistant Sport Editors .....	R. H. Elder and Albert A. Douglas
Assistant News Editors .....	Forrest A. Steen and Robert Daly
Assistant Personal Editors .....	J. C. Siddall and John Black
Staff Men—Edwin K. Sheppard, Jr., John Hendricks, Richard Miller, Horace Hurley, J. R. Hall, Mark Ashley, Allen Yount, Robert Martin, J. C. March, Robert Stopher, Orville Mottern, and George Snyder.

Aldridge
Assistant Director

TOP ROW—Finch, Thomas, J., Berkey, Swatts, Beesley, Morganthaler, Mullin, Gerard.
SECOND ROW—Sawyer, Bremer, Selko, Pierce, Sanders, Howard, R., Wilhelm, Vorce.
FIRST ROW—Merkley, Johnson, Cartwright, Caddock, Howard, W. H., Hiatt, Hall.

The Glee Club

The school year 1926 marked the twenty-ninth season of the existence of the Wabash College Glee Club as a touring organization.

During the past year, the Glee Club was hindered in its work at the outset by the absence of Dr. F. H. Cowles, for many years its director. The services of Miss Martha Ream, of the Crawfordsville School of Music were secured, however, and under her capable direction the organization made a most creditable showing at

PROGRAM

PART ONE

1. "The Builder" - - - Cadman
The Glee Club
2. Violin Solos—
(a) "Song of the Volga Boatman"
(paraphrase) arranged by Kreisler.
(b) "Czardas" - - - Monti
Mr. Howard
3. (a) "Lamp in the West" - Parker
(b) "Invictus" - Bruno Huhn
The Glee Club
4. Solos—
(a) "For You Alone" - Geehl
(b) "Thanks Be To God" - - -
- - - - - Dickinson
Mr. Finch
5. "Soldiers' Chorus" (from "Faust") - - - - - Gonoud
The Glee Club
6. "Little David Play On Your Harp" - - - - - High

McCain
Student Director

Howard
Assistant Director

Vorce and Hines in their specialty, "Jazzoddities".

Chicago, and later gave a pleasing Sacred Concert at the Wabash Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Due to several factors, the customary Spring trip was not taken, but the Glee Club made a series of week-end tours to nearby cities.

Members

FIRST TENOR—Philip Adams, F. B. Brown, Max Crawford, George Cross, J. R. Hall, Ralph Howard, Cornell Morganthaler, Forrest Steen, Jack Swatts, and Don Vorce.

SECOND TENOR—A. T. Brown, Willard Cartwright, William Howard, Ray Johnson, Harris Loom, Fred T. McCain, Darwin Merkley, Virgil Sanders, P. B. Schaff, and John Wilhelm.

FIRST BASS—Eugene Beesley, Harrison Berkey, Edwin Bremer, Robert F. Daly, George Denton, Francis Finch, Forrest V. Howell, James Mullin, W. H. Pierce, M. Thomas, Joseph Thomas, John Sawyer.

SECOND BASS—Ned Arick, C. E. Black, Frank DuBois, B. B. Gerard, Hia t, James Patton, Joe Pietzuch, Joe Potts, and Dan Selko.

PROGRAM

PART TWO

Potts
Business Manager

I. "Jazzoddities"

A. "Jazzamania" - a la piano

(a) "Home Sweet Home" (with variations)

(b) "Riverboat Shuffle" (as interpreted by Hoagie Carmichael)

(c) "Pianomania" (Roy Bargy)
Mr. Hines

B. "Jazzophobia" - a la vocal

(a) "Nobody Loves Me"

(b) "Want a Little Lovin'"

(c) "Remember"

Mr. Vorce

II. College Days

III. Songs of Wabash

A. "Alma Mater" - - Ragan

B. "Old Wabash" - - Ragan

The Glee Club

Caddock
Accompanist

FIRST ROW—Cross, Harris, Stull, O'Kieffe, McCain, Howard, J. H. Martin, J. A. Martin.
SECOND ROW—Vorce, Cartwright, Emery, DuBois, Ehrensberger, March, Brown, McClelland.
TOP ROW—Hanlin, Minas, Adams, Beesley, Terborgh, McDougal, Trusty, Robinson.

The Scarlet Masque

OFFICERS

President	- - - - -	DeWitt O'Kieffe
Business Manager	- - - - -	F. T. McCain, Jr.
Vice-President	- - - - -	F. B. Stull
Secretary	- - - - -	W. H. Howard, Jr.
Stage Manager	- - - - -	A. T. Brown
Faculty Advisers	Messrs. Kendall, Hutsinpillar, and Saunders

Members

Adams	Hanlin	J. H. Martin
Beesley	Harris	March
Cartwright	McDougal	Minas
Cross	McLain	Robertson
DuBois	McClelland	Terborgh
Ehrensberger	J. A. Martin	Trusty
Emery

Long years ago there came into being on the Wabash campus an organization composed of embryonic, ham, and good actors. This organization took the name of "The Wabash Players."

O'Kieffe, President

After a time it gained a permanent and respected place among the other organizations of the college, and in 1924 the name of the dramatic club was changed to "The Scarlet Masque." Under this latter cognomen the club has flourished, and early this year pins emblematic of the purpose of the Scarlet Masque were adopted. They are in the form of a scarlet, theatrical mask, and are given to members of the dramatic society after their first appearance before the public.

This fall when tryouts were announced the rush of aspirants for the limited number of vacancies in the club exceeded all expectations. Over one hundred men tried out for the Scarlet Masque, and of this number only twelve were admitted.

Following the custom established in former years, the dramatic society gave two plays, one in the fall and the other in the spring.

A Scene from Act Three of the Scarlet Masque's Fall Production, "Merton of the Movies."

For the fall play, the Scarlet Masque chose, "Merton of the Movies," a comedy by Kaufman and Connelly, taken from the well known story by Harry Leon Wilson. The production was given with success before a capacity audience at the Strand Theater on the evening of December 10th. "Merton of the Movies" was coached by Allen Saunders and Dean George V. Kendall.

The following is the cast for the production:

"MERTON OF THE MOVIES"

Dramatis Personae

AMOS G. GASHWILER .....	FRANCIS STULL
ELMER HUFF .....	DONALD VORCE
MERTON GILL .....	EUGENE BEESLEY
TESSIE KEARNS .....	LEAH HORTON
CASTING DIRECTOR .....	RAY EHRENSBERGER
J. LESTER MONTAGUE .....	DOUGLAS TERBORGH
SIGMOND ROSENBLATT .....	NORMAN McDOUGALL
WELLER .....	F. S. DuBOIS
HIS CAMERAMAN .....	WILLARD CARTWRIGHT
THE MONTAGUE GIRL .....	MILDRED ROACH
HAROLD PARMALEE .....	W. H. HOWARD, Jr.
BEULAH BAXTER .....	DOROTHY TEAGUE
MURIEL MERCER .....	JEANETTE KOSTANZER
JEFF BAIRD .....	J. H. MARTIN
MRS. PATTERSON .....	JANE BRIGANCE
WALBERG .....	JAMES MARCH
MAX .....	CHARLES CADDOCK
PROMPTER .....	R. F. ADAMS

The second plays were given May 5th at the Little Theater of Masonic Temple.

As The Wabash, of necessity, must go to press before the presentation of these spring plays it is, of course, impossible to announce the cast for them.

As is the custom, however, the season was taken into consideration in choosing the plays and three one-act comedies were selected. They were received favorably by the audience, composed to a great extent of fathers of Wabash men who were in Crawfordsville for the Annual Dads' Day.

McCain, Business Manager

Some Members of the Band.

The Sea-Goin' Band

The day has passed when Wabash College won't support a band. For the past four years the institution has had one, and one that, despite the handicaps of no music department and a limited enrollment, has attracted favorable comment and educed enthusiasm wherever and whenever it has appeared.

The accompanying photograph of the band doesn't do it justice. The picture was taken after the football season was over, and the day was cold. Consequently, only about one-third of the band showed up.

More than thirty pieces make up the complete roster of the "Sea-Goin'" band when it is in action.

The Band had behind it the tradition of the "Sea-Goin'" band of last year and made every effort to be as famous. It was.

Larry Harris was named as director and took it through the labor of working up its several numbers. On the field it was led by Drum Major Fritz Schuller.

The band was used at every home football game of the season, adding a dash of brilliant color to the general scene with its scarlet sweaters and white navy trousers.

The Purdue game, always one of the biggest affairs of the season for Wabash because it isn't too far to be bummed to, and because it is an important game for Wabash to win, which it usually does, saw the band out in full force, a special bus having been chartered for the trip. The musicians added immeasurably to the spirit which the Wabash section showed at this game.

Harris
Director

Again, this organization made the trip to Illinois and, in a driving rain most of the game, played with all the spirit that it might have shown on a decent day and on the Wabash field.

Again at Butler the band was out in force in a sea of mud that splashed up almost high enough to choke the boy with the big bass horn.

As an institution the band is a remarkable force for raising and maintaining enthusiasm at athletic contests.

Much credit for the work of the band this year must be given to Larry Harris, who worked incessantly directing it, and to Fritz Schuller, who led it on special occasions as its drum major.

THE WABASH

The Band at the Purdue Game.

Few persons realize what amount of work is necessary to organize and get a band into shape for a strenuous season, especially when there are things to do of much more enjoyment than attending weekly practices. Director Harris is to be complimented for the work he did along this line.

Although the band has fairly good representation on most instruments, through no fault of its own, it is short of men for the brass and bass sections. It is to be hoped that next year men who play these instruments will enter college.

Plans for the band's future include more concert numbers and a home concert and the officials of the organization are bending every effort toward this end. In the future it is intended to make the band something more than an enthusiasm raiser for football games.

The cocky "Sea-Goin'" uniforms worn by the band have become a feature all over the state, and they add a dash of color to the athletic contests. Formerly, the band men wore gray uniforms and the change for the brighter combination was one for the better for all concerned.

Members of the Band

Director

Larry Harris

Drum Major

F. C. Schuller

Cornet

Mullin, Beesley, Hiatt, Flannigan, Kiltz, Jeffries

Clarinet

Gordon, Hanna

Saxophone

Hunt, Dudley, Pietzuch, Kemper, Reddish, Pierse, Thompson, Harmon, Bomberger

Trombone

Caldwell, Collings, Robinson, Wilhelm, Beesley, E. N., Sattison

Bass

Hessel

Drums

Stewart, Wisheart, Grider, Kennett

Schuller
Drum Major

For Service to Itself and College

The Class of '26 Nominates

for Special Recognition --

M. G. ROBINSON

—because he has brought honor to Wabash by winning oratorical contests, because he has represented his college in a virile and gentlemanly fashion in football, basketball, track and tennis, because he has been active in many other activities, and because he has maintained a high scholastic average.

DeWITT O'KIEFFE

—because he has edited various college publications and has aided in editing others, because he has been active in many campus projects, because he has been elected to several honorary societies, and because he has worked at dramatics and at playwrighting.

ROBERT A. STEPHENS

—because he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year, because he has handled the Y. M. C. A. in a most efficient fashion during the year, because he has worked all his four years in forensics, and because he has always worked in the best interests of his class and college.

DONALD P. SHERMAN

—because he is a sterling football man and captained this year's team, because he is president of the graduating class, because he was active in heading the "W" Men's Club, because he always put forth his best efforts for Wabash College, and because he is universally liked and respected on the campus.

JAMES H. MARTIN

—because he has been student manager of the most successful intramural season the college has known, because he headed the Student Council during a trying period, and because he is a good football player, and an actor of more than usual ability.

FRANK S. DU BOIS

—because he has been identified with numerous student activities, and has done his part in them creditably, because he has edited the Bachelor through a critical period, because he has maintained a high standard of scholarship, and because he graduates in three years.

ORGANIZATIONS

SECOND ROW—Brunner, Bennington, Schuller, Thompson, Priess, Brown, O'Kieffe, Thomas, Hostetter.
FIRST ROW—Bremer, Halsey, Yerger, Wilkinson, Domroese, Weber, Funk, Stewart.

“Der Deutscher Verein”

The German Club has been formed to provide adequate opportunity for students to use their German in conversation, and to study the life, literature, and habits of the German race. The organization meets semi-monthly at which time all manner of topics interesting to students of German are brought to light and discussed.

Professor Fred C. Domroese is the active faculty sponsor of the club and he arranged a varied and interesting program that was followed out during the year. Members of the club as well as outsiders who have visited Germany have been before the club with papers on the life and literature of the German people and much benefit has been derived not only from these talks, but from the discussions which have followed.

Der Deutscher Verein is very popular among the language students and has many names on a roll that is constantly growing.

The only prerequisite for membership in the club is that one must have the ability to converse intelligently in German.

“DER DEUTSCHER VEREIN”

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	John E. Wilkinson
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	Elwood Yerger
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	Donald M. DuShane

Faculty Sponsor

Professor Fred C. Domroese

Wilkinson, Pres.

Members

Cecil O Bennington
Edwin A. Bremer
Franklin B. Brown
Luick L. Brunner
Charles T. Caddock
Carl C. Cords
George W. Cross
Albert F. Diserens
Donald M. DuShane
George S. Funk
Elmer O. Gumz
James H. Halsey
Curtis Hostetter

Arthur W. Marr
DeWitt O'Kieffe
Harold E. Priess
Fred C. Schuller
W. Laurance Smith
Bouton F. Sowers
Charles W. Stewart
Morris C. Thomas
Alva Thompson
Clayton C. Weber
John E. Wilkinson
Elwood L. Yerger

SECOND ROW—Reid, Arick, Carter, Arrington, Roth, Kistler, DuBois, Hall, Brookshire, Selko.
FIRST ROW—Powell, Johnson, Veazy, Mountain, Caddock, Davis, O'Kieffe, McClain, Hanlin.

“Le Cercle Francais”

Le Cercle Francais consists of advanced French students who meet informally twice each month, with the purpose of furthering their ability to speak the French language. The club arouses a desire for continued study of French literature and dramatics since the members of the club become acquainted with the customs, dress, and mode of living of the French people.

For the past year the society has flourished under the direct tutelage of Professor J. Allen Saunders, with Professor Charles Caddock acting as his assistant. All meetings were exceedingly novel and attractive, consequently the organization grew more than any other educational organization on the campus. A very clever program for the year was formulated which included chalk talks, a bridge party, theater parties, and the culminating feature: a true French banquet at the Sigma Chi house.

The organization has grown from a mere club of a few members to a group that has on its roll practically every eligible man on the campus, with more clamoring for admittance. The club has enjoyed phenomenal success during the past year and has attained to remarkable heights as far as Wabash language circles are concerned.

“LE CERCLE FRANCAIS”

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	C. Louis Davis
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	Frank DuBois
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	Ned Arick

Faculty Sponsors

Professor J. Allen Saunders	Professor Charles Caddock
-----------------------------	---------------------------

Members

George Emery	C. Louis Davis
John Emery	James Mount
Reid McLain	Daniel Selko
Howard Powell	Allen Saunders
Charles Bomberger	Francis Mountain
Dale Roth	Claud Billings
Fred Shanklin	Harry C. Reid
Gene Kistler	Ned Arick
H. L. Carter	Ray Johnson
H. L. Veazey	Frank DuBois
DeWitt O'Kieffe	Orville Arrington
Thurmen Brookshire	Raymond Hall
J. E. Cranston	Lyle Duncan
Charles Caddock	Robert Bolles
Harold Hanlin	John Servies

Davis, Pres.

SECOND ROW—Fuller, Grant, Lenhardt, Wallace, Black, Mace.
FIRST ROW—Hall, Hanna, Arnold, Easterling, Krider, Hollett.

“Los Hispaniofolos Solteros”

The Spanish Club has been formed to provide adequate opportunity for students to use their Spanish in a practical manner in conversation. The organization meets twice each month at which time topics of current import are discussed entirely in Spanish. Elaborate programs are arranged for these meetings and light refreshments are served at the end of the meeting.

Members of the club as well as outsiders who have visited Spanish speaking nations are invited to speak before the club and to tell their experiences while sojourning there. Convenient games are indulged in and occasionally card parties and dinners diversify the general trend of the evenings.

At various intervals throughout the year papers on Spanish topics were assigned by Professor Easterling and with his competent aid many interesting matters were brought to light.

Any man who can converse intelligently in Spanish is eligible to membership in the club, and steadily the number is increasing.

“LOS HISPANIOFOLOS SOLTEROS”

Officers

Prof. A. B. Easterling	-	-	-	-	Faculty Adviser
A. T. Krider	-	-	-	-	President

Members

Krider, Pres.

A. Brown	R. Hanna
J. Black	R. Hall
L. Fuller	A. Krider
O. Grant	C. Leliter
R. Harvey	J. Lenhardt
H. Mace	D. Mitchell
J. Scott	J. Sattison
K. Arnold	J. Hollett

SECOND ROW—Rahrer, Franklin, Beck, Metcalf, Lenhardt, Sawyer.
FIRST ROW—Whitacre, Oldfather, Elder, Beddie, Welch.

Classics Club

The Classics Club, formed by a union of the Latin Club and the Greek Club, is composed of students who are interested in the life and literature of classical times.

The past year has been spent on a study of the life and works of various Greek and Roman authors. Meetings are held every two weeks—at one a Greek author is discussed, and at the other a Latin author is discussed.

The topics this year have been unusually well prepared, and a great amount of helpful discussion has followed each talk. Many interesting and unusual phases of life and detail, which cannot be included in a classroom course, have been brought out. The two faculty advisers, Professor Oldfather and Professor Beddie, have aided much in the discussion periods.

Altogether, the club has done much to broaden ideas and to increase the knowledge of classical times among its members.

CLASSICS CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	Raymond H. Elder
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	C. L. Whitacre

Faculty Advisers

Professor Charles H. Oldfather	Professor James S. Beddie
--------------------------------	---------------------------

Members

Jack M. Lenhardt	Roger C. Franklin
Albert F. Diserens	George J. Metcalf
W. W. Welch	R. H. Elder
Lyle V. Beck	C. L. Whitacre
J. H. Sawyer

Elder, Pres.

LEFT TO RIGHT—Case, Lucas, Anderson, Gordon, Bennington, Sawyer, Dickerson

Tuttle Club

The Tuttle Club, named in honor of President Joseph Farrand Tuttle, third president of the college, seeks to bring into closer touch with one another such students as are looking forward to the ministry or some other form of active Christian service as their life's work.

Meetings of the organization are held bi-monthly at which time Biblical and present day topics of a religious nature are discussed. Various ministers of the city address the club and conduct open forums on topics of interest to the members.

The members of the club have proved of great service to the surrounding community in as much as they travel to rural parishes and take active part in the religious services. Several members of the organization have had rural charges during the past year in preparation for their entering theological schools upon graduation from Wabash. Likewise the Tuttle Club has carried on invaluable work in the various young people's societies within the city.

Professor Ralph T. Case, head of the department of Biblical Literature, is directly in charge of the club, and promotes all its activities.

THE TUTTLE CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	Leslie C. Gordon
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. H. Sawyer
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	Ross Dickerson

Faculty Sponsor

Professor R. T. Case

Gordon, Pres.

Members

Leslie C. Gordon	Glenn Robertson
J. H. Sawyer	H. B. Lucas
Ross Dickerson	A. T. Krider
R. T. Case	George Anderson
Lawrence Smith	C. O. Bennington

SECOND ROW—Cartwright, Carter, Kiplinger, Crisler, Roth, Hollett, Stewart, Fisher
FIRST ROW—McLain, Gipson, Scott, Martin, Mead, Frazee, Miller, Hoch, Kennedy.

The Law Club

This organization was founded with the purpose of giving students an insight into legal matters, and is primarily for those who are contemplating the study of law.

Meetings of the Law Club are held once every two weeks when some prominent attorney or other authority on legal matters is present to address the members of the club.

This year the Law Club has been especially active and many technical matters and pertinent legal discussions have been explained and clarified by the speakers brought before the organization.

THE LAW CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	L. R. Mead
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. A. Martin
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	W. A. Frazee

Members

M. F. Miller
W. A. Frazee
L. R. Mead
C. W. Stewart
J. A. Martin

W. H. Howard
J. H. Hoch
J. V. Scott
H. D. Crisler

Mead, Pres.

THIRD ROW—Croxtton, Kruse, Cartwright, Scott, Gipson, Mead, Stewart, Arick, Miller, Link.
SECOND ROW—Stephens, Schaff, Bomberger, Arrington, DuShane, Halsey, Mount, Moeslein.
FIRST ROW—O'Kieffe, Wicks, Martin, Selko, Frazee, Crisler, Aldridge, DuBois, Black.

The Press Club

The Press Club is made up of men interested in practical journalism. Membership in the organization is given in recognition of successful work on the The Bachelor, the semi-weekly newspaper published by the club. A man must have worked on The Bachelor at least one semester before he is eligible for Press Club.

Meetings are held from time to time for the purpose of hearing lectures by well known journalists. The Press Club has direct control over The Bachelor and has full power of appointing and removing any member of the staff.

The editorial and business heads of The Bachelor constitute the officers of the club, and elections are held once each year, at the close of the first semester.

Last spring the Press Club members were hosts to the National Collegiate Press Association when it met at Wabash for a three day convention.

Twice a year, in February and in June, men who have faithfully worked on The Bachelor for one semester and who have shown marked ability are elected to the club upon the recommendations of the various heads of departments.

THE PRESS CLUB

Officers

First Semester		Second Semester
President	- - W. A. Frazee	President	- - R. E. Aldridge
Secretary	- - H. D. Crisler	Secretary	- - Paul Schaff
Treasurer	- - D. K. Selko	Treasurer	- - D. K. Selko

Members

Frazee, Pres.

M. A. Miller
W. P. Croxtton
N. W. Arick
Jack Cory
P. R. Adams
W. Leverenz
George Denny
Frank DuBois
Harry Moeslein
C. J. Kruse
DeWitt O'Kieffe
Dana Gipson
R. E. Aldridge
Paul Schaff
J. A. Mount
L. R. Mead
J. H. Halsey
Willard Cartwright

M. F. Miller
J. A. Martin
J. H. Martin
Joe Potts
Jack Scott
J. E. Pietzuch
C. W. Stewart
Robert Stephens
Randolph Wedding
Jack Wilson
John Miles
O. N. Arrington
C. E. Black
Donald DuShane
R. E. Wicks
C. G. Bomberger
T. M. Link
T. H. Lathrop

SECOND ROW—Mitchell, Hayes Robertson, Carter, J. H. Martin, Wicks, Elder, Jeffries.
FIRST ROW—Phillips, J. A. Martin, Cross, Gronert, Howard, Stephens, Clark Robertson.

The Hegira Club

The Hegira Club is the honorary history society of the college and is made up of only those students who show a special interest in the history department.

The club holds meetings once every two weeks and the members participate in discussions of an historical nature. Current political topics are minutely discussed by the club and an endeavor is made to teach members how to think correctly along political lines.

Officers for the organization are elected every three months, with Professor Theodore Gronert acting as the able faculty adviser of the club throughout the year.

Election to the Hegira Club is on a competitive basis with men having secured an "A" in history during the previous semester being among those eligible for recognition. In this manner the personnel of the organization has been kept at a high standard and it is hoped by members that within a short time the petition of the club to a certain national Greek letter historical fraternity will be granted.

THE HEGIRA CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	William H. Howard
Ex-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	George Cross
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	Jack Scott
Archivist	-	-	-	-	-	-	Robert Stephens

Faculty Sponsor

Professor Theodore Gronert

Members

Maurice Robinson	Hayes Robertson
Harvey Carter	Myron Phillips
John Martin	H. R. Jeffries
Clark Robertson	Charles Stewart
R. H. Elder	Robert Wicks
James H. Martin	D. D. Mitchell

Howard, Pres.

SECOND ROW—Mountain, Englehardt, Yerger, Brookshire, Funk, Bradley.
FIRST ROW—F. L. Thompson, Roch, G. L. Thompson, Tapy, Tauer, Miller.

The Psychology Club

The Psychology Club is enjoying its first season on the Wabash campus, since it was formed in January of the present scholastic year. Although in a new field for a club the organization has enjoyed marked success since it recently came into being and has carried on much work in its particular sphere of influence.

The psychologists run their membership on an entirely elective basis and only those men who excel in the classroom psychology are eligible to be admitted to the club. It is the desire and sole aim of this group to create a better understanding of the courses offered in college and to promote the extension of research work in the entire field of psychology. Although little has been accomplished in actual research work this year, due to lack of equipment, it is felt by members that next year will see much success for the club along this line.

Prof. G. H. Tapy is the faculty sponsor of the organization and has been exceedingly active in starting the club toward being one of the leading scholastic bodies on the campus.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	G. L. Thompson
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	M. B. Tauer
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	Marc Labavitch

Faculty Sponsor

Professor G. H. Tapy

Members

E. D. Bergen	M. G. Robinson
G. T. Bradley	G. L. Thompson
R. T. Brookshire	F. L. Thompson
R. F. Cook	M. B. Tauer
G. S. Funk	C. H. Englehardt
E. O. Higgins	H. Jeffries
J. H. Hoch	M. F. Miller
Marc Labavitch	F. M. Mountain
J. L. Emery	E. L. Yerger
M. G. Phillips

Thompson, Pres.

SECOND ROW—Reid, Lenhardt, M. A. Miller, Wicks, Smith, Brookshire, Bradley.
FIRST ROW—Welch, Caddock, Schoolcraft, Bechtel, M. F. Miller, Cartwright.

The Botanical Society

The Botanical Society is sponsored primarily for the promotion of the botanical interests within the college, any man having completed a course in Botany I being eligible for membership.

Meetings were held at various intervals throughout the year at which time many interesting and beneficial discussions were held on matters of present day importance in the botanical world. Dr. A. R. Bechtel was in direct charge of the organization and arranged a very interesting program for the year.

Papers of modern import were a common occurrence and although dealing with scientific matter, they were so treated that any well informed person might listen to them with enjoyment. Various specimens came into the laboratory throughout the year and these were carried forward into the meetings where they were discussed at length.

BOTANICAL SOCIETY

Officers

President	- - - - -	D. V. Schoolcraft
Secretary-Treasurer	- - - - -	W. L. Smith

Faculty Sponsor
Dr. A. R. Bechtel

Members

C. Billings	M. A. Miller
R. T. Brookshire	M. F. Miller
C. T. Caddock	H. C. Reid
W. G. Cartwright	D. V. Schoolcraft
M. J. Lenhardt	W. L. Smith
D. R. Vorce	W. W. Welch
R. E. Wicks

Schoolcraft, Pres.
173

THIRD ROW—Terborgh, Oliphant, Davidson, Cheyne, Grossman, Lyons.
SECOND ROW—Thompson, E. Davis, Minas, Seymour, Wolf, Ehrensberger, Dunihue, Keedy, Laughlin.
FIRST ROW—D. Davis, Anderson, Kemper, McLain, Mulbarger, Myers, Nelson.

The Scimitar Club

The Scimitar Club, the College DeMolay organization, was inaugurated only last year. Its membership has increased rapidly, and at the present time a constitution is being drawn up in order that the club may have a working basis.

The club hopes to create an organization which will have the opportunity to maintain the principles and purposes of both the De Molay and Boy Builders, sponsored by the Masonic order; and in this way maintain and promote good fellowship among its members.

The Scimitar Club as a co-worker of the Square and Compass, campus Masonic club, hopes in the near future to promote activities relative to the Masonic work and in this way keep the order foremost among Wabash men.

THE SCIMITAR CLUB

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	E. L. Yerger
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	D. E. Kemper
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	W. D. Davidson

Members

Yerger, Pres.

E. L. Yerger	W. McDowell
R. H. McLain	G. Snyder
F. M. Mulbarger	R. Ehrensberger
F. S. Myers	F. Clark
D. V. Kennedy	G. Mason
W. D. Davidson	W. Grossman
F. C. Schuller	M. Keedy
D. E. Kemper	G. Minas
A. T. Brown	G. Laughlin
H. Moeslein	R. Wolf
D. Davis	D. J. Terborgh
H. Painter	G. DeMoss
E. Davis	G. Anderson
R. Cheyne	C. Seymour
J. Scott	H. Lyon
A. Nelson	R. Thompson
F. Dunihue

THIRD ROW—Downing, Grant, Bowen, Beaven, Metcalf, Johnson, Siddall.
SECOND ROW—Mount, Stegemeyer, Hunter, Weiss, Urschel, Miller, Ray.
FIRST ROW—Oliphant, Black, Case, Hostetter, Stephens, Arrington, Fuller, Sawyer.

Y. M. C. A.

For the school year 1925-26, the college Y. M. C. A. adopted a three-fold program. In order to gain the general end of the association, the interpretation of Christ to college students, the Y. M. C. A. worked out its program on these lines:

1. The simulation of student thinking on religious problems.
2. The development of the ideas of Christian service to students.
3. The making of Christian citizens by teaching men to serve their community.

On the first point, interesting discussion groups were held bi-weekly under the leadership of Professor Oldfather and Francis Stull. For the entire student body, chapel speakers were brought in and a two day series of religious meetings was held in February.

To accomplish the second end, the Y. performed many bits of campus service. Help was given to Freshmen on several occasions, an employment agency was maintained, and the Y. responded to other needs as they arose.

For the third end, several projects of community service were carried out. A troop of Boy Scouts was maintained and supervised. The College Y. sent men to aid in the program of the City Y. for the boys of Crawfordsville

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	Robert Stephens
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	John Black
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	Orville Arrington
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	Joe Oliphant
Faculty Adviser	-	-	-	-	-	Professor Ralph T. Case

Members

Lester Ray	Harold O. Fuller	Robert E. Garrigan
Clark Robertson	John L. Hendricks	Curtis Hostetter
J. H. Sawyer	Paul H. Johnson	J. C. Siddall
Robert Stephens	George J. Metcalf
Byron Stegemeyer	Fletcher Miller
Francis B. Stull	James A. Mount
G. C. Thomas	James P. Mullin
Harold Urschel	Clyde A. Myers
John VanNuys	Sam Nagdeman
Albert H. Vilas	Joe E. Oliphant
George D. Anderson	R. B. Payne
Howard Montgomery	Oren Grant
J. C. Morganthaler	M. F. Hunter
Carl E. Adams	Dick Miller
Orville Arrington	L. R. Weiss
Franklin Beaven	J. E. Cranston
Lyle V. Beck	R. H. Elder
John W. Black	Rex Cheyne
Earrington Bowen	Ernest F. Cahn

Stephens, Pres.

SECOND ROW—McCain, Roth, Thompson, Crisler, Kemper, Gumz.
FIRST ROW—Englehardt, Kennedy, Gipson, Hoch, Kostanzer, Miller, Powell.

The Economics Club

The Economics Club is one of the most recent additions to the campus organizations, having been formed in February of this year. Professor Joy Luther Leonard conceived the idea of a group of economics students gathering every two weeks for open discussion, and upon his suggestion the club was organized.

The club keeps foremost at all times the interest in economic problems, and attempts to aid students in securing a better understanding of economic situations and every day labor problems.

Many interesting and beneficial meetings have been held throughout the semester, with current capital and labor issues being spiritedly discussed. At the time of the anthracite coal strike numerous papers dealing with all elements involved were prepared and presented for the club's consideration.

Men who are majors in Economics or are exceptionally good students of the subject are eligible for membership in the newest of Wabash organizations. The club should enjoy much success in the coming years for it has opened a new field of thought that will undoubtedly arouse much keen interest in Professor Leonard's department.

Officers

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	W. G. Cartwright
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	-	D. G. Roth
Secretary-Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. H. Hoch

Faculty Adviser

Professor Joy Luther Leonard

Cartwright, Pres.

Members

F. Kostanzer	L. Davis
R. Russell	E. Englehardt
F. Thompson	F. Schuller
D. Crisler	D. Gipson
F. McCain	D. Kemper
L. Mead	C. Pittenger
D. Sherman	E. Gumz
M. F. Miller	D. Kennedy
C. Hostetter	C. DeBard

FORENSICS

Foust

Payne

Robertson

Stewart

Forensics

Wabash's athletic record may excel that of most of her competitors; her Glee Club may have brought much renown to her portals; the fame of her journalists may spread far and wide; but in no field has her excellence been as predominant as in forensics. What athletic team of hers has won the championship of the Middle West three times in the last six years? When has her Glee Club ever been proclaimed the champion of the United States? In what sport has she consistently turned out teams which defeated, year in and year out, teams from conference schools and other large universities? In forensics, Wabash is the best—not only among her own class of schools, but among all schools.

Why is this? Perhaps it is because Wabash has had a line of able men directing her public speaking work. Perhaps it is because Wabash attracts students of more than the usual merit as speakers. Perhaps it is some other tangible thing, but we doubt it. What makes Wabash great in forensics is "Fight." Wabash debate teams fight, Wabash orators fight—just as hard and just as long as Wabash athletes.

Do you doubt us? Did you ever see the tryouts for places on the debate squad? Forty to fifty men sitting around in the old chapel waiting for their "chance" to come. It comes—and with what zest they go at it. Twelve are chosen; from the looks on their faces you would think that they had been elected President of the United States.

The fighting doesn't end there. It is easy enough to fight when there are others around to cheer, but when that fighting becomes work of the most painstaking nature, then it takes a true fighter to stick it out.

For weeks evidence is gathered. Once a week all twelve sit around a long table over in the old chapel. Professor Brigance stands up at the end, nearest the door. He's little, but oh, how mighty—ask any man who comes in late, or dares show up sans cards of evidence. The final result is a thorough brief of both sides of a case.

Debating

This year has been no exception to the general rule. Under the capable leadership of Professor W. N. Brigance, a powerful debate team was developed. Only three veterans were available—Clark, and Phillips with one year of experience, and Stephens with two. But much new material was revealed in try-outs, and Brigance was able to get twelve good men together. Besides the three veterans, the squad consisted of J. A. Mount, B. L. Stewart, R. H. Robertson, R. B. Payne, C. H. Foust,

Nagdeman

Kiltz

Phillips

Stephens

Clark

Mount

Sam Nagdeman, Lloyd Dudley, A. A. Kiltz, and E. Schoenberger.

Wabash debated again this year as a member of the Indiana Intercollegiate Debate Association. The debate question of the year was, "Resolved, That the Federal Child Labor Amendment Should Be Adopted." The squad worked up a fine brief covering all sides of this question.

The first debates were held on March 5. Wabash competed in a triangle with Earlham and Butler. At Crawfordsville, the Wabash affirmative team, composed of Hayes Robertson, R. B. Payne, and M. G. Phillips, met the Earlham negative team. The judges of the debate were Professor Stonecipher of Indiana Central, Professor A. H. Monroe of Purdue, and Professor Allen of Terre Haute State Normal.

The judges awarded the decision to Wabash by a vote of 2 to 1.

At the same time, the Wabash negative team met the Butler affirmative team at Indianapolis. Speaking for Wabash were, R. A. Clark, J. A. Mount, and Robert Stephens. This team was not as successful, going down in defeat before Butler. Professor E. R. Noroelle of Indiana University judged the debate.

Two weeks later, Wabash met DePauw and Franklin in the second triangular debate. At this time the affirmative team lost to DePauw, but the negative team was victorious over Franklin.

In a dual meet with the Purdue freshman team, the Wabash freshman were victorious by an overwhelming popular decision.

Oratory

HAYES ORATORICAL CONTEST, 1925

This contest, for Freshmen and Sophomores, was held in the Old Chapel, June 4, 1925. It was won by L. Wayne Price, '27, who spoke on "A New Ideal for Education. M. G. Phillips, '27, was second, and R. A. Clark, '27, finished third. This contest was one of the most closely fought ever held at Wabash.

BALDWIN ORATORICAL CONTEST, 1925

Before a packed Old Chapel, the Baldwin Oratorical Contest for Juniors and Seniors was fought out on June 11. Tracy Coker finished first with an oration on "A New Monroe Doctrine." Stanley Gray was second, and R. E. Wicks was third.

AGAIN!

Dudley

Yes—Wabash did it again. For the second consecutive year, for the fourth time out of the last seven, a Wabash orator won the State Oratorical Contest. This time victory was all the nicer, because it was unexpected. We all said, "Well, we'll have to wait a few years now before some new man can be trained to fill the steps of Ross, of James, of Littell. This year some one else will win."

But one W. N. Brigance didn't give up as easily

Schoenberger

The Wabash Debate Squad

as the rest of us did. He looked around—he encouraged men to try out—he coached those who did. The result was a high class Day Oratorical Contest. Five good speakers entered and it was only with much work that one Maurice Robinson won. Byron Stewart pressed hard on his heels and ended second, while just a shade below came Hayes Robertson.

Then that aforesaid Maurice started out to show Wabash that Maurice could fight just as hard on the platform as “Red” could on the basketball floor. Daily, for week after week, he worked with Brigance, and when the big night came, one February 12, up at North Manchester College, Maurice was high point man. “Red” had done it—he had brought another State Championship to Wabash.

One more word of praise should be spoken and that should go to Professor Brigance. Truly he has been a “maker of champions.” In four years at Wabash, his men have finished fifth once, second once, and first twice in the State Oratorical. In the State Peace Contests, his orators have won three seconds. In the National Contests—he has had two winners—one, Ross of Wabash, the other, Stanley of Nebraska, whom he coached when taking his master’s degree at that school. “By their fruits ye shall know them”—by that standard, Brigance stands in the front rank of makers of orators.

M. G. Robinson
State Oratorical Champion, 1926
Inter-state Champion, '26

Professor W. N. Brigance
Head of the Department of Public Speaking

SOCIETY

According to Webster, a definition of society is the association of people; relationship. According to Wabash, society is the association with the feminine half of people, such relationship being particularly of the Dance. Therefore The Wabash in its Society Section will attempt to incorporate only a calendar of Wabash Dances, most of which have already become features of each year and which exhibit as evolutionary changes only variety of orchestra, transiency of feminine clientele, and increasing intricacy of the measures trod. Or, as the well known bard has said of Wabash men and their attitude toward dancing:

"Shave, bathe, and change shirts—this evening we dance!"

Pan-Hellenic Dances, 1925

By far the most important social functions of the year for Wabash Greeks are the Pan-Hellenic Dances, probably because they are held in the Spring, and because most of the fraternities give houseparties at the time. Last year's dances were given at the Masonic Temple on the evenings of May 14th and 15th. As is the custom, the first night's frolic was formal and was limited to fraternity men. Ross Franklin furnished the music with his orchestra. On Saturday night, the dance floors were open to the public, for a price, and the crowd in attendance was considerably larger. At this time Galbraith's Aces were the musicians.

Dean and Mrs. George V. Kendall headed the list of chaperones and patrons. The Pan Council, consisting of Bostwick, McLallen, Burdette, Bartlett, Leslie, McMillan, and Wooley, served as the committee in charge of the entire affair.

Commencement Dance, 1925

The evening of June 11, 1925, found the yearly Commencement dance in wild sway at the Masonic Temple, with a large crowd seeming to enjoy the revel. Why shouldn't the guests revel?—examinations were over that very afternoon. Doc Peyton furnished the music. Cutting-in was practiced viciously by everyone at the dance.

The newly-elected Student Council furnished the committee, consisting of O'Kieffe, chairman, Brown, DuBois, Stewart, and Scanlon, that was in charge of the function.

Sophomore Cotillion, 1926

A large percentage of the college usually turns out to attend the Cotillion—for it is popularly priced and merry. The Fourth Annual Cotillion proved no exception to the rule and when it was given on April 17th with Tommy Jarvis' Tune-sters officiating, the Temple was again jammed to capacity.

The committee in charge of the event was made up of Suverkrup, Finch, Link, and Chilcott. Members of the faculty with their wives, and town alumni furnished the chaperonage and patronage.

For the individual fraternities and organizations Pledge, Initiation, and other kinds of dances are given throughout the year. At such times representatives and guests from other fraternities are invited. The last week in September usually marks the beginning of the Pledge dance season which lasts almost entirely through October and sometimes even into November. This year pledge dances were given by Delta Tau Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Commons Club, Karnak Club, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Phi Sigma Alpha.

For weeks after the mid-year initiations it is an exception when a Saturday night comes around without an initiation dance of some kind being given by some lodge.

Between pledge and initiation dances and the regular all-college functions, are interspersed subscription dances, football dances, and several other dances.

Homecoming Dance, 1925

This perennial event was sponsored last November 20 by the Sphinx Club and was in the form of a Blanket Hop. The proceeds of the dance went toward buying mackinaws for the football team. Dancing was done in the gymnasium, which was decorated by the Homecoming booths erected by each fraternity. Doc Peyton and his orchestra took charge of the musical end of things in appropriate fashion. A number of DePauw rooters from the game attended en masse.

The Junior Promenade, 1925

The worthiest, yet most ill-fated, social event of recent years was the annual Junior Prom, held at the Temple the evenings of December 11th and 12th.

For once in the history of Wabash Dances, a committee lived up to advance promises in the matter of music for it secured (and had on hand when the proper time came) the Blue and White Kentuckians from Louisville, for the formal dance the first evening, and Ted Weem's Victor Recording Orchestra, than which there has been none better orchestra here in years, with Dusty Rhodes at the drums, for Saturday night's party.

Aesthetically, the party was a wow; financially, it was not a wow, but the committee had the satisfaction of knowing that those in attendance had themselves a time.

The committee in charge consisted of Brown, chairman, Gerard, Clark Robertson, McLain, and Halsey. Halsey, as president of the Junior class, led the Grand March.

Miami Triad, 1926

Unique programs in the form of examination books, featured the Third Annual Miami Triad held at the Masonic Temple, January 28, 1926.

The trio of fraternities which make up the Triad are: Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi, and this dance, their third one, was the most successful that has yet been held.

Each of the three fraternities furnished a man to form the committee, which consisted of Englehardt, McClelland, and Robinson. Carmichael's Band from Bloomington provided the music.

Fiji Costume Ball, 1926

Due to the success with which the First Annual Costume Ball was received, the Fijis determined to make the affair an annual one and put on their second ball February 20th at the Masonic Temple.

Pirates and Princes, Convicts and Colonials, to say nothing of other characters from life, fiction, or history, could be seen the evening of the dance.

The town alumni of Phi Gamma Delta, and representatives from other fraternities were guests of the chapter at the dance. Don Harter's orchestra played the engagement.

Sphinx Club Formal, 1926

The annual Sphinx Club Formal was held May 22nd at the Masonic Temple. As usual the dance was extremely enjoyable, perhaps because the crowd was not so large and left more room in which to dance. A committee from the club had charge of the affair. The dance is given yearly in honor of the spring initiates of the Sphinx Club.

ALUMNI

Hon. THOMAS R. MARSHALL
Born March 14, 1854. Died June 1, 1925

George Andrew Gordon

Died Oct. 29, 1925

At Age Of One Hundred Four Years And Nine Months

Oldest Graduate
of Wabash College
and Oldest College Alumnus in America

George A. Gordon
Age 101

Albert Duy Thomas

Trustee of Wabash College

Born January 17, 1847

Died November 13, 1925

Three Memorials

The year of 1925 marked the removal from this world of three deservedly prominent Wabash men—Thomas Riley Marshall, Albert Duy Thomas, and George Andrew Gordon.

As Vice-President of the United States of America "Tom" Marshall, as he was familiarly known by all Hoosiers, was constantly in the public eye. It has been truthfully said that he was the most popular presiding officer of the United States Senate that that body has ever had.

During the first day that the body of Thomas Marshall lay in state there was placed upon the casket a single large American rose with a card bearing on one side the words, "Wabash, The Class of 1873, Edwin J. Rice, President; Warwick H. Ripley, Secretary." On the other side of the card were the names of the eight living members of the class, and beneath were the words: "The other twelve are with Tom Marshall."

Judge Albert Duy Thomas, '64, died at his home in Crawfordsville on November 13, as a result of a fall suffered ten days earlier in which he broke his hip. The late Judge was a member of the Indiana State Board of Pardons for twenty years and was president of that body at the time of his death. He had served as a member of the Wabash Board of Trustees since 1882 and part of that time as President of the Board.

The death of George Andrew Gordon, the oldest graduate of Wabash, and the oldest college alumnus in America, occurred at the home of his daughter in Eureka, Kansas, on October 29. Mr. Gordon was 104 years and 9 months old. He was a member of the class of '43, although he received his A.B. degree only last June.

In Memoriam

Harry D. Alfrey, ex-'01. Died June 25, 1925, at Memphis, Tennessee.
 Stephen Ira Brown, ex-'75. Died October 6, 1925, at Knox, Indiana.
 Albert I. Burns, '09. Died July, 1925, at Albuquerque, New Mexico.
 Joseph C. Burows, ex-'14. Died August 24, 1925, at Luis Obispo, California.
 Oliver C. Coen, '07. Died December 2, 1925, at Great Barrington, Massachusetts.
 Charles Leo Cummins, ex-'22. Died December 25, 1925, at Farmersburg, Indiana.
 Isaac C. Elston, ex-'53. Died July 6, 1925, at Crawfordsville, Indiana.
 Hiram Orlando Fairchild, '66. Died October 14, 1925, at Newtown, Indiana.
 Charles Ezra Fisk, '01. Died September 25, 1925, at Louisiana, Missouri.
 George Andrew Gordon '25, ex-'43. Died October 29, 1925, at Eureka, Kansas.
 Edward Everett Hanna, ex-'88. Died November 27, 1925, at Crawfordsville, Indiana.
 Thomas Riley Marshall, '73. Died June 1, 1925, at Washington, D. C.
 Anderson E. Martin, '85. Died January 29, 1925, at Chicago, Illinois.
 Frank O. Maxwell, ex-'81. Died May 30, 1925, at Crawfordsville, Indiana.
 Robert McFarland, ex-'26. Died February 22, 1926, at Miami, Florida.
 Wallace Smith, ex-'75. Died June, 1925, at Crawfordsville, Indiana.
 Albert Duy Thomas, '64. Died November 13, 1925, at Crawfordsville, Indiana.
 Henry Lane Wallace, '74. Died January 9, 1926, at Rye, New York.
 George B. Welty, '76. Died December 7, 1925 at Crawfordsville, Indiana.

CAYOU'S LAST TEAM-1906

Francis Cayou, known as "Chief" to Wabash students, was the most famous coach that Wabash has ever had. Coming to Wabash at the time the open game was being developed, Cayou taught his men the new style of play perfectly and the Little Giants became one of the most feared football combinations in the West.

His last team at Wabash, that of 1906, was one of his best. Starting with practically no seasoned material, Cayou built up a team that lost only one game, and that early in the season when the eleven had not fully developed its power.

Cayou's gridders started the season by drubbing South Bend High, 47-0. The following game was lost to Indiana, 5-12, but Wabash came back in the next game and tied the strong Illinois team, 0-0. The showing of Wabash in this game was remarkable as the Illini had one of the strongest combinations in the country. Wabash swept through the remainder of its schedule, downing Rose Poly, 26-0; Purdue, 11-0; Earlham, 35-0; and DePauw, 7-0. The game scheduled with Vanderbilt was cancelled.

The following men composed the team of 1906 and are shown in the picture above: Hugh R. Sutherland, Walter Gipe, L. E. Hess, Walter Sohl, Bill Sprow, F. W. Frurip, C. G. Miller, Doc Garver, Dave Glascock, Gov Brown, F. W. Plummer, Ike Williams, O. C. Burns, H. Powers, P. W. Hargrave, Blondie Patton, J. Adams, L. W. Thom, N. Casey, J. Cohee, M. H. Brubaker, M. L. Green, H. Blair, D. Ivins, J. A. Harris, A. R. Watson, and A. C. Miller.

The Famous Twenty-Second Scrap of 1890

BY EDGAR H. EVANS, '92

"'Twas the night before" as the old rhyme begins but it was a more exciting night than Christmas Eve, at least to the students. The classes of '92 and '93, Sophomores and Freshmen, then, had made elaborate preparations for the celebration of the 22nd of February, 1890.

Weeks beforehand the Freshies had ordered a fine satin banner handsomely decorated and painted with their class year. It was gorgeously beautiful their committee reported, but the class never saw it. Three of the Sophs, secreted on the joists above the Calliopean Literary Society hall, the place of meeting, listened in on all the preparations and brazenly bought the banner from the maker early on the day it was completed. To this day its whereabouts are unknown.

Frosh in Chains

To retaliate the Juniors were brought to the aid of their sister class and on "the night before" the 22nd, acting with great caution, distributed all over town a vitriolic and bombastic "bogus" attacking the Seniors and Sophs. Now the latter maintained an all night scouting organization in a law office above Lacey's book store. One of them by chance picked up one of these choice pieces of literature and ferreted out the method of distribution. Immediately some of the class were assigned to canvas all the streets and during the rest of the night they worked steadily prying from under the doors or picking from off the porches the coveted scraps of paper which were brought to headquarters.

Towards midnight the seat of the conflict was transferred to the campus. Fearing that their opponents would attempt to raise a flag on the belfry at Center Hall, the Freshies established around the building a regular patrol every five minutes. In one of the intervals a group of Sophs who had borrowed a long ladder from the Opera House and sneaked it through the alleys to the west side of the campus, rushed forward and raised the ladder. Four of the party hastily climbed up, pulled the ladder after them and with it got to the top of the tower.

The next day at two o'clock in the afternoon the much heralded Freshman Parade was held. Preceded by the imposing Crawfordsville Brass Band, the first year men luxuriously rode in two horse carriages with tops down. Hardly had they started before the forty Sophs, mounted on horses, went to the head of the procession and continually blew rasping tin fox horns which sadly marred the sweet melodies of the band. When the pre-arranged route was completed, the Freshies put up at the stables on Market Street and all the Sophs but one dismounted at the stable on Main Street. Both classes, still carrying broom sticks or canes, marched toward the Court House corner. The Freshies arrived barely first and blocked the path of the Sophs who undertook to go through the line. Biederwolf, leader of the latter, ducked his head, shouted, "Come on, boys!" and felt the first rap on his back as the sticks mingled. At the height of the excitement, Harry Wedding, who, as calm as he is now, was riding homeward alongside his walking comrades, saw the danger in which the Sophs' banner was placed as the Freshies were pressing toward it. Hastily taking it from the color bearer, he galloped frantically up Washington Street pursued by his baffled enemies, and, rushing into his home, thrust the banner into the stove where the flames soon made it safe. The unexpected turn of events immediately set the participants laughing and joking. However, it took astute negotiations the next day to appease the minions of the law. Four men from each class who lived at a distance, volunteered to be the goats to appear at the Mayor's office and be fined ten dollars each which the classes promptly financed.

The evening after the parade the Junior Debate was held at Center Church. Seated in a body on the east side of the auditorium '92 paid its respects to the authors of the scurrilous bogus by enjoying a much needed sleep all through the profound discussion.

The inharmonious parade, the battle of the sticks and the belfry incident were not exciting enough to satisfy the local newspaper correspondents. Their imagination produced a lurid tale two days later in the metropolitan Sunday papers, according to which there was a prolonged riot, in which Center Hall was stormed, some of the students were hurled from the tower and many badly injured. Various parents from out of town hurried to the seat of war only to find their young hopefuls very much alive and happy, and none the worse for wear.

Coach Jesse Harper

Faces and Scenes Someone Will Remember

Professor Zwigli McLain
Greek Professor—1876-1907

John Hawkes, '03, gets married and goes to housekeeping in Crawfordville in 1902.

Prof. John Lyle Campbell
Physics Professor—1854-1904

Will H. Hays, '03
Now "Czar of the Movies"

Edward Mills
Author of "Early Days in a College Town."

PROF. KINGERY ADVERTISES FOR UMBRELLA

The writing on the board says: "Please return umbrella taken from rack last week. Glad to lend it, but not permanently. The right one has not come yet. Try again."

Wabash War Song

Words and Music by CARROLL RAGAN, Ex '01

INTRO

When the
Through the crash of battle and gun-
the sound-ed from a - cross the night-y deep. There were the
And the tide had turned.

Every man who loved the scar-let felt the
He had plundered, he had mar-dered, he had heart's and hands that ea-ger-ly re-plied, sal-len face had lost his win-ning chance.

Through the
But at blood with a hun-leap, for the spir-it of our fa-thers had not died rav-ished he had burned-de was reck-ing with the blood of black-and France

Copyright 1919 by Carroll Ragan shad-ows of the past we cov-er bear the bu-gle blast, We could last be was at bay our ad-vance he could not stay, With the see the stal-wart fig-ures clad in blue 'Twas the call from sire to son 'Twas a Tom-my and the Poi-lu we broke through. Came a cheer that rent the sky from the fight that must be won. So come on lads its up to you!

CHORUS
Mars to far Shanghai. Free-dom's torch blazed forth a - new On the fields of France from bat-tered Flan-ders down to grey Ver-dun The sons of

Wabash War Song 2

Wa-bash gave their youth and hap-py strength to blot out the bat-tered Hun We reserved their names. We mourn the brave ones sleeping o-ver there Dear Al-ma Ma-ter, watch and guard them through the years, May their mem'-ry be ev-er fair
Quartette
On the field of France from bat-tered Flan-ders down to grey Ver-dun The sons of Wa-bash gave their youth and hap-py strength to blot out the bat-tered

Hun We re-served their names. We mourn the brave ones sleeping o-ver there Dear Al-ma Ma-ter, watch and guard them through the years, May their mem'-ry be ev-er fair

Wabash War Song 4

HIGH LIGHTS

September

The wornout walls of Center Hall
Again resounded phrases
Of "football", "pledged him", "overcut",
And "pipe the rhynie dazes."

The freshman class was large and sour.
The Bachelor's annual story
About enrollment, LARGEST YET,
Came out in phrases hoary.

The frosh-soph scrap resulted in
A sophomoric winning;
The green hats scarcely got a thing
Except a poor beginning.

As is the custom in this school,
The Big Six took the classes,
So now the presidents are hailed
The choices of the masses.

The gratis treat the Strand put out
Was spoiled by rhynie vermin,
So free haircuts were passed about
By Scott and Wicks and Sherman.

It seems that flivvers are a fright—
The trustees up and banned 'em,
And now, instead of constantly,
They're only used at random.

We talked of strikes, no compromise,
Give us our Fords or death.
But no one took us seriously—
We might have saved our breath.

Then Wabash kind of beat Purdue;
Thank God for Harry Painter,
Who snagged a pass to win the game
And make Purdue's cheers fainter.

October

New jackets, gray and very pash,
Adorned the Junior shoulders
And, topped by handsome heads, they were
A joy to all beholders.

The senior cords—we'll only say
The Crisler-Funk committee
Bought Kissell Kars and 'coonskin coats
And carrolled a happy ditty.

The Bureau (News) is cursed for sure.
First Randolph Wedding had it
And broke his leg; then Cory got
The shoulder-breaking habit.

Sport-writers clear from Eckersall
On down to Grantland Ryus
Agreed that Butler rolled in luck
To merely even tie us.

Shrimp Englehardt, our baseball pride,
To everyone's elation,
Was made the leader of the Athletic Association.

November

The Phi Gams had another fire,
And now the chapter's braggin'
That they're goin' to change their pledge pin to
A hook-and-ladder wagon.

And though Illinois beat Wabash,
For great fame we'll make this bid:
That we held the great Grange scoreless,
Which is more than others did.

Homecoming was a fine carouse.
 Most all the grads were present;
 And even pessimists agreed,
 The whole blame thing was pleasant.

The bleachers broke, but Wabash won,
 The rhynies took their beating.
 The dance was swell, the dance was great,
 The dance—oh, quit repeating.

The Fiji's took the day to make
 A formal dedication
 Of the spot whereon their house will stand,
 A shrine to education.

The Junior Prom came off in style.
 The hardy Scarlet Masquers
 Presented Merton Gill's sad life
 Like Zigfelds and Belaskers.

December

Doc Mack resigned; what we may say
 Won't help. We all will miss him.
 We loved him and we wish him luck.
 Here's to Doc Mack, God bless him.

January

Dick Aldridge took the Bachelor reins.
The yearbook's great disaster—
Burned pictures, songs, or what have you;
The loss loomed vast and vaster.

February

Red won the oratorical.
The Kappa Sigs are scholars.
The Glee Club's placing up at Chi
Aroused our joyful hollers.

Spring

Big Ben still ambled lazily
About the town and college;
He seems to get more indigent
The more he sees of knowledge.

The destitute place we've seen
—And this thing isn't funny—
Is Wabash when it's lost a game
Where students bet their money.

Old Center Hall still manages
To hold itself together;
But it will fall in ruins if
We have some windy weather.

Old shoes, old pants, no ties, plaid shirts;
No dates, a lack of cash;
A drink or two, some classwork. There,
You have dear Old Wabash.

The spring was late, but even so,
The season brought some flowers;
The Pan, Cotillion, e-t-c.,
Brought several pleasant hours.

The college clock's the governor
Of Wabash, we might say;
It strikes and ends the classes, or
It starts them on their way.

This is a secret; we can't read
A bit beyond the present,
And so we'll stop with this one wish,
We hope the spring was pleasant.

We'll hope that fame and great success
Attend each Scarlet venture.
And for these lines, we'll only pray
That you'll withhold your censure.

Little Giants' Club

M. G. ROBINSON

R. A. STEPHENS

D. R. VORCE

C. L. WHITACRE

E. C. ROBERTSON

O. W. DeVOL

J. H. MARTIN

R. H. WEATHERMAN

C. H. ENGLEHARDT

C. D. GIPSON

HAYES ROBERTSON

D. P. SHERMAN

E. D. SWEENEY

R. T. CRIPE

F. L. THOMPSON

E. M. HANKINS

B. L. STEWART

C. E. CORDS

FEATURE

The Bachelor

Volume WEAF

Crawfordsville, Indiana

No. 414

CHAPEL SPEAKER RAPS COLLEGE CLASS CUTS

REV. BIX SCORES BOYS

According to Rev. Bix. of the African M. E. Church, "Overcutting is depleting our classrooms."

Rev. Bix made this alarming statement in a short chapel speech a week or so ago which lasted only an hour and a half.

The speaker was pleasantly interrupted from time to time by energetic freshmen in the back of the mammoth convocation room with belches, sniggers, and cries of, "Shut up!" and "Oh, Pipe Down!"

(Continued on page 4)

PROFESSORIAL GRILLING HELD AFRER CHAPEL

The professorial inquisition committee met with representatives of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity in joint session here today. Old Spanish methods were used to wring a confession from Sherman and Veazey concerning the enforcement of house rules at the Phi Delt House. Big Ben who attended the meeting in place of Yerger, was in an uproar at the in-

(Continued on page 3)

Rev. Bix

ANNOUNCEMENT!

It is now too late to get tickets for the Wabash-Butler game, as they was taken off sale two wks. ago. The date for this was to be announced sooner for the benefit of the students but as the Bachelor staff didn't feel like putting out a paper we didn't, so now it is too late to get tickets.

BORN

To Doctor Albert R Bechtel, a nice new mess of spirogyra. Both Bechtel and the spirogyra are doing well.

JEALOUS BETAS ATTEMPT ARSON ON FIJI HOUSE

CORDS HELD FOR $2 BAIL

At close to midnight last evening arson on the person of the Phi Gamma Delta house was attempted by W. A. Frazee, a jealous Beta attending Wabash College.

While Frazee was away from his scene of action for a minute hunting more oil and gasoline, Wicks, alleged to be a student here, turned in the alarm. When Frazee returned he asked Wicks why the devil he had turned in the alarm.

"I like to hear the engines," responded the young hero modestly.

The fire was brought under control by the
(Continued on page 4)

What Do Our Professors Do At Night? DuBois Answers Query

That is the question that this feature story will answer, and it will be a good feature story because DuBois writes good feature stories and this is one of my best. I have written lots of feature stories this year and people tell me that I have got much better at it all the time, though I am too modest to say so myself. Anyway I like to write features, because people like them so well, especially mine.

Now, I shall answer the questions. Professors do a lot of things at night among which are: sleep, correct papers, attend Moose Hall dances, and other things.

I shall write another feature story next week.

THE BACHELOR

Official Student Abortion of Wabash College
Founded 1908

Entered as thirty-second class matter at the postoffice.

Published on occasional Tuesdays and a few Fridays during the college year by the Pressing Club of Wabash College. This publication is never published before or after any vacations.

Q. FILTHY McNASTY DU BOIS.....Editor
Phone 000 ring 2.

Carroll Frances Black.....Mismanaging Editor
No 'phone

Oscar Wilde Arrington.....Society Editor
D. M. (Tweed)?? DuShane.....

.....Exchanges and Phi Beta Kappa News
Joseph Hammond Peetshoe.....Co-ed Editor

R. H. Elder.....Col-yum Misconductor

REPORTERS

No complete list is available. See Delts, Betas, and Kappa Sigs.

BUSINESS STAFF

At present, THE BACHELOR is laboring along without a business staff. Any one desiring information call the Strand Theater. At present the business staff cannot accommodate any more advertisers, as it is devoting all except this 1/2 column to ads. A waiting list will be provided for next year.

OFFICES

Basement of Peck Hall.....Editorial
Strand Theater.....Business
Member of the Montgomery County Horse Thief Association.

Ex-Member of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association.

Quasi-Member of the Moose Lodge and Odd Fellows.

EDITOR OF THE SOMETIME TUESDAY

EDITION.....Lebo

EDITOR OF THE OCCASIONAL FRIDAY

EDITION.....Tolliver

Motto—"On with the publication—may the ads be unconfined."

WE'RE AGIN THE CAVEMAN

It now becomes necessary for The BACHELOR to broadcast the fact that we are now, and during the period of prohibition, will be against the pernicious influence of the Caveman. What has the Caveman done for the Wabash public? How many students strikes has the sheet advocated? What has the Caveman done about warts and gumboils? The answer rolls back in tones that make the welkin resound. "Nothing!"

And probably the most foolish thing the Caveman has ever done is the offering of prizes for copy. Even though there was no response to this offer, the stigma attached to the fact that a Wabash publication made an attempt to purchase copy remains. It will always be a blot on our fair record. Better to be a rank plagiarist, O Caveman, than to buy copy. For these reasons we are agin the Caveman!

204

WE ARE SUPPORTING LARKIN

Tomorrow Larkin Mead goes to New Orleans to enter the Famous Players—Alaska Comedian Contest. The winner of this contest will become the chief pie-receiver for the famous movie corporation. We know, Larkin, that you will do noble and assure you that all Wabash is pulling for you to be ludicrous as possible.

Throwin' It

It's getting so you can't tell the girls from the boys, what with knickers, and boyish bobs and all, says Red Elder.

* * * *

R. H. Elder, the Oldest Living Sophomore, wires from New Mexico to Wabash Bachelor Colyum, Crawfordsville, Indiana.

WILL NOT RETURN TO SCHOOL
STOP GIVE MY SHARE OF BACHELOR CRAFT TO ELDER STOP HE IS A GOOD MAN STOP FIND A LOOSE GATE AND GIVE IT TO KENDALL IN RETURN FOR THE ONE HE GAVE ME STOP HA STOP HA.

ELDER.

* * * *

POME

The boy stood on the burning deck
Eating peanuts by the peck
The bells rang out in great alarm
It isn't the heat, it's the humidity.
—Ye Tongue-tied Garbagecollectah.

* * * *

In a statement to the inspiring reporter today Elder gave his formula for being beautiful and successful. I always keep faith with my public, he said, no matter how many courses I may flunk. There is something bigger and more splendid in life than passing courses and I believe that I exemplify it. You may tell my public that my beauty comes from daily internal application of furnace-room gin and that I attribute my success to my long effort and study, who is my greatest pal and, I may add, my severest critic.

* * * *

Step right up and call me PECAN, because I'm a big NUT.—Ye Long-Drawn Garbagecollectah.

NOVEL SYSTEM TRIED AT BEN WADE COLLEGE

(Special to The Bachelor)

Lapland, Maryland.—Students of Ben Wade college have tried a novel system during the past semester, and report unqualified success. The system was instituted as a result of the disputes between the male and female elements of the school, and it is believed will iron out all difficulties in the future.

Ben Wade is a college of eighteen thousand men and women, located in the heart of the Maryland wheat belt and coal yards. For some time past, the women have complained because the male element insisted on their participating in field day exercises, freshman - sophomore scraps, and the like, and not allowing them any representation on the college paper, "The Ben Wade Inhale", the debate teams, the glee club, the hockey team, and the R. O. T. C. Believing that their rights were as great as those of the firmer sex, the fair denizens of dear old Ben Wade rose in revolt. At the women's smoker held at the Y. W. C. A., early last September, Miss Wilhelmina O'Toole, Dean of Women and Agricultural Students, outlined a plan whereby the women would have their own athletic contests, publish their own paper, etc. As a result, each week in human treatment accorded his playmates by the committee.

Professorial Grilling

(Continued from page 1)

Sherman's fortitude under pain wrung admiring cries even from Carscallen, who was in charge of the inquisition. Nothing could be learned from the courageous Sherman but Veazey finally broke down upon the rack and admitted that the house rule against cribbage playing was not being enforced in the proper spirit. It is thought that the committee will take the matter up with the Board of Trustees.

gymnasium athletic contests are held, and teams are chosen for different sports throughout the year. A huge get-together was held in December at the First Annual Tobacco-Chewing Contest, held in the Armory, which was won by Miss Mandy Teague, with a record expectoration of 7 feet, three and two-sevenths inches, and the plan was pronounced a large success. A few of the records established by Ben Wade girls are: pie-eating contest, won by Miss Imogene Floorburn, with an average of two and two tenths pies per minute for thirty-seven consecutive hours (This record has never been even approached since); Smiling Broad Grin contest, won by Miss Gimme Draper, with a wingspread of ten feet.

THE TRAGIC NET

By the Tragic Nut

Well, it looks like a good year for the Scarlet Wabash Cavemen next fall in Tiddley Winks. With such men as Painter and DeBard left over from last year's varsity and such men as Latimer and Goodman and other Phi Sigs coming over from the freshmen, it looks like a good year.

* * *

We never want to see a better left-wink than Geraldeau. Playing with a sprained wrist in the Notre game, he flipped two consecutive points. He should have been all-state. What's the matter with the Indianapolis Star or Blondie Patton or somebody that this man isn't recognized?

* * *

Rockne may be a good coach but give us Vaughan and Reese every time to turn out a good team. Vaughan for the defense and Reese coaching the forward winks, and even Percy Haughton couldn't beat the Scarlet Wabash Cavemen.

* * *

The referee in the game last night deliberately turned his back when Crowe of the Irish spit in Kip Parr's eye. Somebody is to blame for this or something. How long are Wabash students going to stand for this.

* * * *

End of the line. Step right out and see me shot.

—The Tragic Nut.

Ask Hammet

—for CREDIT
Then Try and Get It!

When in Crawfordsville —Visit the—
WIRE & NAIL MILL

We May Be Burned Down But We're Never Burned Out
DICK and RILEY'S
For Anti-Volstead Prescriptions

ALL THE LATEST TOWN DIRT

By Bayles the Hustlin' Reporter
READ THE REVIEW
Cory Has Left                      We're Good

Eat At BLAKE'S and DIE

Try Our Fresh
GOOSE NIBBLE
A Darned Good Beanery

Jealous Betas

(Continued from page 1)
sterling fire department by the latter part of the week. All matches have been taken away from Frazee, and McCain won't let him have chocolate ice cream any more.

Chapel Speaker

(Continued from page 1)

The speaker finally sat down in good grace amid a storm of hisses from the freshmen. Members of the faculty laughed mildly.

It is hoped that Rev Bix will speak here again, but according to his own statement, interspersed with profanity, he didn't think he'd ever be able to make it here again.

MARRIED

Robert Epegoric Wicks of the class of '86, finally got himself married the other day. The Bachelor forgot to find out whom he married.

RHYNIES—

—See US—

FOR SUPPLIES
MONTGOMERY CO.
LUMBER CO.

LET PROFFITT BURY YOU—

You'll Enjoy It!

Unique Funerals at Moderate Prices

The Sensational Wabash

1926

Lookit!

Volume-Yes

Lookit!

Number-Guess

GEORGE FUNK

CARTWRIGHT, WILLARD G., Delphi, Indiana, Delta Tau Delta. And Willard—the intrepid. Pantomime artist de luxe, as we say in Anglo-Saxon. Here he is portrayed in the garb of a big, tough, two-fisted, bold Caveman. Yes, Tangerine—he does look a great deal like Richard Dix. Same jaw and everything. And could you ever believe that he came from Asbury? This gentleman is unmistakably and irrevocably born; his erudition was garnered in the sanctums of learning at Delphi; both of them. Since entering Wabash's college, he has gathered about him a notable coterie of companions, namely Blacke and Bayles. During the daytime he has been known to show very evident traces of brains.

ROBERT WICKS

208

Feature Seniors

FUNK, GEORGE S., Princeton, Indiana, Beta Theta Pi. The last time George was home there was a tornado, but the townspeople didn't care—it scared George back to Crawfordsville. When he went home for Christmas, it is rumored that the aforementioned townsfolk prayed for anything; tornado, flood, fire, or earthquake. The strong lines on his face denote beard. Funk plans to sell cough drops in later life. George made his money in oil—is oiled much and often. Would die for Beta Theta Pi. Beta Theta Pi wishes he would. Maybe he will.

WICKS, ROBERT C. Once of Anderson, Indiana, Sig Chi pledge. Wicks now has Daytona Beach printed after his name—we don't blame Anderson much. Big hat and shoe man while in Crawfordsville. Is unmarried, and will soon be of eligible age—for a pension. This man was once President of the Student Council, but never presided due to the quorum rule. Undoubtedly a high brow, just look at it. Stand back there, little girl, he has been known to throw that gavel! Misplaced ears due, not to arist, but to nature. Wicks led the recent Hegira from the Sig house to the Y. M. C. A. Freshmen will miss this ton-sorial artist. Robert has a large brain capacity—to be supplied later.

HAYES ROBERTSON

ROBERTSON, HAYES, Kankakee and Chicago Heights. Kappa Sig. Now and forever a member of the Crescent and the Star. Tweed blushed when Robertson was born. So did Robertson. So did Kappa Sig. And so on. Led Robertson contest in Kappa Sig against the Davis influx in Phi Del'a Theta. Has voted oftener and earlier than any other man in college with the possible exception of DuShane. Numeral man. Won first loud-speaking contest in Wabash College. Soapbox for effect. Dark shadows in ears denotes lack of soap at Kappa Sig house.

HAROLD "SQUINT" VEAZY

VEAZEY, HAROLD L., Garrett, Indiana, Phi Delta Theta. What ho! Harold the Horrible! Pride and joy of Phi Delta Theta. Here you see him in his little knickers and cunnin' soxies off to college. Notice the expression of mingled rage and dissipation—he is about to make an eight o'clock. Born: Decidedly, in Garrett. Many famous men have been born in garrets. Secondary education: Garrett High School. Activities: Shakespeare course. Third assistant curry artist on Big Ben—so far Ben has survived remarkably.

DONALD VORCE

VORCE, DONALD R., Ludington, Michigan. Phi Gamma Delta. Here he is folks! Wabash's foremost mezzanine athlete—four letter man, holds, eight state records—not including the now declassse Charleston. It is evident here that the da'e is a blind one, or that she has just taken Vorce's last cigarette—the look of bliss on his face is hardly natural. Born and raised along the shores of Lake Michigan amongst a tribe of hardy, good natured fishermen. We deduce that they must have been good natured, else how would Vorce have survived long enough to get as far as Crawfordsville? He is shown in the accompanying picture in his favorite pose—in the very act of capturing a ra'd'n's heart. Notice how bored he is? Yes, Belledonna, he thinks that it is all very silly, very silly indeed.

Our Feature Scenic Section

Snapshots around the Campus

NEW PHI GAMMA DELTA HOUSE

LIVING ROOM AT KAPPA SIGMA HOUSE (PREPARING GRADE RECORDS FOR THE WEEK)

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA AT LUNCHEON

PROPOSED GIRLS' DORM

THE SIG CHI
COAT-OF-ARMS

THE NEW DELTA TAU DELTA HOUSE

The NEWS BUREAU OF WABASH COLLEGE

"Let the News Bureau Toot Your Horn"

One of the most important of the college activities on the campus this year has been the News Bureau. A fortunate accident prevented Wedding, Delta Tau Delta, from completely ruining the work of this mammoth organization. One Gerald J. Cory, Columbus-born Phi Sigma Alpha, who succeeded Wedding, has suffered from failing health all during the year, which has been a fortunate boon to the News Bureau.

The purpose of the News Bureau is to tell the world and especially the home town of all the deeds and accomplishments of the hardy sons of old Siwash. More lies have probably been told through the efficient service of the News Bureau than by the combined membership of the Wabash Ananias Club, both Alumni and Active Departments. A few of these falsehoods will follow in order of rankness.

Gushings from the News Bureau

The following article, an early child of the News Bureau, first saw the light of day in the poorly printed columns of the Indianapolis Times. It speaks for itself.

Painter Wins Bridge Championship
Gridiron Star Wields Wicked Finesse
Martin In Tears At Spectacular Finish

Harry Painter, a home town boy, has fooled all his feminine admirers and won the W-men's bridge championship. Paired with his playmate, Willard McCorkle, Painter steamed through the feeble opposition offered by the Martin-Sherman combination for the championship.

Sherman was winded at the finish while Martin was crying softly, but, oh, so bitterly. We are glad to see another of our boys distinguishing himself at old Siwash. May the bullets strike him.

McLain Tosses Mean Quadruped's Castoffs
Agile Local Youth Shows Skill
Acquired on Home Grounds

Reid Mozambique McLain, a Crawfordsville youth, we are happy to say, has brought further honors to the town of the author of "Ben-Hur" by winning the All-comers Invitational Horseshoe Hurling Contest at Wabash College this week. McLain was strictly in form and would have had a perfect record, had he not once wrapped the steel around the neck of Professor A. R. Bechtel, who was umpiring the contest. Our hearts pulse with pride as we write of the achievements of this favorite son. May he prosper in his chosen calling.

(The above article, which appeared in the Crawfordsville Weakly Screech, November 22, 1925, was written by R. S. Harvey of the News Bureau Staff. It is another typical specimen of the marvelous work turned out by the News Bureau.)

Local Youth Could Have Won Checker Tourney Kirklin Pride Failed to Enter College Round

Although he was not entered in the checker tourney at Wabash College, the Howl feels sure that our boy, Dana Gipson, could easily have taken this tournament. We know the ability of the Gipsons as checker hounds and make this statement unreservedly.

(The above article was the direct result of News Bureau reporters and appeared in the Kirklin Howl for December 12, 1925.)

Mr. G. W. Cross, local youth at Wabash College, has been reinstated as a member in good standing by the Tuttle Club at that institution, dispatches from the Wabash News Bureau inform us. Ain't that nice?—Lebanon Whoop.

Joe Potts, well-known local man, now attending Wabash College, has recently been pledged to the Night-Howlers Club, an honorary society at the school. We received this information direct from the Wabash News Bureau. We are delighted to hear of fellows that loafed around the post-office.—Ft. Wayne Beacon.

George Effervescent Funk, a well-known Princeton youth who is attending Wabash College, has recently joined the "Shooters of Deuces and Dozens", an honorary union at the college. We have always felt that George's ability with snake-eyes and box-cars would gain him distinction.—Princeton Daily Yell.

(All the above news items were garnered through the tireless efforts of members of the reportorial staff of the News Bureau.)

Home Boy Turns Poet— Another Example of College Life.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 15, 1925.—(Special to Minneapolis Belch) DeWitt O'Kieffe, a Minneapolis product attending Wabash College, has written some beautiful love-sonnets which have taken high rank in intramural poetic competition. Mr. O'Kieffe's poems are of passionate timbre and are full of verve and nicotine. It is rumored that the city of Minneapolis is organizing to exterminate the youthful warbler upon his next trip home.—Minneapolis Belch.

Widespread publicity is being given the fact that a local student of Wabash College has refused to accept the award of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity. William Frazee is the original youth and Rushville is proud of a man that is different. Was it not Emerson who bleated, "Whoso would be a man must be a non-conformist"? It is said in dispatches sent out by the Wabash News Bureau that Frazee refused the honor because his scholastic average was only 64.2 but this has not been definitely established.—Rushville Ranter, April 4, 1926.

The CAVEMAN

OF WABASH COLLEGE

"The Sponger"—Get it?

Vol. 3. 1416

No. 6-12 (Inclusive)

Price 5 & 10

Progressive
But Catty

THE WABASH CAVEMAN

THE BEGINNING NUMBER

VOLUME 3.1416

An Outlaw Publication of WABASH COLLEGE, Crawfordsville, Indiana

The contents of this number may be printed any time any where.

SINGLE COPIES—3 Cents

Editor-in-Chief

BIG CHIEF MINNEHAHA

Business Manager

TAUSSIG

Art Editor

COLES PHILLIPS LENHARDT

Advisory Board

SHAKESPEARE CLASS

ORMES

ANGLO-SAXON CLASS

NUMBER 6-12 (Inclusive)

SIX ISSUES AT INTERVALS

Managing Editor

(in Florida)

MORE COPY

Although the copy turned in for this issue of The Caveman was of unusually high caliber, as was shown in the department, "Verse From the College School," they was not enough. The staff would like to ask that each and every man, woman, and child turn in at least seven pomes for the next edition, which will be dedicated to the Amalgamated Peach Pitters Union of Montgomery County. Anything pertaining to peaches or any puns, jokes, limericks, ballads, or epics, will be most welcome, providing that in some way it refer to Amalgamated.

The future of The Caveman rests in the hands of the students, and it must perish miserable if more contributions isn't handed in. Due credit will be credited to him as turns in copy. This week's honorable mention goes to Lem Elder for his sonnet, dedicated to "A Cow". Goodbye, until next issue.

WE'RE AGIN TH' BACHELOR

We have ever been a conservative sheet. We have never advocated many radical reforms but we are about to begin. We boldly advocate the suppression of Carscallen, th' BACHELOR, hangnails, and Squint Veazey.

Contrary to the policy of the Record-Bulletin and the BACHELOR, we are against toe-nails in the corners of the Y. M. C. A. They are so unsightly. Therefore, we are agin th' BACHELOR.

Literati—"Do you know Poe's 'Raven'?"

Intelligensia—"Dear me, he is? Is he angry at someone or just in love?"

"DESIRE UNDER THE ARMPITS"

A Play in one act, by Hydro O'Malley

(This play won thirteenth prize at the intercollegiate play contest of the state of Indiana, held at Leesburg, Indiana).

Mr. O'Malley is a senior at Wabash's College this fall and has a long and honorable career in journalistic circles while in college. He achieved probably his greatest fame in the above mentioned contest when, with twelve others, he competed for the eight-dollar prize offered by Squibb and Co. Although Mr. O'Malley did not win the prize, he won great distinction for himself and for his Alma Mater through his play "Desire Under the Armpits", a powerful, gripping farce of society life in Carbondale, Pennsylvania. In speaking of the various plays which were submitted for the contest, Mr. Squibb, himself, said: "I was particularly drawn to the play presented by Mr. O'Malley, to wit, viz., i. e., e. g., 'Desire Under the Armpits'. It has a dashing, vigorous style not unlike that of Eric the Red in his 'Greenland or Bust'. I spent a very pleasant six hours reading it, and, although I cannot award it the prize, I feel that its author should not go unmentioned."

The "Caveman" is greatly indebted to Mr. O'Malley for allowing us to run his play.

"DESIRE UNDER THE ARMPITS"

Dramatis Personae

LEM - - - A 1/2 Wit
LES - Lem's Half-brother
MILT - Their Old Man
Hogs and Murderers.

—o—

As the curtain rises, a great outdoor scene faces the audience. In the background are mountains and spaghetti factories. In the foreground a locomotive wends its way slowly across the stage. Left and center stands a farmhouse and a silo. In the garden stands LEM, a 1/2 wit, who chews tobacco and rakes the garden. Three or four hogs romp about in the garden playfully. If possible have the hogs rub up against LEM'S leg to give the idea that though he is a 1/2 wit, he is liked by all animals. Right and center is a town—Carbondale, Pennsylvania. (If the stage is not large enough to accommodate a full-sized town, it will be all right, to preserve the illusion, to have merely three barber colleges and a catsup factory.) A sign should be in a prominent place, reading "Scranton 147 miles" one way, and "Daytona Beach 19856 miles" the other. The sun is shining brightly as the curtain goes up—(if possible, have one of the hogs make a crack about "Sow's your wild oats.") LEM is raking industriously—he spits with great ennui.

ACT ONE

LEM—"That there sun is dad-blamed bright."

First HOG (laconically)—"Yeah."

LEM (to another HOG)—"You needn't act so lazy; a settin' there in the sun. Some day you'll be another kind of bakin'. He, He."

Second HOG (laconically)—"Sow's your old man."

CURTAIN.

A WABASH UTOPIA
(By one who has never been there)

COME ON OVER
BOYS AND PLAY
IN MY YARD

BOT

YES I LIKE YOU BOYS

FREE PARKING STUDENT CARS

AND NOW BOYS
YOU MAY ALL
HAVE A NICE LONG VACATION

DEAN

CUT AT OUT!
FUNK

PROF.
HUTSINPILLAR

THIS HIDEOUS
INDECENCY
MUST CEASE

HOBSON

TAKE THIS PRESIDENCY WITH MY BEST WISHES.

O'KIEFFE

NOT A WORD ABOUT

YES SIR

WITH Apologies to Ellison Hoover

VERSE FROM THE COLLEGE SCHOOL

Twang the doleful lyre for Olaf Mushroom

A good man, full of righteous pash;
The limited rushed roaring by, laden with doom,

The desire for right-of-way cooked
Olaf's hash.

ODE TO MY LOVE—Florence Smithers

Though the rain come down in flashing torrents

And it makes me shiver with the cold,
Still I thing of you, dear Florence;
And know you will catch cold.

Though the ice come down in slithers
And I freeze, it is so cold,

Still my heart turns to you, dear Florence
Smithers,
And I know you will catch cold.

Little raindrops pattering on the sash

Pitty-pat

How you fill me full of dash

Pitty-pat

And pash

Pitty-pat.

A rough man was Costello McWahoo-
bird,

Full rough and fierce and wild,
He took his likker straight, unstirred,
And oft he became beautifully biled.

Refrain: But he done no wrong
He done no wrong.

The day was cold and blustery,

A typical wintery day,
A cow, weak, wan and wretched,

Lay snoring in the hay;
Silently there entered one,

With villainous, subtle mien;
I never knowed what he done,

But it was nothing mean.

Refrain: But he done no wrong
He done no wrong.

The night was blustery and mean
The lightning flashed across the sky,
A rabbit, pale and dissipated
Lay down in its nest to die.

Who has heard it thunder?

Neither you nor I;

But when clouds rip asunder

The thunder passes by.

CAVEMAN CROAKS

Harassed Editor—"What did you do with that Rhinelander evidence copy?"

Assistant—"I gave it to the proofreader."

Teacher (to dunce in the fourth grade): "Little boy, can you give me a sentence with the word 'ratiocination' in it?"

Little Boy (who is a dunce in the fourth grade): "No."

Big Football Hero—"A lot of good material was uncovered at the Y. M. C.
A. last night about three o'clock."

Stroke Oar on the Varsity Crew—
"You don't mean to tell me. How?"

B. F. H.—"There was a fire on the third floor."

Do you Charleston?

No, but I Walla-Walla.

Struggling Captive (to shirk) "Now that you have me, what are you going to do with me?"

Shark—"I'll bite."

Wouldst, Wilberforce, warble the meaning of B. V. D.?

I'fackins, Browngravy, I deduce Before Volstead's Disaster.

West Pointer (to his blind date):
"What do you think of corporal punishment?"

Blind Date (right back at West Pointer): "Why, gracious, I hardly know him well enough to pass judgment on him."

The Wabash Bull- Recordin'

Catalogue Number

Price $100.00 Per Annum
Published Monthly, for a Consideration, by Allen Saunders
Catalogue, by Osborne

MAY, 1926

Prefatory Note

The material in this directory has been in the process of collection during several years, although most of it was gathered last week. Since the early part of April of this year the work has been almost continuous due to heated words of the Editors of this section and O'Kieffe, Editor-In-Chief. Every effort has been made to secure inaccuracy. We don't believe in the truth about this institution because it is poor policy and does not secure the registration of the gullible ones as fast as it should.

Nothing in the Bull-Recordin' has been checked and no proof has been read but we are not worried about the errors in this copy. Let the reader worry about them. Come to Wabash or stay out, we don't give a D-n.

A List of Officers and Instructors.

Dr. Mackintosh
Prof. Beddie

(N. B. All the other members of the faculty and official body were out on a wild party at the time of compilation. Some time later we will endeavor to find out who they are even if we have to bail them out ourselves. Service, that's our motto.)

Recipients of Honorary Degrees

Harry Wills—Given degree of High and Mighty Waffle-Ironing-Board.
Tecumseh—Under Consideration at the present.
James Warner Bellah—Invited to attend college—refused.
Oscar Wilde—He's dead, poor thing.
Cross and Funk—Under consideration for A. B.

Alumni Since Foundation of College

(Very few men have graduated during the 95 years of the existance of this institution but several have attended. We are sorry to report that the Registrar, while in a temporary fit of depression over his poor tennis form, has destroyed the list of alumni and graduates. Another and more notable list will appear next year.)

Some Quaint Pointers For First-Year Men

(The Bull-Recordin' has compiled at much hazard a list of things for Rhynies to do or not to do on their entering college.)

1. Advice for a Freshman about to register—don't, for a few days at least. Enjoy life while ye may.
2. Don't swear at the Treasurer if he makes a mistake in your bill. He's human, isn't he?
3. It is considered poor form to offer the Registrar a drink on the day of registration. Wait until you have been properly introduced.
4. Take all fraternity dinner invitations. It saves money.
5. Use good language when addressing a professor. You may convince the faculty that you do not need Freshman English. We tried this but failed. We also failed after a year's work in the course.

6. If you were a star athlete at your school, you are privileged. Tackle the football coach when you meet him on the campus. Mr. Vaughan will like you at once.

7. It is thought poor form to offer Professor Carscallen a chew of Beechnut. Records prove that he chews Mail Pouch.

8. Tell Professor Gronert that you play tennis—then register in all history possible.

9. When talking to the Registrar speak in a deep, guttural voice. He is the German professor.

10. Do not whistle in chapel. That's no way to make the Glee Club.

12. All the above things should be done in a deeply religious sense. You may become a missionary to the heathens near Lebanon.

COURSES

Political Economy—Every hour, every semester. An intensive study of the various graft systems and crooked deals used in the past. Tammany Hall applied directly to the Wabash campus. For the sake of sport and to help destitute students through college, the fraternities have been divided into the Big Six and Little Four, each making every effort to control everything. Laboratory fee of $5 for knives and guns.

Athletics—Study is legalized mayhem and its effect on students from moral, God-fearing homes. First semester devoted to fundamentals, such as: 1. Primitive murder; 2. Death by strangling; 3. The use and handling of dull, blunt, instruments. Second semester takes up laboratory work on Ingalls Field. Text: From Freshman to Undertaker in Ten Lessons. Professors Vaughan, Reese and Scholler.

American Literature—Contemporary American literature studied every evening. Reading elective. Required texts: the American Mercury, Whiz Bang, La Vie Parisienne (no reading necessary. You can look at pictures, can't you?), The Wabash Bachelor. Excerpts from the Bible and the works of the eminent Francois Rabelais. Term paper required on any decent subject.

Campustry—Six hour courses, and still too short. How to get by; the selecting of pipe-courses; the rise and decline of the balloon trouser; the shortcomings of town dates; hot lines and their effect on the hearers; letters pleading for money, etc. Must be taken by every student as a major course. You would take it anyhow, whether you had to or not.

Gambling—The various systems. The pinch system of throwing dice; ace control; how to read a form sheet. The students in this course must have a checkered suit and no sense of honor. No credit. Pool and billiard shooting required for entry. Hermann the Great has been secured to instruct the class in poker playing.

Alcoholics—Comparatively new course, but being steadily enlarged to meet the demand. First semester: government alcohol and its disguises. Second semester: The various phases of the Wright Bone Dry Law; fooling Jerry Grimes; nosing out speak-easies. Advanced work: preparation of non-lethal fluids, suitable for decorating the human interior. Professor, Jack Bannister.

W

Foreword

In editing this copy of the Handbook, Pi Delta Epsilon is not only not trying to do the college a service, but it is trying to put Delta Tau Delta through college also. To most of the students, the Handbook is indispensable. It fills a long-felt need for a combination pen-wiper, crib sheet, stamp holder, and fraternity list for freshmen only. We have made a great many mistakes in the editing of this Handbook—of that we are certain. However, what do you expect for fifty cents? The gymnasium?

Contents

Delta Tau Delta	Page 2
Pi Delta Epsilon	Page 2
Wabash Songs and Yells	Page 3
Honor Societies (not inc. $\Delta\tau\Delta$ )	Page 2
Individual Grade Record	Page 3

1925-1926

Delta Tau Delta

211 East Pike Street (in conjunction with the Elk's Club)

Telephone 780—or if not in call Strand Cafe)

Founded 1859 at Tri-State Barber College.

Beta Psi Chapter founded 1872.

Charter revoked when Ole Johnson left school. Charter given back when McCabe left school.

Official Publication—The Bachelor.

Flower of the Fraternity—Cartwright.

Color of the Fraternity—Huffine.

Trombone Player of the Fraternity—Wilhelm.

Fratres In Facultate—

Mush Miller

Fratres In Collegio—

Kruse

Swatts*

* indicates pledge member.

Our Little Honor Societies

(Not including Delta Tau Delta)

No. 1—The Hegira Club

The Hegira Club is an honorary society in History. In order to qualify for membership, one must know what the Carolina Governors said to each other and why, and must be acquainted with the law under which the United States tried a certain inhabitant of New Jersey who suggested that the president be kicked in the rear bulge of his breeches.

The Hegira Club will doubtless hold another meeting next year, so it is highly desirable that one be a member. The chief topic of discussion for this year has been the 18th amendment.

No. 2—Pi Delta Epsilon

(See discussion of Delta Tau Delta)

No. 3—The Academy

(See article on Cemetery)

No. 4—The Tuttle Club

The Tuttle Club has gradually been recovering from the blow dealt by the defection of Gumz and Cross. New life has been infused through the pledging of J. H. Martin and Willard Cartwright. Much cannot be expected in the future from the Tuttle Club because of the wave of atheism which is spreading over the collegiate campus.

(See note in Bachelor on resignation of Dr. Oldfather; also, short article concerning graduation of Fadely in '25.)

Beta Representative—J. Waldgreen Potts—99.44% pure.
 Sig Chi Representative—J. Desiree Hollett—Less than  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1%.
 Commons Club Representative—Y. M. C. A. Sento—More than  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1%.
 Karnak Club Representative—Q. Oleomargarine Cross—3%.
 Phi Gam Representative—Q. Feenamint Vorce—0%.
 Lambda Chi Representative—F. Behave-Yourself Kostanzer—?
 Phi Delta Representative—H. Passion-Flower Veazey—93.3%.
 Kappa Sig Representative—H. Vallindigham Robertson—$.
 Delta Tau Representative—(No man survived finals)
 Phi Sigma Alpha Representative—J. Geraldine Cory (Nervous breakdown).

Domroese, Registrar.

SONGS

There was a little school,
And its name was Old Wabash;
And no boys there are fools,
(harmony: not very)
But every one is pash.

THE "FLORIDA SPECIAL"

Real estate! Boom!
Real estate! Boom!
Real estate! Real estate!
Boom! Boom! Boom!

THE "LOYALTY WHOOP"

Crack Crack! Crack!
Whack! Whack! Whack!
Hit 'em! Git 'em!
Hit 'em! Git 'em!
(Close harmony)
Our boys done noble, B'Gar!

ADVERTISERS

Fraternity Jewelry

Dance Programs

Stationery

Quality and Service

M. C. LANG

Kahn Bldg.      Indianapolis

SANITARY

MILK DEPOT

R. MOORE

Every Physician, Nurse, or Mother, who investigates our methods used producing our milk cannot help being convinced of its superior qualities both for the baby and the old members of the family.

DEER'S PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

G. W. DEER & SON CORP.

For Shoes that Are Correct on the Campus or Off. See—

Balsley & McWilliams

105 No. Washington St.

The Store of Better Shoe Service

WABASH MEN!
THE EQUITABLE LIFE OF IOWA
Is a Good Company

We Give Complete Insurance Service
You Will Be Interested in Our Proposition

J. R. Townsend, (Former Athletic Coach)
520 Board of Trade Bldg., Indianapolis Manager

Cliff Peterson, 206 Ben-Hur Bldg.,
Crawfordsville Representative

QUALITY                      SERVICE

—and—

GOOD FOOD

always found at the

CRAWFORD CAFE

—Black, Prop.—

CIGARS - CANDY

—and—

BILLIARDS

High Class Fountain Service
We Cater to Students

EDWARDS & EDWARDS

Barber Shop and Cigar Store

THE FEDERAL PHOTO CO.

Genuine Photographic Post Cards
Photographic Prints in Quantities

CRAWFORDSVILLE
INDIANA

NORTHERN IND. GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

If It Can Be Done With Heat
It Can Be Done Better With Gas.

To the four Winds They Scatter—

Joe goes East.

Freddie gets married, out West.

Jimmy takes a position in Chicago.

Time will erase the memory of

College Days

The Reproductions of Our Photographs in this Book

Will Forever Recall

The Pleasant Events of the Past

Hirshburg

"College and High School Photographer"

Crawfordsville, Ind.

Joseph Binford & Son

"We Sell the Coal"

ONE THING MR. HOOVER HASN'T STANDARDIZED YET THE AMERICAN FAMILY

And until he does, we must keep on building homes.

Wray-Bilt

When you are ready have your home

WRAY-BILT

GUS WRAY

General Contractor

Montgomery County Lumber Company

We Sell Lumber

Phone 1300

(Opposite Monon)

A Young Man Starts to College

His Adventures and Things on the Way to the Depot

"My boy," said Mr. Perkins, with tears in his eyes as he blew his nose, "You are leaving home to go to college. God bless you." And the old man bowed his head religiously.

If Dan Perkins had had a mother she would probably have cried and said nice things, too, but alas, the poor boy had no mother. Of course, he had had one, but she had run away with the ice man either ten or eleven years ago, and, as the price of ice had steadily increased she had never come back. So his mother wasn't there, which was probably just as well, as the old man had had a hell of a time with her while she had lived with him.

"God bless you, too," said Dan, for he was an unselfish boy and always divided what was wished on him, including the gym itch which he had divided with his father, to the old man's annoyance, and later, during the hot weather, intense discomfort.

"May God bless you, my son," said the old man, who forgot that he had said it before.

"Same to you," answered his son, facetiously, knowing that his pop had repeated, yet not wanting to hurt the old gent's feelings. Little things bothered the old man so. When the house had burned the year before with all the belongings in it and none of the insurance on it, he had become very irate, and had talked to God and other people in a strange fashion. And when his wife had gone with the ice man he got sour for a week and didn't take any more ice. The milk got sour too, for it was warm weather, and anyone knows that milk can't stand the heat. Pa Perkins sometimes thought that it was warm weather that gave his wife the strange feeling for the ice man—he was a union ice man, although he had not paid up his dues for a long time—and anyway Mrs. Perkins always acted strangely when warm weather came. Perhaps it was a bit of the animal in her. The ice man had a canoe that was eighteen feet long. That is beside the point, however.

After this last speech, Dan resolutely put on his hat which had a purple band, and yellow spots which were caused when he got caught in a shower.

Mr. Perkins stuck out his hand. It was a nice hand although the finger nails weren't so very clean. Dan, remembering that the old man had a ring on the third (or was it fourth?) finger, playfully gave the hand a terrible squeeze, thereby making the ring, which, by the way was a sharp one, almost cut the flesh on the old man's next fingers to the bone.

"Ow, you blamed fool," asserted the old codger, laughingly, and he gave his son a wicked sock in the solar plexus.

Dan belched twice, felt to see if his money was in his pocket, picked up his carpet bag, slung his last winter's coat over his arm, picked up his valise, picked up his ample lunch, and deftly picked the old man's pocket as he was adjusting his suspenders and had modestly turned from his son while doing so.

Mr. Perkins, for Dan and he were the only two people in the room at that time, although there had been more a few days ago when some relatives had dropped in for a visit, bowed his head for a minute of silent prayer. While he was doing this, Dan, who was an observing lad, saw his chance and sneaked out the front door.

When the old man looked up and saw that his scion was gone he was very much perplexed, until his only progeny stuck his towsled head through the window and yelled, "April Fool, daddums!"

His pappy seeing the joke, for it was only the first part of September, laughed heartily at his son's evident good humor, and came back at his saying, "Oh, I don't know, you rapscallion."

With this bit of badinage they parted the best of friends, although the fact that his old man had not even tried to kiss him still rankled a bit in the boy's slightly perverted mind.

He threw his shoulders back as far as they would go, which wasn't very far because he was slightly muscle-bound, and breathed deep of the invigorating air from the stockyards, he started out.

How many of the youth of our land are doing the same thing? Out into the world in the quest and thirst for knowledge they go. Unquenchable spirits, full of youth and vitality. Brave hearts! How many? Just lots and lots of them. Dan was no exception to the rule, for as we have said that's exactly where he was heading for: college and a college education and all that it carries with it, which includes other things such as:

1. A stern appreciation of the great commonwealth's laws, namely, the Volstead Act, as well as the Mann Act, the Stamp Act, several Vaudeville Acts, and lots of little Covert Acts.

2. A chance to learn to meet men, and women too, to look them straight in the eye, to state your business, and to not take up too much of their time. Or, as Rotary has it, to play fair with the Golden Rule in business.

3. And lastly, but none the less important, the chance to scrub the other fellow's back.

So as Dan started out he felt the thrill of business, he heard the wheels of commerce grinding the grist of business, which is, as anyone knows, economically what makes the world go round. Although it might go round anyway, because it has for so long. One never knows what might happen, though.

And as Dan felt the thrill of accomplishment go over him he swore in case of a train or steamship disaster to let the women off first, to support the Child Labor Law, and to keep the dandruff off of his coat collar. With those resolutions his load seemed a little heavier, and with a clear, calm, virile look in his eye, the left one, he was saving the right one for something else, he started off with a Goodyear tread for the depot. He could think of no special reason why he should head for the depot except that the trains all stopped there, except nine of them which didn't, but being in a hurry merely whistled politely, and in a sudden burst of enthusiasm he decided to take one of them, because the college was several hundred miles away and Aunt Sophy had made him promise to take care of his bunions. His aunt Sophy lived in Gary, but she was a good woman. She was good for a lot of things, but not for looks.

Approximately one block from the station he stopped before a newsboy's mart.

"Paper?" said the little tike, for his business was selling them.

(Continued on page 234)

THE WABASH

MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

INCORPORATED 1851

HACKLEMAN & SHIELDS AGENCY

302 Continental Bank Bldg.

Indianapolis, Ind.

Wabash Go-Getters of This Company

Frank J. Cleland

Richard Habbe

Ralph W. Hackleman

Glen Diddel

Ward H. Hackleman

We Want Other Wabash Representatives

A Fine Opportunity After Graduation

WABASH COLLEGE

Crawfordsville, Indiana

Established 1832

CALENDAR

First Semester, September 14

Second Semester, January 29

GEORGE LEWES MACKINTOSH, D.D., LL. D., President (Sabine Foundation).....	15 Mills Place
JAMES HARVEY OSBORNE, A.M., Associate Professor of Latin and Mathematics, Emeritus; Secretary of the Faculty .....	414 Crawford Street
HUGH MacMASTER KINGERY, Ph. D., L.H.D., Litt. D., Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, Emeritus .....	Care of Wabash College
JASPER ASAPH CRAGWALL, Sc.M., Thornton Professor of Mathematics.....	Kennedy Place
GEORGE HENRY TAPY, A.M., Professor of Education and Psychology.....	6 Mills Place
*EDGAR KINCAID CHAPMAN, S. M., Peck-Williams Professor of Physics.....	505 South Grant Avenue
JOY LUTHER LEONARD, A.M., Professor of Economics.....	Yountsville
*CLARENCE ELDREDGE LEAVENWORTH, A.M., Professor of the Romance Language and Literature.....	1000 South Grant Avenue
CHARLES HENRY OLDFATHER, Ph. D., Lafayette Professor of the Greek Language and Literature and Ancient History.....	609 Crawford Street
JAMES INSLEY OSBORNE, Ph. D., Yandes Professor of the English Language and Literature.....	414 Crawford Street
FREDERICK CARL DOMROESE, A.M., Professor of German; Registrar.....	405 Meadow Avenue
GEORGE VALENTINE KENDALL, A.M., Milligan Professor of English; Dean.....	502 W. Wabash Ave.
BENJAMIN HARRISON GRAVE, Ph. D., Professor of Zoology.....	604 East Market Street
ALBERT REIFF BECHTEL, Ph. D., Rose Professor of Botany.....	708 West Wabash Avenue
NEIL CHARLES HUTSINPILLAR, A.M., Associate Professor of English.....	Y. M. C. A.
GEORGE ERNEST CARSCALLEN, A.M., Associate Professor of Mathematics.....	112 North Barr Street
JOHN ALLEN SAUNDERS, A.M., Assistant Professor of Romance Languages.....	209 South Grant Ave.
FERGUSON REDDIE ORMES, A.M., Associate Professor of Economics.....	9 Mills Place
RALPH THOMAS CASE, A.B., D.B., Professor of Biblical Literature and Religious Education .....	905 West Wabash Avenue
WILLIAM NORWOOD BRIGANCE, A.M., Professor of Public Speaking.....	110 South Barr Street
ALDIS BYRON EASTERLING, A.M., Assistant Professor of Romance Languages.....	402 West Market St.
ROBERT WALLACE BRUCE, A.M., Assistant Professor of Psychology.....	208 South Grant Ave.
THEODORE GREGORY GRONERT, Ph. D., Professor of History.....	312 South Washington Street
LLOYD BRELSFORD HOWELL, Ph. D., Professor of Chemistry.....	211 South Grant Avenue
GEORGE W. HORTON, A.M., Acting Professor of Physics.....	Y. M. C. A.
FREDERICK SMITHSON, A.M., Acting Professor of Chemistry .....	108 Central Avenue
JAMES S. BEDDIE, A.M., Assistant Professor of Classics .....	1000 South Grant Avenue
WILLIS HUGH JOHNSON, A.B., Instructor in Zoology .....	1006 Elmore Street
CHARLES THOMAS CADDOCK, JR., A.B., Instructor in Romance Languages.....	1000 South Grant Ave.
ROBERT EDWARD VAUGHAN, Head Coach of Football and Basketball.....	221 West Main Street
HARRY M. SCHOLLER, Director of Athletics .....	207 1/2 East Main Street
KARL BURDETTE HUFFINE, Manager of Athletics .....	1109 West Main Street
FRANK H. REESE, Assistant Coach of Football .....	207 1/2 East Main Street

*—On leave of absence, 1925-1926.

LIBRARIAN

HARRY STRINGHAM WEDDING, A.M., .....704 South Green Street

ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN

MISS ELEANOR RISTINE .....504 West Wabash Avenue

TREASURER

JAMES GILKEY WEDDING, Sc. B. ....112 South Grant Avenue

A thoroughly equipped plant and strong teaching force.

Five College Buildings.

Modern Laboratory and Gymnasium.

Graduates from Indiana Commissioned High Schools and other approved fitting schools admitted to Freshman class without examination.

Students not prepared for Freshman class are furnished necessary instruction for entrance.

Seven Honor Scholarships are offered to graduates from Commissioned High Schools.

All graduates receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Optional course combination with technical and professional schools.

Expenses low. Send for Catalogue to PRESIDENT G. L. MACKINTOSH, Crawfordsville, Indiana

(Continued from page 231)

"Yes," replied our hero, laconically. Dan and our hero are one and the same person, in fact they are identical. "Yes," continued Dan, or our hero, "I believe I do want one. Let me see—are they two or three cents?"

"Three," asserted the lad, stubbornly, for he had his price.

"Haven't you a mused one you could give me a special price on?"

"I'm afraid not, sir," argued the boy tearfully, "You see, I'm the only support of a poor widowed mother, and my father gets drunk all the time and beats me, the dog, the mother, and little sister, who is a cripple, and can't strike back at him, but can only curse him. In fact he beats all of us. But he is my father, at least mother tells him so, and I won't talk nasty about him. I love him, indeed I do."

Tears fell from Dan's eyes, and perspiration, for it was a hot day.

"You believe I love him, don't you, sir?" the boy pleaded.

"You bet I do," asserted Dan vehemently, wishing to alleviate the child's anguish.

"It's good of you to say so, sir—you don't know how much it helps me in my work. But now, back to business. How about that paper you were talking about?"

"If I were sure it were in good condition, I'd——" mused Dan.

"Oh, sir, I guarantee all my papers. Money back if not satisfied. Have no worry on that score, sir. I couldn't afford to do business on any other basis. Why, sir, you're the first man who's ever spoken to me like that. It hurts," and the poor little tad broke down completely.

"There, there, I'll buy your paper. See the the bright, shiny pennies. See, see. I'm sorry I hurt your feelings."

The boy handed him a paper and took the money.

"It's folks like you who keep us down and grind us in the dirt of your ** ** capitalistic system," cried the boy fiercely to our hero. He also kicked him on the shins.

Dan stepped back with a sore leg and started toward the depot. All the way there he could see the dirty little urchin thumbing his nose at him. Dan laughed ruefully and said, philosophically:

"The way of the world. One sees it everywhere. The woman always pays." With that cheering thought he bounced up to the ticket window.

"How do you do, sir," he said to the ticket agent, for indeed it was the ticket agent. In fact, he had on a hat that said ticket agent on it, and unless he had borrowed someone else's hat he was the ticket agent sure enough.

"Fine, thanks, how's yourself?" answered the ticket agent affectionately, for he loved horses. His wife often said of him, jokingly, of course, "Sometimes I think he loves horses more than he loves me. Why, would you believe it?—sometimes he rolls over in his sleep and neighs."

"I'm going to college," said Dan, frankly, for he was a straightforward boy and didn't believe in beating around the bush.

"Gorgeous," beamed the ticket agent. "Might I be so bold as to ask whether barber, business, or football college?"

"Certainly, grandpap, you may ask, and I'll answer you to the best of my ability," replied Dan deprecatorily, for he respected white hair and many years. "I think I shall go to the last one named, for you see," he explained, "I hate the smell of hair during warm weather, and as for business,—well, you know how business is, so I think I shall attend the other. I adore football games, don't you?" he finished winningly.

"Dear me, yes," answered the old hypocrite, who didn't know any more about a football game than he did about the World Court, which knowledge of his was terribly meager, "I find football games so ah, shall we say, 'stadium'?"

"Just the word, and so they are," countered Dan, slyly laughing up his sleeve at the old man's knowledge of Latin.

The ticket agent, feeling himself in deep water and wishing to change the subject, then said,

"Now, in regard to that ticket you were speaking of——"

"I don't remember having spoken of one," rebutted Dan, in the perfect syntax for which he was noted down by the gas house, "But to be sure I do want one."

"What kind do you prefer?" broke in the agent sinisterly.

A look of blankness spread over the face of our hero, for indeed he had not given variety a thought. He coughed once, then his naturally quick mind came to the rescue and he shot back,

"What kind have you got?"

"Pink, red, lavender, white, blue, and green," reeled off the man drowsily.

Dan gave a quick look at his necktie. It was red. Joy, a red ticket would give him a perfect match, provided of course, that the shade was right.

"Give me a red one," he demanded brusquely.

Without a word the ticket agent threw it disdainfully on the counter. He had sold so many tickets that it was nothing new to sell one more. And he sold a lot of red ones, too.

Dan took the ticket and walked over to the window. There, before God and everybody, in the pure, pale sunshine he matched ticket and tie. There was a perfect co-ordination between them. With a muttered prayer of Thanksgiving, although it did not come till the last part of November, he walked back and paid for his ticket.

The agent, in good spirits again, shook him by the hand and wished him "Bon Voyage," and pecks of luck. Dan walked out on the platform.

The bulletin board said that the train was one hour late. His Aunt Celina, however, had told him never to believe in signs, and he never had. One time he had seen a sign that said "Wet Paint." The paint was wet and he had spoiled a suit. But Aunt Celina was right, for that was merely an exception to her rule.

Soon a train thundered up. Immediately Dan ran up to the engineer and asked,

"Is this my train?"

"What color is your ticket," asked the pilot of the monster in slightly broken English. But anybody's English would be broken, probably his back too, if he had made a long run with hand on throttle as that Big Teuton had.

Dan took out his ticket, which he was holding in his hand, and studied it carefully. "Red, I think," he answered, plaintively.

"Then, young man, this ain't your train. Next aisle over—and it's special bargain day, too.

Dan didn't think to say "thank you" for just then the blonde engineer expectorated a large quantity of tobacco juice, or at least it looked like tobacco juice,

(Continued on page 238)

C. O. HAFFNER, O. D.

OPTOMETRIST

Next to Strand

COMPLIMENTS

of

R. R. DONNELLY & SONS CO.

When You Want Electrical

Service
or Merchandise

with

Quality

Call 790

SYMME & WILLIAMS ELECTRIC SHOP

115 S. Green St.

WABASH STUDENTS have their

CLEANING and PRESSING

done at

WILL MISCH'S

The Orthophonic Victrola

Sold By

The Claypool-Lacey Music Co.

"The Home of Good Music"

Mason & Mamlin Pianos

FIRST WITH NEWS

Sound, Straight-forward Policy

The Crawfordsville
Journal

A Newspaper Devoted to the Best Interests of Crawfords-ville and Montgomery County.

The Pearlman Grocer Company

—o—o—o—

WHOLESALE GROCERS

—o—o—o—

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.

(Continued from page 235)

and it hit Dan in the right eye, overflowed the eye and spread in large, brown ring-lets all over the hero's face. Dan turned away convulsively, in time to hear an apologetic laugh from the tonneau of the large "Iron Horse," although it was not really a horse, but only called so because the ticket agent loved horses so and the president had given him the right to call it "Iron Horse" on his last birthday. He was fifty-five, but didn't look a day over 39, and wasn't, in fact, quite gray around the temples yet.

---

"Reflection"

The drowsy air of her boudoir was heavy with incense; it was subtle, enchanting. Rich velvet hangings lent an air of mystery—the whole room was esoteric. Deliquescent, veiled lights shone dimly from the high ceiling, throwing the opposite side of the room into shadowy relief.

I knew, as I waited, how fortunate I was to be there, in this sanctum. Few were admitted to its precincts, and I—I had become a part of them. Henceforth it was mine—and its owner was my slave. I waited, impatiently; finally the curtains that concealed the other side of the chamber parted, and she came slowly in.

Can mere words serve to describe her beauty? It was in perfect harmony with the Oriental surroundings; hers was a sinuous beauty. She stood in the doorway for a moment, allowing my eager eyes to drink in her exotic charm. Slowly she came towards me, walking with a queenly dignity, yet with a swaying, undulating grace.

Deliberately she seated herself on the chair facing me, and leaned so close that her hot breath was upon me. The soft perfume of her hair—the soft clinging gown that she wore—all about this woman made her irresistible. Her great, brown, languorous eyes surveyed me carefully, then slowly the heavy lids closed, and her soft body relaxed.

"You are beautiful tonight," she said, slowly.

And I was.

I was her dresser mirror.

---

"Swinging"

And so they were swinging on the gate. Far, far into the silly—pardon us, we mean stilly—far, far into the stilly night, they were swinging on the gate. Yea, the old picket gate creaked methodically to and fro, and for every time it creaked to, it creaked fro. And they clung to it, moving with its every move, softly sighing unto each other. Far in the distance the cheesy moon was slowly sinking in aromatic luminence. Ravenous cats pled hungrily to this same cheesy moon but it heeded not. It sank lower and lower.

Still they swung on the old garden gate. Silence reigned supreme save for the soft swish of the cattle's tails in the pasture as they Charlestoned by. Pax noctis reigned. There was no vulgar sound to break the perfect peace and contentment of this happy scene. Little Cupids flitted laughingly by, happy in the knowledge of another conquest. And still this pair of soulmates swung on the old garden gate.

And why shouldn't they swing?

For they were the hinges and the chain was loose.

Laugh and the World Laughs
With You

Read The

WABASH
CAVEMAN

And Join the "Gang"

When hungry or in need of School Supplies

THE

WABASH BOOK EXCHANGE

Is at Your Service

BLAKE'S CAFE

Quality, Service, Popular Prices

THE WABASH

WABASH COLLEGE

USES EUREKA EQUIPMENT

Em Roe Sporting Goods Co.

209 W. Washington St.

Indianapolis, Ind.

(Opposite State House)

W. C. MURPHY & CO.

GOOD CLOTHES ALWAYS

Celebrated Club Suits and Top Coats

Arrow Shirts      Arrow Collars

Lewis Underwear

Miller Hosiery

Chelson Hats      Roll It Caps

Eisenstaedt Bros. Neckwear

Towers' Rain Coats and Slickers

Agents for the Royal Tailors
Made-to-Measure Clothes

122 South Washington Street

INDIANA
PRINTING CO.

CRAWFORDSVILLE

"College Printing at Its Best"

HAMMET
BOOK STORE
216 E. MAIN ST.

Where the Students enjoy buying and their purchases are appreciated.

WELCOME
ABASH

The Store for Gifts

DRUGS

SUNDAES

Soda Fountain Service
Unexcelled

BETSY ROSS CHOCOLATES

Sold Exclusively—Fresh Every Week

Parker Fountain Pens and Pencils

Dick & Riley

Corner Main and Green Sts.

Prescription Druggists

CIGARS

STATIONERY

STEPHEN MILLER

Thirty Years in the Plumbing and Heating Business

RELIABLE
WORKMANSHIP

That's Our Proud Policy

116 N. Green St.      Phone 1590

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

QUALITY REPAIRING

Shoe Hospital

RUSHTON LAFOLLETTE, Prop.

107 North Green St.

The Crawford Barber Shop

---

Expert Work
Excellent Service
Courteous Treatment
Sanitary Methods
Six Barbers—No Wait

---

(In the Crawford House)

The Bachelor

of WABASH COLLEGE

Official Student Newspaper Published Twice a Week During the Academic Year

All the College News—Always Interesting

Subscription Price: $2.00 a Semester

The Bachelor

Crawfordsville, Indiana

ELSTON BANK & TRUST CO.

The Oldest Bank in Crawfordsville

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $250,000.00

Prompt Attention to All Business Entrusted to Us
FOUR PER CENT INTEREST ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES

YEA—WABASH

IF WE HAVEN'T
IT
WE WILL GET
IT
FOR YOU

Wide Awake Store

Van Cleave

THE PICTURE FRAME MAN

Fraternity Work a Specialty

(Rear of Trask's Jewelry Store)

THE TRIBE OF BEN-HUR

A Fraternal Beneficial Society with Assets of $6,000,000.00

Protects the Home and Family through Life Insurance for Men, Women, and Children

Home Office: Crawfordsville, Indiana

R. E. KOSTANZER

Washington Pharmacy

109 South Washington

Phone 1471

"Unexcelled Fountain Service"

Drugs

Cigars

Eastman Agency

Sheaffer Pens

Correct Collegiate Clothes

A lot of stores do the best they know how for you. A few know how to do the best for you. Here we get the proved correct styles from the acknowledged best makers and offer them at the lowest possible price.

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES

JNO. B. STETSON HATS

MANHATTAN SHIRTS

FLORSHEIM SHOES

BOWER & MUTERSBOUGH

QUALITY

PLUS

New York Shoe Shining Parlor

Shoes Dyed and Shined

"SAVE YOUR SOLES"

Our Object in Business

HATS CLEANED and BLOCKED

QUICK

SERVICE

J. C. Penny Co.

113 North Washington

Opposite Court House

The world's largest chain department store organization, selling Ready-to-Wear, Dry Goods, Shoes, Notions, Clothing and Furnishings.

We handle only quality merchandise always at lower prices—quality considered.

The same low price every day.

J.C. Penny Co.
A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION
INC.
DEPARTMENT STORES

Ward
ICE CREAM CO.

Sold by the more particular dealers

THE WABASH

Coca-Cola Bottling Company

Bottlers of

Coca-Cola

Exclusive Licensees

The W. F. Robb Grocery

PHONE
for FOOD

It's the BETTER WAY

Battle Creek Foods
Chase & Sanborn Coffee
Richelieu Canned Goods

119 SOUTH WASHINGTON
Phones: 20; 21; 22

Galey & Blackford

Cigars & Billiards

113 South Washington St.

Phone 145

Be sure to Try Our TOSTWICHES

J. J. CLEMENTS & CO.

The Coal Men

COAL & COKE

123 West Pike

Phone 348

Where Wabash Meets Off the Campus

Crawford Billiard Hall &

Cigar Stand

BERT STEVENS, Mgr.

New Equipment Throughout

Only Snooker Table in Town

Good Clothes made to your order, moderately priced. If it's new,
we have it.

F. C. MUELLER
Tailor

109-110 N. Green St.

CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.

Capital and Surplus $200,000.00

OFFICERS

W. K. Martin, President
W. W. Washburn, Vice President
L. F. Hornaday, Vice President
V. W. Livengood, Cashier
W. G. McDaniel, Asst. Cashier

SAFETY AND SERVICE

"JAHN & OLLIER AGAIN"

FINE annuals, like brilliant victories, are brought about by the co-ordination of skillful generalship and trained effort. The Jahn & Ollier Engraving Co. is America's foremost school annual designing and engraving specialist, because in its organization are mobilized America's leading creative minds and mechanical craftsmen.

THE JAHN & OLLIER ENGRAVING CO.

Photographers, Artists and Makers of Fine Printing Plates for Black and Colors

817 W. WASHINGTON BLVD., CHICAGO

ALDER'S, Inc.

Ben-Hur Bldg.

Women's Apparel and ~ Accessories ~

Our Service To You

—NEWEST MODES

—MODERATE PRICES

—COURTEOUS ATTENTION

FLOWERS of Quality

Think
of Flowers
Think
of

PETT'S

Corner of Main and Walnut Sts.

Phone 1680

SPRAY & SERVICES

SANITARY MEAT MARKET

All Kinds of Fresh and Smoked

MEATS

Fish and Oysters in Season

80 ——— PHONES ——— 80

ASK FOR

Fosdick's
ICECREAM

ALWAYS GOOD

Crawfordsville's Leading Play Houses

STRAND THEATRE

Vaudeville and
First Run Pictures

---

ARC THEATRE

The Latest in the Cinema

*Refined Entertainment
For All the Family*

Send it to a Master
Cleaner

OUR SPECIAL PROCESS

The Safest Way to Clean
We Clean and Press on Short Notice

S. E. GRIMES

Peerless Cleaner and Dyer

127-129 S. Green St.
Crawfordsville, - - Indiana

150—PHONE—150

Crawfordsville's Home Furnishing Store Complete

The C. C. Crist Co. Store, carrying a complete stock of Home Furnishings, is equipped to supply your every need in

FURNITURE   RUGS   WALL PAPER   DRAPERIES   PAINTS

Old Furniture Accepted as Part Payment on New.

THE C. C. CRIST CO.

AMERICAN LAUNDRY

A Shirt and Collar
Laundry that will please you.

We also specialize in family work.

Tel. 1706      106 E. Market St.

Stephenson & Crane Store

"Taste a Tostwich with the best

Malted Milk

in town"

SCHULTZ & SCHULTZ

STUDENT HEADQUARTERS FOR

New Fiction, Fountain Pens, Stationery, Pennants, Gift Books, Athletic Goods, Kodaks and Gifts

—QUALITY KODAK FINISHING—

THE WABASH
THE HUB
Henry C. Lytton & Sons

State at Jackson—Chicago

THE LYTTON COLLEGE SHOP

The Style Center of Middle West University Men

In this exclusive little shop, its prices made low by the tremendous buying power of the main store, you find the latest in College Styles—and you'll like the way in which the young men here seem to know just what you want.

Visit the College Shop when you are in Chicago!

SHAW'S WEST MAIN MEAT MARKET

Shaw's of Crawfordsville

Quality

Meats

7—Phones—8

The First National Bank

Established 1864

Capital and Surplus $290,000.00

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent

Officers

W. P. Herron .....	President
Sol. Tannenbaum .....	Vice-President
W. A. Collings .....	Cashier
D. A. Groves .....	Asst. Cashier
H. E. Griffith .....	Asst. Cashier

BUTTER-NUT BREAD

A-LOAF BAKING COMPANY

"Good Bread Is Everybody's Business"

CRAWFORDSVILLE, - IND.
805-809 Court St.
Telephone - - - - 1283

RELIABLE—

—in Our Service
—in Our Merchandise

Special attention given to Linens —Bedding—Draperies and Supplies for Fraternities

H. R. Tinsley & Co.

—Dealers in—

GENERAL HARDWARE &
ELECTRIC GOODS

121-123 South Washington Street

"The College Man's Clothiers"

For CLOTHING HATS

and

FURNISHINGS

TRY

ESSEX & SHANKLIN

The Store For Values

107 E. Main St.

LOWELL

WHITTIER

LONGFELLOW

*"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."*

—Longfellow.

It is by the printed message that we are reminded of the lives of the famous authors who have gone before.

By the use of type, paper and ink their works have been made immortal and their memory preserved through the decades of time.

The friendships and pleasures of your school days can be recalled over and over again, and the memories of those days preserved indefinitely in an annual.

To the classes that are to follow, we present this book as evidence of our ability as specialists in preserving the treasured memories of school days in printed form.

The Review Press

Printers
Stationers
Designers

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.

THE END

